Chesterfield Nicki Jacobsmeyer, 2016-12-12 Arriving in 1815 by boat at Howell's Landing off the Missouri River was Chesterfield's founder Col Justus Post Chesterfield Missouri is a distinct city because it did not grow from a single named community like most. It was once six separate towns each with its own post office. The history of these communities and families that lived in them interweave to make a remarkable story that still lives on in the city of Chesterfield. Since the beginning the town has strived to serve its community with exceptional schools, places of worship, public services, and businesses. The railroad, steamboats, and later the airport aided the economy and the city began to thrive. Chesterfield became incorporated in 1988 with the support of many, including the chamber of commerce, businesses, renowned schools, and dedicated citizens. The city continues to grow because of the seeds that were planted over two centuries ago. The rich history is embedded in the people, streets, and buildings that stand today.

Calendars of the United States House of Representatives and History of Legislation United States Congress. House, 2005 National Park Service Robin Nazzaro, 2010-02 The National Park Service (NPS) annually receives hundreds of millions of dollars in donated funds, goods, and services to support its 391 parks and other sites. But concerns have been raised about potential risks such as undue donor influence, new long-term maintenance costs, or commercialization of parks. To address these concerns, the NPS has developed policies for managing donations, but questions remain about the agency's ability to do so effectively. This report examines 1) how donations and related partnerships have supported the NPS, 2) the policies and processes the agency uses to manage donations and how well they are working, and 3) what the agency could do to enhance its management of donations and related partnerships.
