Mattingly, 2017-11-23 At a time when American higher education seems ever more to be reflecting on its purpose and potential we are more inclined than ever to look to its history for context and inspiration But that history only helps Paul H Mattingly argues if it is seen as something more than a linear progress through time With American Academic Cultures he offers a different type of history of American higher learning showing how its current state is the product of different varied generational cultures each grounded in its own moment in time and driven by historically distinct values that generated specific problems and responses Mattingly sketches out seven broad generational cultures evangelical Jeffersonian republican nondenominational industrially driven progressively pragmatic internationally minded and the current corporate model What we see through his close analysis of each of these cultures in their historical moments is that the politics of higher education both inside and outside institutions are ultimately driven by the dominant culture of the time By looking at the history of higher education in this new way Mattingly opens our eyes to our own moment and the part its culture plays in generating its politics and promise Master Builders National Trust for Historic Preservation, 1985-10-01 The Architect Builds Visible History Vincent Scully Which architect designed the pedestal for the Statue of Liberty Who put a Chippendale pediment atop a skyscraper and quickly created a landmark of contemporary architecture Who was the only American architect to receive the Congressional Medal of Honor for bravery during the Civil War Which architect designed a castle in California for William Randolph Hearst Master Builders answers these and scores of other questions about more than 100 architects and builders who have left indelible marks on American architecture This unique guide puts faces with America s most well known and loved buildings from the U S Capitol and Washington Monument through the first skyscrapers and landmarks of the Post Modern movement Why should you want to know more about these architects asks Roger K Lewis in his introduction The reason is simple You are undeniably connected to the built environment that you inhabit use see and respond to You affect building design and building design affects you Can you pair these master builders with their works Frank Lloyd Wright U S Capitol Skidmore Owings and Merrill Central Park Adler and Sullivan University of Virginia Ludwig Mies van der Rohe Glass House William Thornton Home Insurance Building Orson Squire Fowler Fallingwater H H Richardson CBS Building Frederick Law Olmsted San Simeon James Renwick Seagram Building Robert Mills Trinity Church Boston I M Pei Salk Institute Julia Morgan Sears Tower Eero Saarinen Smithsonian Castle Cass Gilbert John E Kennedy Library McKim Mead and White U S Supreme Court Louis I Kahn Chicago Stock Exchange Thomas Jefferson Octagonal Houses Philip Johnson Pennsylvania Station William Le Baron Jenney Washington Monument

Appalachians and Race John C. Inscoe, 2001-12-01 African Americans have had a profound impact on the economy culture and social landscape of southern Appalachia but only after a surge of study in the last two decades have their contributions been recognized by white culture Appalachians and Race brings together 18 essays on the black experience in the mountain South in the nineteenth century These essays provide a broad and diverse sampling of the best work on race relations in this region The contributors consider a variety of topics black migration into and out of the region educational and religious missions directed at African Americans the musical influences of interracial contacts the political activism of blacks during reconstruction and beyond the racial attitudes of white highlanders and much more Drawing from the particulars of southern mountain experiences this collection brings together important studies of the dynamics of race not only within the region but throughout the South and the nation over the course of the turbulent nineteenth century

Material Culture Kenneth L. Ames, 1985 American Green Stephen A. Germic, 2001-05-25 In this work of interdisciplinary scholarship Stephen A Germic reveals how America s first parks both urban and wilderness were created and organized to mitigate the most threatening social and economic crises in the nineteenth century outside of the Civil War Germic analyzes the intentionally disguised relationship between the constructed nature of Central Park Yosemite and Yellowstone and the expanding but crisis prone capitalist state American Green demonstrates how the fundamental function of these parks was economic and political in the service of maintaining a consensus regarding national identity The organization and control of natural space Germic argues is inseparable from its function as a capitalist instrument This instrumentalism served not only to define constitute and segregate social groups but also to promote racial and ethnic identifications above those based on class interest Providing a fresh insight into United States labor cultural and environmental history this book is an important contribution to our understanding of American parks and the complex meaning of American public space     The Making of Urban America Raymond A. Mohl, Roger Biles, 2023-10-03 The revised and updated third edition of The Making of Urban America includes seven new articles and a richly detailed historiographical essay that discusses the vast urban history literature added to the canon since the publication of the second edition The authors extensively revised introductions and the fifteen reprinted articles trace urban development from the preindustrial city to the twentieth century city With emphasis on the social economic political commercial and cultural aspects of urban history these essays illustrate the growth and change that created modern day urban life Dynamic topics such as technology immigration and ethnicity suburbanization sunbelt cities urban political history and planning and housing are examined The Making of Urban America is the only reader available that covers all of U S urban history and that also includes the most recent interpretive scholarship on the subject     Journal of the New England Garden History Society ,2000     The New Metropolis Edward K. Spann, 1981 Few aspects of American military history have been as vigorously debated as Harry Truman's decision to use atomic bombs against Japan In this carefully crafted volume Michael Kort describes the wartime circumstances and thinking that form the context for the decision to use these weapons surveys the major debates related to that decision and provides a comprehensive collection of key primary source documents that illuminate the behavior of the United States and Japan during the closing days of World War II Kort opens with a summary of the debate over Hiroshima as it has evolved since 1945 He then provides a historical overview of the events in question beginning with the decision and program to build the atomic bomb Detailing the sequence of events leading to Japan's surrender he revisits the decisive battles of the Pacific War and the motivations of American and Japanese leaders Finally Kort examines ten key issues in the discussion of Hiroshima and guides readers to relevant primary source documents scholarly books and articles     Inventing Stanley Park Sean Kheraj, 2013-05-15 In early December 2006 a powerful windstorm ripped through Vancouver's Stanley Park The storm transformed the city's most treasured landmark into a tangle of splintered trees and shattered a decades old vision of the park as timeless virgin wilderness In Inventing Stanley Park Sean Kheraj traces how the tension between popular expectations of idealized nature and the volatility of complex ecosystems helped transform the landscape of one of the world's most famous urban parks This beautifully illustrated book not only depicts the natural and cultural forces that shaped the park's landscape it also examines the roots of our complex relationship with nature
