Serving Young Teens and 'Tweens Sheila B. Anderson,2006-11-30 Notable teen experts and stellar practitioners from across the country explain why library service to adolescents in this age range is so important and how you can enhance your collection and services to accommodate and win over this important group Topics range from understanding adolescent informational needs and building and promoting a winning collection to creating programs with tween appeal Contributors include Sheila B Anderson James Rosinia Deb Taylor Robyn Lupa and Kristine Mahood Brimming with valuable insights and fresh ideas as well as nuts and bolts directions this is a must read for all librarians who work with young adolescents If someone is described as a young adult what image comes to mind In fact a young adult can be a twelve year old middle schooler or a high school graduate Libraries have traditionally offered a variety programs and services for YAs and although more emphasis has been given to serving teens in recent years little has been done to distinguish between groups within the category and meet the specific developmental needs of this broad range of library users This collection complements Anderson s previous collection Serving Older Teens by focusing on the needs of tweens and young teens ages 11 14 This is the age range when many young people stop using the library and lose interest in reading Notable teen experts and stellar practitioners from across the country explain why service to adolescents in this age range is so important and how you can enhance your collection and services to accommodate and win over this important group Topics range from understanding adolescent informational needs and building and promoting a winning collection to creating programs with tween appeal Contributors include Sheila Anderson James Rosinia Deb Taylor Robyn Lupa Brenda Hager and Kristine Mahood Brimming with valuable insights and fresh ideas as well as nuts and bolts directions this is a must read for all librarians who work with young adolescents

Country Home ,2006 Clarence H. White and His World Anne McCauley,2017-01-01 Restoring a gifted art photographer to his place in the American canon and in the process reshaping and expanding our understanding of early 20th century American photography Clarence H White 1871 1925 was one of the most influential art photographers and teachers of the early 20th century and a founding member of the Photo Secession This beautiful publication offers a new appraisal of White s contributions including his groundbreaking aesthetic experiments his commitment to the ideals of American socialism and his embrace of the expanding fields of photographic book and fashion illustration celebrity portraiture and advertising Based on extensive archival research the book challenges the idea of an abrupt rupture between prewar soft focus idealizing photography and postwar modernism to paint a more nuanced picture of American culture in the Progressive era Clarence H White and His World begins with the artist s early work in Ohio which shares with the nascent Arts and Crafts movement the advocacy of hand production closeness to nature and the simple life White s involvement with the Photo Secession and his move to New York in 1906 mark a shift in his production as it grew to encompass commercial portraiture and an increasing commitment to teaching which ultimately led him to establish the first institutions in America to combine instruction in both technical and aesthetic aspects of photography The book also incorporates new formal and scientific analysis of White s work and techniques a complete exhibition record and many unpublished illustrations of the moody outdoor scenes and quiet images of domestic life for which he was revered

Life Phases, Mobility and Consumption Helene Brembeck,Niklas Hansson,Jean-Sébastien Vayre,2016-03-09 The very routines of our daily life are to a great extent the expression of our vulnerability and dependence on incredibly wide and complex networks and socio technical systems Following people s routes in the city makes visible the differentially distributed capacities and potentials for mobility In today s consumer society shopping is the kind of mundane and routine mobility that we all engage in Yet having a first child or growing old radically changes people s logistical habits as consumers what the authors of this book call consumer logistics moving from home to the store and back home again with recent purchases Depending on the ages and number of children in the family and the condition of one's body physical health and strength going shopping requires quite different settings and gear Exploring consumer mobility through the lens of life phase and age will deepen the understanding of hitherto under researched aspects of the ageing process and of mobility knowledge that is of vital importance for societies striving for sustainable mobility and sustainable cities Creative Forecasting, 2006 The New Yorker, 2008 A Missouri Railroad Pioneer Joel P. Rhodes, 2017-08-15 Lawyer and journalist entrepreneur and philanthropist Louis Houck is often called the Father of Southeast Missouri because he brought the railroad to the region and opened this backwater area to industrialization and modernization Although Houck's name is little known today outside Missouri Joel Rhodes shows how his story has relevance for both the state and the nation Rhodes presents a more complete picture of Houck than has ever been available reviewing his life from his German immigrant roots considering his career from both social and political perspectives and grounding the story in both state and national history He especially tells how from 1880 to the 1920s this self taught railroader constructed a network of five hundred miles of track through the wilderness of wetlands known as Swampeast Missouri and how these Houck Roads provided a boost for population agriculture lumbering and commerce that transformed Cape Girardeau and the surrounding area Rhodes discusses how Houck fits into the era of economic individualism a time when men with little formal training shaped modern industry and also gives voice to Houck's critics and shows that he was not always an easy man to work with In telling the story of his railroading enterprise Rhodes chronicles Houck's battle with the Jay Gould railroad empire and offers key insight into the development of America's railway system from the cutthroat practices of ruthless entrepreneurs to the often comic ineptness of start up rail lines More than simply a biography of a business entrepreneur the book tells how Houck not only developed the region economically but also followed the lead of Andrew Carnegie by making art culture and formal education available to all social classes Houck also served for thirty six years as president of the Board of Regents of Southeast Missouri State Teacher's College and as a self taught historian he wrote the first comprehensive accounts of Missouri's territorial period A Missouri Railroad Pioneer chronicles a multifaceted career that transformed a region Solidly researched this lively narrative also offers an entertaining read for anyone interested in Missouri history Children's Books in Print, 2007, 2006 Queer Moderns Alice T. Friedman, 2025-05-27 A richly illustrated history of the glittering world of queer artistic life in the 1920s and 30s In Queer Moderns Alice Friedman tells the fascinating story of the queer avant garde of the 1920s and 30s in New York Paris and Venice as seen through the eyes of Max Ewing 1903-1934 a young musician photographer and man about town who although virtually unknown today moved in extraordinary circles In his photographs and letters we meet the rising stars of modern art music dance and literature and enter a world of interracial friendship queer space and experimentation that shone brightly before being swept away by the Depression It is a remarkable story that reveals that the history of modernism is more queer and more Black than previously recognized In the 1920s Ewing became part of an international coterie of artists led by Carl

Van Vechten and Muriel Draper In Europe he was entertained by Gertrude Stein met Stravinsky and took a road trip with Romaine Brooks and Natalie Barney In 1928 in a closet in his apartment Ewing created the Gallery of Extraordinary Portraits an installation of photos of his favorite celebrities Black and white clothed and nude For his Carnival of Venice he took portraits of more than a hundred friends including Paul Robeson Berenice Abbott Isamu Noguchi Agnes de Mille and E E Cummings posed in front of a backdrop of Saint Mark s Square Like a character from a story by F Scott Fitzgerald Ewing joined the party and then died tragically unable to accept the end of his era or the lost dream of a new way of living His story sheds new light on modernism and an artistic milieu that was ahead of its time American Christmas Tree Journal
