Integrated Watershed Management in the Global Ecosystem Rattan Lal, 1999-08-23 Focusing on the technical social and economic issues involved in watershed management this interdisciplinary author team focuses on bettering land use practices and the condition of soil water resources Integrated Watershed Management in the Global Ecosystem is a volume composed from an international symposium of the world's leading experts U.S. Farm Policy, 1979-April 1988

Mary E. Lassanyi, 1988 U.S. Farm Policy Mary E. Lassanyi, 1988 African Economic Development, 1979-January 1988

Mary E. Lassanyi, 1988 Principles of Sustainable Soil Management in Agroecosystems Rattan Lal, B.A.

Stewart, 2013-06-10 This book describes the laws of sustainable soil management to enhance ecosystem services while restoring degraded soils and promoting sustainable use With chapters contributed by world class soil scientists ecologists and social scientists the book outlines critical changes in management of agricultural soils necessary to address global issues of food security climate change water security and energy needs Topics covered include organic farming soil fertility crop symbiotic soil microbiota human driven soil degradation soil degradation and restoration carbon sink capacity of soils and soil renewal and sustainability The Political Economy of the Family Farm Sue Headlee, 1991-11-30 Agriculture played an important role in the transition to capitalism in the United States in the mid nineteenth century In her study Sue Headlee argues that the family farm system with its progressive nature and egalitarian class structure revolutionized this transition to capitalism The family farm is examined in light of its economic and political implications showing the relationship between the family farm and fledgling industrial capitalism a relationship that fostered the simultaneous industrial and agricultural revolutions and the creation of an agro industrial complex Headlee focuses on the adoption of the horse drawn mechanical reaper to harvest wheat by family farmers in the 1850s The neoclassical economic explanation with its emphasis on the farm as a profit maximizing firm is criticized for its lack of recognition of the role of the family farm's egalitarian class structure This look at the economic history of the United States has lessons for the Third World today agricultural development is vital to the transition to capitalism the agrarian class structures of Third World countries may be holding back that transition and a family farm land reform approach would lead to increases in productivity and in the material well being of society Headlee's analysis supports three important debates in political economy thus providing the historical and theoretical context for understanding the role of agriculture in the transition to capitalism in general and in the particular case of the United States Her findings conclude that agrarian class structures can explain the differential patterns of development in pre industrial Europe Further evidence is presented that the internal class structure of agrarian society is the crucial causal factor in the transition to capitalism and that market developments alone are not sufficient Lastly and most controversially Headlee acknowledges the importance of the Civil War in propelling the triumph of American capitalism allowing the Republican Party an alliance of family farmers and industrial capitalists to take control of the state from the Democratic Party of the southern plantation owners This book will be of interest to scholars in political economy economic history agrarian economics and development economics An Institutional Guide to Economics and Public Policy Marc R. Tool,2019-07-25 This narrative recounts the 18th and 19th century shipping out of Pacific islanders aboard European and American vessels a kind of counter exploring that echoed the ancient voyages of settlement of their island ancestors

Quick Bibliography Series ,1976 Small Farms Alessandro Bonanno,2019-07-11 Why do small farms continue to coexist with ever larger farming operations in advanced Western societies Through a thorough case study of Italy and a comparative analysis of small farms in the United States Dr Bonanno seeks to answer this question exploring the complex relationships among farm family members ideology and behavior the small farm economic sector and the interaction of small farms within the relevant spheres of society He finds that at the structural level a lack of occupational alternatives and contradictions within both labor and land markets often force farmers to retain marginal farms despite personal dissatisfaction At the ideological level many farm families display deep attachment to the agrarian way of life and cite this as a fundamental reason for not leaving the farm for other work Dr Bonanno also analyzes the role of small farms within the social system and concludes that they serve a legitimative function This legitimative role fosters contradictions within the social and economic systems that the state is unable to resolve thus contributing to the continuation of a dual structure in agricultural development large and very large farms at one end of the scale and marginal but persistent small farms at the other The Protection of Ground and Surface Waters, January 1982-August 1987 ,1988 Wood Preservation Patrick J.
