Flight From The Devil Six Slave Narratives:

Flight from the Devil William Loren Katz, 1996 During the early 19th century some African American men and women who broke their chains also gave the abolitionist movement its strongest verbal weapons in the form of detailed autobiographies that exposed the slave system Perceptive dramatic and often starkly horrifying these narratives dared to challenge their author s former owners who sang the praises of human bondage Having examined the slave narratives recent scholars have judged them historically accurate and reliable and the most significant form of early African American literature The six narratives in this volume are Linda Brent who was held in sexual bondage until she fled to freedom and wrote her story William Wells Brown a runaway who became the first African American novelist and playwright James Pennington who escaped to become a minister and civil rights activist in Brooklyn Lunsford Lane an inventor entrepreneur who purchased his family s freedom Jacob Stroyer who was liberated during the war and became a minister in Salem Massachusetts and Moses Grandy who escaped to England and wrote his book I Was Born a Slave Yuval Taylor, 1999-03-01 Between 1760 and 1902 more than 200 book length autobiographies of ex slaves were published together they form the basis for all subsequent African American literature I Was Born a Slave collects the 20 most significant slave auctions kidnappings and murders sexual abuse religious confusion the struggle of learning to read and write and the triumphs and difficulties of life as free men and women Many of the narratives such as those of Frederick Douglass and Harriet Jacobs have achieved reputations as masterpieces but some of the lesser known narratives are equally brilliant This unprecedented anthology presents them unabridged providing each one with helpful introductions and annotations to form the most comprehensive volume ever assembled on the lives and writings of the slaves Volume Two 1849 1866 includes the narratives of Henry Bibb James W C Pennington Solomon Northup John Brown John Thompson William and Ellen Craft Harriet Jacobs Linda Brent Jacob D Green James Mars and William Parker

The Origins of African American Literature, 1680-1865 Dickson D. Bruce, 2001-11-29 From the earliest texts of the colonial period to works contemporary with Emancipation African American literature has been a dialogue across color lines and a medium through which black writers have been able to exert considerable authority on both sides of that racial demarcation Dickson D Bruce argues that contrary to prevailing perceptions of African American voices as silenced and excluded from American history those voices were loud and clear Within the context of the wider culture these writers offered powerful widely read and widely appreciated commentaries on American ideals and ambitions The Origins of African American Literature provides strong evidence to demonstrate just how much writers engaged in a surprising number of dialogues with society as a whole Along with an extensive discussion of major authors and texts including Phillis Wheatley s poetry Frederick Douglass s Narrative Harriet Jacobs Incidents in the Life of a Slave Girl and Martin Delany s Blake Bruce explores less prominent works and writers as well thereby grounding African American writing in its changing historical settings The Origins of African American Literature is an invaluable revelation of the emergence and sources of the specifically African American literary tradition and the forces that helped shape it Black Identity and Black Protest in the Antebellum North Patrick Rael, 2003-01-14 Frederick Douglass Sojourner Truth Martin Delany these figures stand out in the annals of black protest for their vital antislavery efforts But what of the rest of their generation the thousands of other free blacks in the North Patrick Rael explores the tradition of protest and sense of racial identity forged by both famous and lesser known black leaders in antebellum America and illuminates the ideas that united these activists across a wide array of divisions In so doing he reveals the roots of the arguments that still resound in the struggle for justice today Mining sources that include newspapers and pamphlets of the black national press speeches and sermons slave narratives and personal memoirs Rael recovers the voices of an extraordinary range of black leaders in the first half of the nineteenth century He traces how these activists constructed a black American identity through their participation in the discourse of the public sphere and how this identity in turn informed their critiques of a nation predicated on freedom but devoted to white supremacy His analysis explains how their place in the industrializing urbanizing antebellum North offered black leaders a unique opportunity to smooth over class and other tensions among themselves and successfully galvanize the race against slavery I was Born a Slave: 1849-1866 Yuval Taylor, 1999 Between 1760 and 1902 more than 200 book length autobiographies of ex slaves were published together they form the basis for all subsequent African American literature I Was Born a Slave collects the 20 most significant slave narratives They describe whippings torture starvation resistance and hairbreadth escapes slave auctions kidnappings and murders sexual abuse religious confusion the struggle of learning to read and write and the triumphs and difficulties of life as free men and women Many of the narratives such as those of Frederick Douglass and Harriet Jacobs have achieved reputations as masterpieces but some of the lesser known narratives are equally brilliant This unprecedented anthology presents them unabridged providing each one with helpful introductions and annotations to form the most comprehensive volume ever assembled on the lives and writings of the slaves Volume one 1770-1849 includes the narratives of James Albert Ukawsaw Gronniosaw Olaudah Equiano Gustavus Vassa William Grimes Nat Turner Charles Ball Moses Roper Frederick Douglass Lewis and Milton Clarke William Wells Brown and Josiah Henson Neither Fugitive Nor Free Edlie L. Women in Chains Venetria K. Patton, 2012-02-01 2000CHOICE Outstanding Academic Title Using writers such as Harriet Wilson Frances E W Harper Pauline Hopkins Toni Morrison Sherley Anne Williams and Gayl Jones the author highlights recurring themes and the various responses of black women writers to the issues of race and gender Time and again these writers link slavery with motherhood their depictions of black womanhood are tied to the effects of slavery and represented through the black mother Patton shows that both the image others have of black women as well as black women s own self image is framed and influenced by the history of slavery This history would have us believe that female slaves were mere breeders and not mothers However Patton uses the mother figure as a tool to create an intriguing interdisciplinary literary analysis

Race Relations at the Margins Jeff Forret, 2006-07-01 Covering a broad geographic scope from Virginia to South Carolina between 1820 and 1860 Jeff Forret scrutinizes relations among rural poor whites and slaves a subject previously unexplored and certainly under reported Forret s findings challenge historians long held assumption that mutual violence and animosity characterized the two groups interactions he reveals that while poor whites and slaves sometimes experienced bouts of hostility often they worked or played in harmony and camaraderie Race Relations at the Margins is remarkable for its focus on lower class whites and their dealings with slaves outside the purview of the master Race and class Forret demonstrates intersected in unique ways for those at the margins of southern society challenging the belief that race created a social cohesion among whites regardless of economic status As Forret makes apparent colonial era flexibility in race relations never entirely disappeared despite the institutionalization of slavery and the growing rigidity of color lines His book offers a complex and nuanced picture of the shadowy world of slave poor white interactions demanding a refined understanding and new appreciation of the range of interracial associations in the Old South
