From Honey To Ashes:

From Honey to Ashes Claude Lévi-Strauss, 1973 The entire book is a study of a myth system based on one fundamental opposition and found among the myths of South American Indians In The Raw and the Cooked the first volume of the series Lévi Strauss finds a complex system associated with uncooked as against cooked items The qualities of being raw and cooked correspond to abstract ideas of nature and culture since only the man with the technology and social standards of culture will cook In From Honey to Ashes Lévi Strauss spreads beyond the raw cooked opposition into a related though broader opposition This is the opposition between honey and tobacco two substances of great significance in the lives of the Indians as well as in their myths Although this volume is part 2 of the entire book is so designed that it may be approached without reference to the previous book Amazon From Honey to Ashes Claude Lévi-Strauss, 1973 From Honey to Ashes V02

Signs, Solidarities, and Sociology Blasco José Sobrinho, 2001 Signs Solidarities Sociology addresses the formation and fragmentation of identity in today's postmodern world Informed by the conceptual convergence in the theories of Durkheim Peirce Mead and Lacan this book surveys the range of twentieth century sociology to deconstruct those favored nostrums of subjective meaning personal power and autonomous selfhood that comprise its semantics of agency Revealed beneath this semantic screen is the triad of pragmatic codes premodern affiliation modern calibration and postmodern globalization that govern the social construction of the self While the ill comprehended confluence of these three signification codes in the present world situation can indeed fragment personal identity their formal structural linkages as shown in this book may inform a truly postmodern globally applicable science of culture

The Raw and the Cooked Claude Lévi-Strauss, 1983-03-15 In anthropological terms the concept of the raw verses the cooked has long been associated with the dichotomy between the natural world and the world of human culture In a broad based empirical study of native mythologies Claude Lévi-Strauss proposes a structural and thematic link between the opposition of the raw and the cooked in mythological thought and man's attempt to establish a balanced relationship between natural and cultural forces Lévi-Strauss postulates that the raw-cooked axis is characteristic of all human culture with elements falling along the raw side of the axis being those of natural origin and those on the cooked side being of cultural origin i.e. products of human creation Symbolically cooking marks the transition from nature to culture by means of which the human state can be defined in accordance with all its attributes In mythological thought the cooking of food is in effect a form of mediation between nature and society between life and death and between heaven and earth The cook in turn can be viewed as a cultural agent whose function is to mediate the conjunction of the raw product and the human consumer the operation of which has the effect of making sure the natural is at once cooked and socialized

Drugs, Addiction And

Initiation - The Modern Search for Ritual Luigi Zoja, Luigi Zoja argues that the pervasive abuse of drugs in our society can in large part be ascribed to a resurgence of the collective need for initiation and initiatory structures a longing for something sacred underlies our culture s manic drive toward excessive consumption In a society without ritual the drug addict seeks not so much the thrill of a high as the satisfaction of an inner need for a participation mystique in the dominant religion of our times consumerism A far reaching yet incisive cultural analysis The Modern Search for Ritual is a vigorous expos drawing its methodology from history literature and anthropology as well as Analytical Psychology From its critique of drug cures based on detoxification to its discussion of the esoteric terrorist cult of the Assassins Zoja s work is a classic in the field of psycho anthropology
