From Enchantment to Rage Steven Kovács,1980 Dada and Surrealist Film Rudolf E. Kuenzli,1996-07-29 This groundbreaking collection of thirteen original essays analyzes connections between film and two highly influential twentieth century movements Soundtrack Available Pamela Robertson Wojcik,Arthur Knight,2001-12-03 Essays on film soundtracks composed of popular music rather than the composed film score both in relation to the films and circulating separately on record The Filming of Modern Life Malcolm Turvey,2013-09-13 In the 1920s the European avant garde embraced the cinema experimenting with the medium in radical ways Painters including Hans Richter and Fernand Leger as well as filmmakers belonging to such avant garde movements as Dada and surrealism made some of the most enduring and fascinating films in the history of cinema In The Filming of Modern Life Malcolm Turvey examines five films from the avant garde canon and the complex sometimes contradictory attitudes toward modernity they express Rhythm 21 Hans Richter 1921 Ballet mecanique Dudley Murphy and Fernand L ger 1924 Entr acte Francis Picabia and Ren Clair 1924 Un chien Andalou Salvador Dali and Luis Bu uel 1929 and Man with a Movie Camera Dziga Vertov 1929 All exemplify major trends within European avant garde cinema of the time from abstract animation to cinema pur Dada and Beyond, Volume 2 Elza Adamowicz,Eric Robertson,2015-06-24 International iconoclastic inventive born out of the institutionalised madness of the First World War Dada erupted in cities throughout Europe and the USA creating shock waves that offended polite society and destabilised the cultural and political status quo In spite of its sporadic and ephemeral character its rich and diverse legacy is still powerfully felt nearly a century later Following on from Dada and Beyond Volume 1 Dada Discourses the sixteen essays in this collection provide critical examinations of Dada placing particular emphasis on the ongoing impact of its creative output The chapters examine its pivotal figures as well as its more peripheral protagonists their different geographic locations and the extraordinary diversity of their practices that included poetry painting printmaking dance performance theatre textiles readymades photomontage and cinema As the book s authors reveal Dada not only anticipates Surrealism but also foreshadows an extraordinary array of more recent tendencies including action painting conceptual art outsider art performance art environmental and land art In its privileging of chance and automatism its rejection of formal artistic institutions its subversive exploitation of mass media and its constant self reconstitution and self redefinition Dada deserves to be seen as a cultural phenomenon that is still powerfully relevant in the twenty first century Visualizing Theory Lucien Taylor,2014-02-04 Visualizing Theory is a lavishly illustrated collection of provocative essays occasional pieces and dialogues that first appeared in Visual Anthropology Review between 1990 and 1994 It contains contributions from anthropologists from cultural literary and film critics and from image makers themselves Reclaiming visual anthropology as a space for the critical representation of visual culture from the naive realist and exoticist inclinations that have beleaguered practitioners efforts to date Visualizing Theory is a major intervention into this growing field France and the Americas

Found Sculpture and Photography from Surrealism to Contemporary Art Julia Kelly, 2017-07-05 Taking its departure point from the 1933 surrealist photographs of involuntary sculptures by Brassa and Dal Found Sculpture and Photography from Surrealism to Contemporary Art offers fresh perspectives on the sculptural object by relating it to both surrealist concerns with chance and the crucial role of photography in framing the everyday This collection of essays questions the nature of sculptural practice looking to forms of production and reproduction that blur the boundaries between things that are made and things that are found One of the book's central themes is the interplay of presence and absence in sculpture as it is highlighted disrupted or multiplied through photography's indexical nature The essays examine the surrealist three dimensional object its relation to and transformation through photographs as well as the enduring legacies of such concerns for the artwork's materiality and temporality in performance and conceptual practices from the 1960s through the present Found Sculpture and Photography sheds new light on the shifts in status of the art object challenging the specificity of visual practices pursuing a radical interrogation of agency in modern and contemporary practices and exploring the boundaries between art and everyday life

Play Time Malcolm Turvey, 2019-12-03 Jacques Tati is widely regarded as one of the greatest postwar European filmmakers He made innovative and challenging comedies while achieving international box office success and attaining a devoted following In Play Time Malcolm Turvey examines Tati's unique comedic style and evaluates its significance for the history of film and modernism Turvey argues that Tati captured elite and general audiences alike by combining a modernist aesthetic with slapstick routines gag structures and other established traditions of mainstream film comedy Considering films such as Monsieur Hulot's Holiday 1953 Mon Oncle 1958 Play Time 1967 and Trafic 1971 Turvey shows how Tati drew on the rich legacy of comic silent film while modernizing its conventions in order to encourage his viewers to adopt a playful attitude toward the modern world Turvey also analyzes Tati's sardonic view of the bourgeoisie and his complex and multifaceted satire of modern life Tati's singular and enduring achievement Turvey concludes was to translate the democratic ideals of the postwar avant garde into mainstream film comedy crafting a genuinely popular modernism Richly illustrated with images from the director's films Play Time offers an illuminating and original understanding of Tati's work

French Film Theory and Criticism, Volume 2 Richard Abel, 2021-05-11 These two volumes examine a significant but previously neglected moment in French cultural history the emergence of French film theory and criticism before the essays of Andr Bazin Richard Abel has devised an organizational scheme of six nearly symmetrical periods that serve to bite into the discursive flow of early French writing on the cinema Each of the periods is discussed in a separate and extensive historical introduction with convincing explications of the various concepts current at the time In each instance Abel goes on to provide a complementary anthology of selected texts in translation Amounting to a portable archive these anthologies make available a rich selection of nearly one hundred and fifty important texts most of them never before published in English

Downcast Eyes Martin Jay, 1993-10 Long considered the noblest of the senses vision has increasingly come under critical scrutiny by a wide range of thinkers who question its dominance in Western culture These critics of vision especially prominent in twentieth century France have challenged its allegedly superior capacity to provide access to the world They have also criticized its supposed complicity with political and social oppression through the promulgation of spectacle and surveillance Martin Jay turns to this discourse surrounding vision and explores its often contradictory implications in the work of such influential figures as Jean Paul Sartre Maurice Merleau Ponty Michel Foucault Jacques Lacan Louis Althusser Guy Debord Luce Irigaray Emmanuel Levinas and Jacques Derrida Jay begins with a discussion of the theory of vision from Plato to Descartes then considers its role in the French Enlightenment before turning to its status in the culture of modernity From consideration of French Impressionism to analysis of Georges Bataille and the Surrealists Roland Barthes s writings on photography and the film theory of Christian Metz Jay provides lucid and fair minded accounts of thinkers and ideas widely known for their difficulty His book examines the myriad links between the interrogation of vision and the pervasive antihumanist antimodernist and counter enlightenment tenor of much recent French thought Refusing however to defend the dominant visual order he calls instead for a plurality of scopic regimes Certain to generate controversy and discussion throughout the humanities and social sciences Downcast Eyes will consolidate Jay s reputation as one of today s premier cultural and intellectual historians

Film Study Frank Manchel, 1990 The four volumes of Film Study include a fresh approach to each of the basic categories in the original edition Volume one examines the film as film volume two focuses on the thematic approach to film volume three draws on the history of film and volume four contains extensive appendices listing film distributors sources and historical information as well as an index of authors titles and film personalities

Alfred Hitchcock's Vertigo and the Hermeneutic Spiral Robert J. Belton, 2017-07-12 This book offers a new approach to film studies by showing how our brains use our interpretations of various other films in order to understand Alfred Hitchcock s Vertigo Borrowing from behavioral psychology cognitive science and philosophy author Robert J Belton seeks to explain differences of critical opinion as inevitable The book begins by introducing the hermeneutic spiral a cognitive processing model that categorizes responses to Vertigo s meaning ranging from wide consensus to wild speculations of critical outliers Belton then provides an overview of the film arguing that different interpreters literally see and attend to different things The fourth chapter builds on this conclusion arguing that because people see different things one can force the production of new meanings by deliberately drawing attention to unusual comparisons The latter chapters outline a number of such comparisons including avant garde films and the works of Stanley Kubrick and David Lynch to shed new light on the meanings of Vertigo Getting the Picture Margaret Helen Persin,1997 This book takes a probing look at how Spanish poets of the twentieth century read objects of visual art write poems that utilize the discursive strategy known as ekphrasis and how in turn they are read by those texts As a result of their reading practices the artistic works read by the poets are inscribed in the poets own texts and in a variety of ways This analysis sheds light on the poets own distinctive stance toward many primary issues such as textuality representation language power ideology literature and art

Surrealism and Cinema Michael Richardson,2006-03-01 Surrealism has long been recognised as having made a major contribution to film theory and practice and many contemporary film makers acknowledge its influence Most of the critical literature however focuses either on the 1920s or the work of Buuel The aim of this book is to open up a broader picture of surrealism s contribution to the conceptualisation and making of film Tracing the work of Luis Buuel Jacques Prvert Nelly Kaplan Walerian Borowczyk Jan vankmajer Raul Ruiz and Alejandro Jodorowsky Surrealism and Cinema charts the history of surrealist film making in both Europe and Hollywood from the 1920s to the present day At once a critical introduction and a provocative re evaluation Surrealism and Cinema is essential reading for anyone interested in surrealist ideas and art and the history of film A Cinematic Artist Kim Knowles,2009 The American artist Man Ray was one of the most influential figures of the historical avant garde contributing significantly to the development of both Dadaism and Surrealism Whilst his pioneering work in photography assured him international acclaim his activity in other areas notably film is to this day both unknown and undervalued During the 1920s Man Ray made four short experimental films and collaborated on a host of other projects with people such as Marcel Duchamp Fernand L ger Ren Clair and Hans Richter These works along with a series of cinematic essays and home movies made during the 1920s and 1930s represent the most important contribution to the development of an alternative mode of filmmaking in the early twentieth century This book explores Man Ray s cinematic interactions from the perspective of his interdisciplinary artistic sensibility creating links between film photography painting poetry music architecture dance and sculpture By exposing his preoccupation with form and his ambiguous relationship with the politics and aesthetics of the Dada and Surrealist movements the author paints an intimate and complex portrait of Man Ray the filmmaker French Film Theory and Criticism Richard Abel,1993-09-12 These two volumes examine a significant but previously neglected moment in French cultural history the emergence of French film theory and criticism before the essays of Andr Bazin Richard Abel has devised an organizational scheme of six nearly symmetrical periods that serve to bite into the discursive flow of early French writing on the cinema Each of the periods is discussed in a separate and extensive historical introduction with convincing explications of the various concepts current at the time In each instance Abel goes on to provide a complementary anthology of selected texts in translation Amounting to a portable archive these anthologies make available a rich selection of nearly one hundred and fifty important texts most of them never before published in English

The Cinematic Novel and Postmodern Pop Fiction Décio Torres Cruz, 2019-12-05 D cio Torres Cruz approaches connections between literature and cinema partly through issues of gender and identity and partly through issues of reality and representation In doing so he looks at the various ways in which people have thought of the so called cinematic novel tracing the development of that genre concept not only in the French cin roman and film scenarios but also in novels from the United States England France and Latin America The main tendency he identifies is the blending of the cinematic novel with pop literature through allusions to Pop Art and other postmodern cultural trends His prime exhibits are a number of novels by the Argentinian writer Manuel Puig Betrayed by Rita Hayworth Heartbreak Tango The Buenos Aires Affair Kiss of the Spider Woman and Pubis angelical Bringing in suggestive sociocultural and psychoanalytical considerations Cruz shows how in Puig s hands the cinematic novel resulted in a pop collage of different texts films discourses and narrative devices which fused reality and imagination into dream and desire
