Department of Public Instruction, 1934 Integrating Children's Literature through the Common Core State Standards Rachel L. Wadham, Terrell A. Young, 2015-07-28 Implementation of the Common Core State Standards with the integration of children's literature can transform teaching and learning into a holistic and engaging experience Tackling nearly every aspect of the English Language Arts Standards and the measures they employ it offers a thorough plan for engaging elementary school students with literature It explores the benefits and teaching principles behind CCSS and explains how to apply them to literature Along with the strengths it has in connection to CCSS you will learn about the history of children's literature and what both fiction and nonfiction bring to the classroom. You will find plenty of practical applications of the CCSS including book lists and lesson ideas along with thorough examples. There is also a wealth of information on the kinds of readers you will encounter and explanations of how to meet their needs. A final section focuses on creating a curriculum connecting the theory throughout the book with concrete lessons, plans, and units that cover the main CCSS skill sets. High Points in the Work of the High Schools of New York City New York (N.Y.). Building the Knowledge Society on the Internet: Sharing and Exchanging Knowledge in Networked Environments Bolisani, Ettore, 2008-06-30 In today's networked societies a key factor of the social and economic success is the capability to exchange, transfer, and share knowledge. This book provides research on the topic, providing a foundation of an emerging and multidisciplinary field. Provided by publisher. Sisters of the Jungle Keriann McGoogan, 2025-09-16 A scientist's memoir that delves into the history of primate field studies and the women who shaped the discipline of primatology, including Jane Goodall, Dian Fossey, Birut Galdikas, and Alison Jolly. Since the 1970s, the science of primatology has been dominated by women, a unique reversal with men usually outnumbering women in other science, technology, engineering, and math fields. Sisters of the Jungle shines a light on a scientific discipline in which women take the lead while transporting readers to the far corners of the earth to understand our closest living relatives. Keriann McGoogan's journey as a primatologist has taken her to Belize and Madagascar, studying wild primates, including howler monkeys, the loudest living primate, and lemurs, the most endangered group of animals on the planet. Against this backdrop, she explores the stories of the many women who came before her. Intrepid scientists like Jane Goodall, Dian Fossey, Birut Galdikas, and Alison Jolly broke boundaries, made astonishing discoveries, and ultimately shaped the trajectory of an entire branch of science. Grade Teacher, 1971 Learning Activities for Reading Selma E. Herr, 1970 Suggested Books for Indian Schools; an Annotated List Which Includes Library Books, Recommended Textbooks, Reference Material, and Maps, Selected with Special Reference to the Interests and Activities of Rural Communities United States. Bureau of Indian Affairs, 1965 Suggested Books for Indian Schools United States. Bureau of Indian Affairs, 1965 Managing Nongovernmental Organizations Frederik Claeyé, 2014-03-26 The idea that international development aid needs to be better managed and coordinated gained currency in the early 1990s. The increasing emphasis on management has resulted in the present vogue of managing for development, results as one of the central tenets in the discourse on international aid. But how appropriate are these ideas, tools, and techniques for non-governmental development organizations (NGOs) and how much does geographic context matter? Examining the current debate on aid effectiveness and the role of NGOs in contributing to it, this book highlights the critical importance of understanding how the global and the local interact to increase aid efficacy and develop more culturally astute ways of managing NGOs. With a focus on NGOs active in sub-Saharan Africa as case studies, author Frederik Claeyé demonstrates that NGOs are not mere passive recipients of management knowledge and practices emanating from the global governance structure of international aid but actively engage with these ideas and practices to translate and rework them through a local cultural lens This process results in the emergence of unique hybrid management systems that combine the pressure to become more business like with the mission to satisfy the demands of the communities they serve Catalog of Copyright Entries, Third Series ,1961 The record of each copyright registration listed in the Catalog includes a description of the work copyrighted and data relating to the copyright claim the name of the copyright claimant as given in the application for registration the copyright date the copyright registration number etc
