Florida Thoroughbred:

Central Florida Thoroughbreds Charlene R. Johnson, 2014-03-04 Back in the 1940s when Florida was the Wild West of the East a few hearty souls dared to think they might compete with the finest blue blooded racehorses and their breeders with their own stock raised among palm trees sand and alligators Florida was the cracker cowboy state and cowponies were expected But the scoffers failed to realize what the wealth of limestone the power of warm sunshine year round and the cold crystalline freshwater springs that are the gems of central Florida would mean to the raising of healthy competitive animals When the first Thoroughbreds produced in Florida admittedly small and scrappy began to outrun their pedigrees the nation of Thoroughbred breeders had to take notice Join author Charlene R Johnson as she details the fascinating equine history of central Florida

Florida Thoroughbred Charlene R. Johnson, 1993 From the preface In 1774 naturalist William Bartram described the area just north of Ocala as covered with squadrons of beautiful fleet Seminole horses on the great Alachua Savannah But over a hundred years later early Florida breeders would be scoffed at for their attempts to raise horses in Florida Early thoroughbred breeders mainly the bluegrass hardboots of Kentucky warned that thoroughbred horses couldn't survive the Florida heat and swampland Stick to raising alligators they mocked Today the thoroughbred industry is a major business in the state ranking third in terms of revenue and racehorses that are born raised and trained in Florida gallop to worldwide acclaim Long awaited by people in the industry this book by award winning turf writer Charlene R Johnson is the only complete history of racing and breeding in the state Long known as a winter racing mecca the Hialeah Race Track opened the palm tree circuit in 1925 with a dusty track an infield of burned weeds and no unloading facilities for the tired horses who arrived by train from New York The first string to race at Hialeah unloaded in downtown Miami and walked ten miles to the track while grooms wielded baseball bats to protect the horses from snakes The success and quirky personality of Needles the first Florida thoroughbred to win the Kentucky Derby in 1956 coming from second to last position on the backstretch accelerated the state's breeding program Johnson documents the business from the early era in Tallahassee in the 1800s to its unprecedented growth in Marion County where limestone deposits in the rolling green countryside provide the perfect nutrients for healthy bones and cartilage in livestock Interviews with first and second generation horse people contribute to this record including Fred Hooper winner of more breeder's awards and racing honors than anyone in the United States and Frank David Buddy Yates Needles gallop boy in the fifties and the son of Needles trainer Roy Yates Among more than a hundred photographs in the book are shots of the famous captive flamingoes at Hialeah Rough n Tumble's swimming pool at Ocala Stud Needles exhibiting his characteristic displeasure during morning exercise Carryback the second Florida thoroughbred to win the Kentucky Derby and Affirmed the first to win the Triple Crown Appendixes provide information on tracks earnings winners breeder awards and more Charlene R Johnson is a freelance turf writer and has been involved in all facets of the thoroughbred industry for the past twenty years from breeding to racing galloping on the track to walking hots She belongs to the Florida and National Turf Writers Associations and has published articles in The Thoroughbred Times The Blood Horse Spur Magazine and Chronicle of the Horse winning three national awards for her writing She served as editor of The Florida Horse and as staff writer for the The Horsemen s Journal wrote a weekly column for the Daily Racing Form and was the main correspondent for the Florida Thoroughbred Times She currently is working on a historical novel based in Florida
