Fantasia An Algerian Cavalcade:

Fantasia Assia Djebar, 1985 The Voices of Silence Linn M. Johnson, 2000 Fantasia Assia Djebar, 1993 In this stunning novel Assia Djebar intertwines the history of her native Algeria with episodes from the life of a young girl in a story stretching from the French conquest in 1830 to the War of Liberation of the 1950s The girl growing up in the old Roman coastal town of Cherchel sees her life in contrast to that of a neighboring French family and yearns for more than law and tradition allow her to experience Headstrong and passionate she escapes from the cloistered life of her family to join her brother in the maquis fight against French domination Djebar's exceptional descriptive powers bring to life the experiences of girls and women caught up in the dual struggle for independence both their own and Algeria's Fantasia Assia Djebar, 1985 Postcolonial Literatures in Context Julie Mullaney, 2010-04-15 This book presents an introduction to key issues involved in the study of postcolonial literature including diasporas postcolonial nationalisms indigenous identities and politics and globalization This book also contains a chapter on afterlives and adaptations that explores a range of wider cultural texts including film non fiction and art Dangerous Liaisons Anne McClintock, Aamir Mufti, Ella Shohat, 1997 The first collection to emphasize the complex interaction between gender and postcoloniality Most people in the world from Africa to Asia and beyond live in the aftermath of colonialism Their day to day lives are defined by their past history as colonized peoples often in ways that are subtle or hard to define In Dangerous Liaisons eminent contributors address the issues raised by the postcolonial condition considering nationhood history gender and identity from an inter disciplinary perspective Among the questions they address are What are the boundaries of race and ethnicity in a diasporic world How have women been so effectively excluded from national power What have been the historical aftermaths of different forms of colonialism What are the cultural and political consequences of colonial partitions of the nation state Representing an essential intervention Dangerous Liaisons is a crucial guidebook for those concerned with understanding postcoloniality at the moment when it is becoming more and more widely discussed Transfigurations of the Maghreb Winifred Woodhull, 1993 Recent years have seen growing interest in the politics history and literature of the postcolonial world In the case of the Maghreb scholars have examined the consequences of decolonization for both North Africans and Maghrebian immigrant communities now living in France and international attention is currently focused on the rise of fundamentalism in Algeria and the implications of this for France and Algeria's domestic and foreign policies Transfigurations of the Maghreb which emphasizes the intersections of literature and politics the local and the global is at once a timely addition to contemporary debates about the Maghreb and a valuable contribution to the field of postcolonial studies in general Transfigurations of the Maghreb addresses the question of gender in the context of postcolonial studies by examining the ways in which gender is inscribed in texts written about the Maghreb since the 1950s by both French and Maghrebian authors from <http://www.jstor.org> June 23 2014 Trances, Dances and Vociferations Nada Elia, 2002-09-11 Trances

Dances and Vociferations provides a compelling feminist analysis of gender politics in the works of four major African women writers Toni Morrison Michelle Cliff Assia Djebar and Paule Marshall Nada Elia explores the way in which black women characters use conjuring double entendre and song to empower liberate and determine their own female insurgency She also explains how African and Afrodiasporic women have been forced to rewrite history and substitute a communal and individual wholeness for alienation and separation in many different settings from Algeria to Oklahoma Ranging over works including Marshall s Praisesong for the Widow Djebar s A Sister to Scheherazade Cliff s No Telephone to Heaven and Morrison s Jazz and Beloved Elia offers essential and provocative insights into the works of some of our most influential African women authors today

Women Fight, Women Write Mildred Mortimer, 2018-11-29 Today the fight to write the struggle to become the legitimate chronicler of one s own story is being waged and won by women across mediums and borders But such battles of authorship extend well beyond a single cultural moment In her gripping study of unsung female narratives of the Algerian War Mildred Mortimer excavates and explores the role of women s individual and collective memory in recording events of the violent anticolonial conflict Presenting close readings of published works spanning five decades from Assia Djebar s 1962 Children of the New World to Zohra Drif s 2014 Inside the Battle of Algiers Memoir of a Woman Freedom Fighter Women Fight Women Write traces stylistic and material transformations in Algerian women s writings as it reveals evolving attitudes toward memory trauma historical objectivity and women s political empowerment Refuting the stale binary of men in battle women at home these testimonial texts let women lay claim to the Algerian War story as participants and also as chroniclers through fiction historical studies and memoir Algeria s patriarchal norms long kept women from speaking publicly about private matters silencing their experiences of the war Still the conflict has ceaselessly sparked creative work The country s dark decade of violent struggle between the Algerian army and Islamist fundamentalists in the 1990s brought the liberation struggle back into focus inspiring and emboldening many more women to defiantly write Women Fight Women Write advances the broken silence illuminating its vital historical revisions and literary innovations

Deleuzian Fabulation and the Scars of History Ronald Bogue, 2010-07-05 The concept of fabulation makes a late appearance in Deleuze s career and in only limited detail but by tracing its connections to other concepts and situating them within Deleuze s general aesthetics Ronald Bogue develops a theory of fabulation which he proposes as the guiding principle of a Deleuzian approach to literary narrative Fabulation he argues entails becoming other experimenting on the real legending and inventing a people to come as well as an understanding of time informed by Deleuze s Chronos Aion distinction and his theory of the three passive syntheses of time In close readings of contemporary novels by Zakes Mda Arundhati Roy Roberto Bolano Assia Djebar and Richard Flanagan he demonstrates the usefulness of fabulation as a critical tool while exploring the problematic relationship between history and story telling which all five novelists adopt as a central thematic concern This is an original and exciting project by a highly respected specialist in the field

Writing After

Postcolonialism Jane Hiddleston, 2017-09-21 Focusing on francophone writing from North Africa as it has developed since the 1980s Writing After Postcolonialism explores the extent to which the notion of postcolonialism is still resonant for literary writers a generation or more after independence and examines the troubled status of literature in society and politics during this period Whilst analysing the ways in which writers from Algeria Morocco and Tunisia have reacted to political unrest and social dissatisfaction Jane Hiddleston offers a compelling reflection on literature's ability to interrogate the postcolonial nation as well as on its own uncertain role in the current context The book sets out both to situate the recent generation of francophone writers in North Africa in relation to contemporary politics to postcolonial theory and evolving notions of world literature and to probe the ways in which a new and highly sophisticated set of writers reflect on the very notion of the literary during this period of transition

Algeria in Others' Languages Anne-Emmanuelle Berger, 2002 For decades the superimposition of languages in Algeria has had growing cultural and political consequences The relations between identity and language already complicated before independence became all the more entangled after 1962 when the new state imposed standard Arabic as the sole national language The vernacular brand of Arabic spoken by the majority of the population as well as Berber spoken by an important minority were denied legitimacy Moreover French the colonial language continued to be important all the while that its position changed The violence that ensued in the late 1980s cannot be fully understood without considering the politics of language This timely book is devoted to Algeria's linguistic predicament and the underlying disagreements over notions of identity power and belonging What problems arise when a new national language is adopted by a postcolonial state How does the status of the former colonial language change What becomes of the original mother tongue's of the populace The authors of Algeria in Others' Languages address these questions as they explore the historical cultural and philosophical significance of language in Algeria and its relation to issues of politics and gender Their topics range from analyses of political violence to the status of the principal of evidence in the legal system to the place of Francophonie in the 1990s The authors represent the fields of literature history sociology sociolinguistics and postcolonial and gender studies some are also historical players in Algeria's linguistic debates

Singularity and Transnational Poetics Birgit Mara Kaiser, 2014-12-05 Over the past decade singularity has been a prominent term in a broad range of fields ranging from philosophy to literary and cultural studies to science and technology studies This volume intervenes in this broad discussion of singularity and its various implications proposing to explore the term for its specific potential in the study of literature Singularity and Transnational Poetics brings together scholars working in the fields of literary and cultural studies translation studies and transnational literatures The volume's central concern is to explore singularity as a conceptual tool for the comparative study of contemporary literatures beyond national frameworks and by implication as a tool to analyze human existence Contributors explore how singularity might move our conceptions of cultural identity from prevailing frameworks of self other toward the premises of being as singular plural Through a close reading of transnational literatures from Ireland Germany the Netherlands France and South Africa this collection offers a new approach to reading literature that will challenge a reader's established notions of identity individuality communicability and social cohesion

From Split to Screened Selves Rachel Gabara, 2006 This book is a study of recent autobiographies by French and Francophone African writers and filmmakers all of whom reject simple first person narration and experiment with narrative voice and form to represent fragmented subjectivity Gabara investigates autobiography across media from print to photography and film as well as across the colonial encounter from France to Francophone North and West Africa Reading works by Roland Barthes Nathalie Sarraute Assia Djebar Cyril Collard David Achkar and Raoul Peck she argues that autobiographical film and African autobiography subgenres that have until now been overlooked or dismissed by critics offer new and important possibilities for self representation in the twenty first century Not only do these new forms of autobiography deserve our attention but any study of contemporary autobiography is incomplete without them Algeria and France, 1800-2000 Patricia M. E. Lorcin, 2006-10-19 The relationship between Algeria and France that formed during the 132 years of colonial rule did not end in 1962 when Algeria gained its independence This long period of occupation left an indelible mark on the social fabric of both societies one that continues to influence their cultures identities and politics Wide ranging in scope yet complementary in focus the essays deftly convey the extent to which the French colonial experience in Algeria resonates on both sides of the Mediterranean Young and established scholars shed light on the linguistic cultural and social mechanisms of violence remembrance forgetting fantasy nostalgia prejudice mythmaking and fractured identity Addressing the nature of Franco Algerian relations through such topics as migration displacement settler colonialism racism and sexuality these essays provide an important contribution to postcolonial studies cultural studies and North African history With renewed public debate surrounding the two countries shared past and their interwoven communities today this volume will be indispensable for anyone with an interest in the relations between Algeria and France and the literature on memory and nostalgia French Orientalist Literature in Algeria, 1845-1882 Sage Goellner, 2018-03-06 This book applies the growing theoretical field of hauntology to a body of literature which has previously been examined through the lenses of Orientalism and exoticism Through a chronological study and close readings of the writings of Thophile Gautier Eugène Fromentin Gustave Flaubert and Pierre Loti the project identifies haunting echoes within the texts which demonstrate an ambivalence of attitudes towards colonialism and which undermine any claim towards a monolithic imperialist French ideology Whereas hauntological theory has been used to illuminate literature from the Francophone post colonial period it has not yet been applied to texts produced during the French colonial period The originality of this project thus lies in the application of Derridean hauntological theory to works from an earlier period each of which in one way or another addresses the theme of colonial violence By revisiting four classic works of colonial Orientalism with haunting as a principal theme this analysis provides a critical witnessing of France's violent colonization of Algeria that demonstrates France's latent anxieties
