Tomorrow? Sonia Nassery Cole, 2012-10-16 When Sonia Nassery Cole set out to film The Black Tulip in her homeland of Afghanistan she knew the odds were against her she was told time and time again that filming inside a war zone would be impossible What she didn't anticipate was how intent the Taliban and its sympathizers were on halting the film's production the crew encountered extortion government corruption kidnapping attempts and death threats even with around the clock security Her cinematographer fled after two days and many others followed After 9/11 Cole wrote The Black Tulip based on a true story of a real Afghan family The plot was simple After 2001 when the Taliban was routed an Afghan family opened The Poet's Corner a restaurant with an open microphone for all to read poetry perform music and tell their stories But the Taliban didn't approve and the family's new found hope proved fleeting as it struggled to maintain the restaurant and its vibrant way of life Selected as Afghanistan's official submission for the Best Foreign Language Film at the 2010 Academy Awards The Black Tulip is a modern portrait of Afghanistan that captures the plight and resilience of its people Without financial support from a studio or anyone else Cole self-financed the film by mortgaging her home and selling her belongings Then with everything on the line she left for Kabul to make the impossible possible and set out to gather the right people who would risk their lives and willingly be part of the production In Will I Live Tomorrow Cole gives an intimate look into what went on behind the scenes of making a controversial film in the heart of a war ravaged country the looming terror the Taliban creates among Afghans everywhere and the challenges and fear the cast and crew faced every day Will I Live Tomorrow is a memoir about one woman's struggle to make a difference in a violent world Live and Work in Harmony

Who Will Make the Pies When I'M Gone? Jamie C. Schneider, 2013-03-15 Jamie Schneiders life changed with one phone call in February of 2010 After months of sensing something was not right with her body Jamie was diagnosed with stage IV ovarian cancer sending her on a relentless search for information about cancer and for ideas on how to survive the devastating news Facing her diagnosis Jamie already knew her life would never be the same Whether she liked it or not she was now immersed in the dark side of cancer As this ancient rogue force claimed its space in her body and she became a stranger in an unfamiliar land Jamie details how her relentless desire to understand created a voice of validation She walked through a shadowy world of cancer that left her somewhere between alive and dead Now Jamie exposes the harsh reality of her experience the reactions of her friends and family the treatment and devastating losses the yo yo of hope and hopelessness and the painful paradox of living while dying In Who Will Make the Pies When Im Gone Jamie shares a powerful honest glimpse into her world as she struggles to make this new limited version of her life meaningful after a cancer diagnosis

I Will Never Trust a Man Dr. Kumdong Bindul Nostra, 2014-06-16 From the very first moment Saratu met Bindul he made her believed that she was more than any other woman he had ever seen in the world He bathed her with love bathed her bathed her and finally drowned her completely into his love Saratu loves him with the truest love of her heart As matter of factly they were head over heels in love They admired each other they adored each other they allured each other they liked each other they want each other they need each other they beseechingly desired each other and they loved each other like politicians with corruptions They declared their love for each other and not so long they stood in front of an overfilled church congregation to publicly declare their love for each other in a one in town society marriage They swam in their love and lived very very comfortable and happily in love Saratu wasn't in need of anything even sex Bindul gave her all the practical part of love the love that was made in heaven for a woman that kind of love that made her feel as though she was the only EVE with the only ADAM in this modern world and she was wholly dependable on it Like King Solomon to his wives and concubines Bindul lavished Saratu with the sweetest lovely words and praises He gave her all that she needed in life But when Saratu later discovered that her husband was still madly in love with Jimikat his primeval girlfriend things wasn't the same again for her Their loveliest sex packed marriage suffered a temporary drought of sex Saratu first run to her dear friend Dakmikat for help Despite doing everything her husband clung onto Jimikat like a tick to a cow But at the end when Bindul brought the two of them together the problem was solved and Saratu and Jimikat became very very good friends and lived very happily under the spell of Bindul

Who's Afraid of Human Cloning? Gregory E. Pence, 1998-11-05 Human cloning raises the most profound questions about human nature our faith in ourselves and our ability to make decisions that could significantly alter the character of humanity In this exciting and accessible book Gregory Pence offers a candid and sometimes humorous look at the arguments for and against human cloning Originating a human being by cloning Pence boldly argues should not strike fear in our hearts but should be examined as a reasonable reproductive option for couples Pence considers how popular culture has influenced the way we think about cloning and he presents a lucid and non technical examination of the scientific research and relevant moral issues in the cloning debate This book is a must read for anyone who is concerned about the impact of technology on human life and for those with interests in medical ethics sociology and public policy
