Fast Ein Jahrhundert Luis Trenker:

Ministry of Illusion Eric Rentschler, 1996-10-01 Eric Rentschler argues that cinema in the Third Reich emanated from a Ministry of Illusion and not from a Ministry of Fear His analysis of the sophisticated media culture of this period demonstrates in an unprecedented way the potent and destructive powers of fascination and fantasy Cultural History Through a National Socialist Lens Robert Charles Reimer, 2000 This collection of essays offers a view of Nazi Germany through an analysis of twenty films These represent a sampling of the period's directors and reflect the film medium's major genres For in spite of the control that Goebbels's film industry exercised over all aspects of filmmaking in the Third Reich the films reveal an individuality that belies subsuming them under any one rubric or containing them within any one theory Films such as Hitlerjunge Quex, Die große Liebe and Auf Wiedersehen Franziska represent the Nazi film industry's efforts to propagandize through entertainment Others such as Imensee, Kleider machen Leute and Der Schimmelreiter reveal an attempt to expropriate Germany's rich literary past for the regime These literary adaptations and films like Glücksrabe, La Habanera and Der Kaiser von Kalifornien today seem void of Nazi ideology if viewed outside the context of Nazism Yet another film Der ewige Jude shocks us with its virulent anti-Semitism and hateful propaganda almost sixty years after its release All of the films treated regardless of their fame or notoriety or the level of commitment of their directors to the Nazi cause played an important role in a cinema that not only represents the dreams and lives of the citizens of the Third Reich but influenced them as well Robert C Reimer is professor of German at the University of North Carolina Charlotte

Screening Nostalgia Alexandra Ludewig, 2014-03-15 The Heimat film genre assumed to be outdated by so many is very much alive Who would have thought that this genre which has been almost unanimously denounced within academic circles but which seems to resonate so deeply with the general public would experience a renaissance in the 21st century The genre's recent resurgence is perhaps due less to an obsession with generic storylines and stereotyped figures than to a basic human need for grounding that has resulted in a passionate debate about issues of past and present This book traces the history of the Heimat film genre from the early mountain films to Fatih Akin's contemporary interpretations of Heimat
