Cinemachismo Sergio de la Mora,2009-01-27 After the modern Mexican state came into being following the Revolution of 1910 hyper masculine machismo came to be a defining characteristic of mexicanidad or Mexican national identity Virile men pelados and charros virtuous prostitutes as mother figures and minstrel like gay men were held out as desired and or abject models not only in governmental rhetoric and propaganda but also in literature and popular culture particularly in the cinema Indeed cinema provided an especially effective staging ground for the construction of a gendered and sexualized national identity In this book Sergio de la Mora offers the first extended analysis of how Mexican cinema has represented masculinities and sexualities and their relationship to national identity from 1950 to 2004 He focuses on three traditional genres the revolutionary melodrama the cabaretera dancehall prostitution melodrama and the musical comedy buddy movie and one subgenre the fichera brothel cabaret comedy of classic and contemporary cinema By concentrating on the changing conventions of these genres de la Mora reveals how Mexican films have both supported and subverted traditional heterosexual norms of Mexican national identity In particular his analyses of Mexican cinematic icons Pedro Infante and Gael

García Bernal and of Arturo Ripstein's cult film El lugar sin límites illuminate cinema's role in fostering distinct figurations of masculinity queer spectatorship and gay male representations. De la Mora completes this exciting interdisciplinary study with an in-depth look at how the Mexican state brought about structural changes in the film industry between 1989 and 1994 through the work of the Mexican Film Institute IMCINE paving the way for a renaissance in the national cinema. La proyección del neoliberalismo Ignacio M. Sánchez Prado, 2019-12-15 Cavernosa usualmente fría siempre oscura con un ligero olor a palomitas de maíz en el aire la experiencia de ir al cine es universal. No es menos intensa en México los recientes éxitos como Y tu mamá también y El Mariachi. Amores perros y las obras de los paradigmáticos Guillermo del Toro y Salma Hayek reflejan mucho más un renovado interés por el cine en México. En La proyección del neoliberalismo Ignacio Sánchez Prado explora precisamente los eventos que tuvieron lugar en la industria del cine mexicano durante las últimas décadas. Lejos de ser una simple historia del periodo, La proyección del neoliberalismo examina cuatro aspectos esenciales de las transformaciones ocurridas en la industria del cine mexicano: la caída del nacionalismo, un nuevo enfoque en audiencias de clase media, la redefinición del concepto de cine político y el impacto de la globalización. Este análisis incluye a directores y productoras que han alcanzado notoriedad internacional o relevancia en la construcción de un mercado nacional. La proyección del neoliberalismo expone las consecuencias de una industria del cine forzada a encontrar nuevas audiencias entre la clase media mexicana para poder alcanzar el ansiado éxito económico y la aprobación cultural. Tendencias 07 - Medios de Comunicación Fundación Telefónica, 2007-11-01 En este informe se presenta una visión de conjunto de los medios de comunicación en Latinoamérica que aparece como la suma de circunstancias nacionales complejas y diversas muchas veces trazadas por desigualdades en las que cohabitan la riqueza y la pobreza, la inclusión y la exclusión mediática visible y lo invisible.

Mexican National Cinema Andrea Noble, 2005 Mexican National Cinema provides a thorough and detailed account of the vital and complex relationship between cinema and national identity in Mexico. From Amores Perros and Y Tu Mamá También, this book delves into the development of Mexican cinema from the intense cultural nationalism of the Mexican Revolution through the Golden Age of the 1930s and 1940s and the nuevo cine of the 1960s to the renaissance in Mexican cinema in the 1990s. Individual chapters discuss the relationship with Hollywood cinema, the stars of the Golden Age, the role of foreign authors in the founding of Mexican cinema, tensions in the industry in the 1960s, national and international reception of contemporary film and film makers. Examining the portrayal of Mexican nationhood through critical analysis of film genres including revolutionary films, machismo and mexicanidad, the prostitute and the work of female authors. Mexican National Cinema is an excellent addition to all media, film and cultural studies students. New Transnationalisms in Contemporary Latin American Cinemas Dolores Tierney, 2018-01-23 In the late 1990s and early 2000s Latin American films like Amores perros, Y tu mama también and Cidade de Deus enjoyed an unprecedented level of critical and commercial success in the world market. Benefiting from external financial and/or creative input, these films were considered examples of transnational cinema Through a textual analysis of six filmmakers Alejandro Gonzalez Inarritu Alfonso Cuaron Guillermo del Toro Fernando Meirelles Walter Salles and Juan Jose Campanella this book examines these transnational films and the subsequent wave of commercially successful deterritorialised films by the same directors It argues that although films produced within the structures of the United States film industry may have been commercially successful they are not necessarily apolitical or totally divorced from key notions of national or continental identity Bringing a new perspective to the films of Latin America s transnational auteurs this is a major contribution towards understanding how different genres function across different cultures     Latin American Film Industries Tamara L. Falicov,2019-06-27 Film production in Latin America is as old as cinema itself but local film industries have always been in a triangulated relationship with Hollywood and European cinema This book situates Latin American film industries within the global circulation of film production exhibition and distribution charting the changes that the industries have undergone from the sound era to the present day Focusing in particular on Argentina Brazil and Mexico Tamara Falicov examines commonalities among Latin American film industries such as the challenges of procuring funding competition from Hollywood state funding battles and the fickle nature of audiences as well as censorship issues competition from television and the transnational nature of Latin American film She addresses production exhibition and distribution contexts and financing and co production with Europe and the United States as well as the role of film festivals in funding and circulating films both within and outside of Latin America Newer trends such as the revival of protectionist measures like the screen quota are framed in contrast to the U S s push for trade policy liberalization and issues of universal concern such as film piracy and new technologies and the role of television in helping and hindering Latin American cinema
