From the Author s PREFACE IN so brief a history of so rich a literature the problem is how to get room enough to give not an adequate impression that is impossible but any impression at all of the subject To do this I have crowded out everything but belles lettres Books in philosophy history science etc however important in the history of English thought receive the merest incidental mention or even no mention at all Again I have omitted the literature of the Anglo Saxon period which is written in a language nearly as hard for a modern Englishman to read as German is or Dutch Caedmon and Cynewulf are no more a part of English literature than Vergil and Horace are of Italian I have also left out the vernacular literature of the Scotch before the time of Burns Up to the date of the union Scotland was a separate kingdom and its literature had a development independent of the English though parallel with it In dividing the history into periods I have followed with some modifications the divisions made by Mr Stopford Brooke in his excellent little Primer of English Literature A short reading course is appended to each chapter Lectures on English Literature Henry Reed,1876 Lectures on English Literature from Chaucer to Tennyson Henry Reed,2012-08-01 Unlike some other reproductions of classic texts 1 We have not used OCR Optical Character Recognition as this leads to bad quality books with introduced typos 2 In books where there are images such as portraits maps sketches etc We have endeavoured to keep the quality of these images so they represent accurately the original artefact Although occasionally there may be certain imperfections with these old texts we feel they deserve to be made available for future generations to enjoy
