The Sound of Your Voice, Only Really Far Away Frances O'Rourke Dowell, 2013-08-27 Marilyn and Kate find that boys can be just as complicated as friendship. In this conclusion to the bestselling Secret Language of Girls trilogy, a quietly perceptive tour de force, Kirkus Reviews from the bestselling author of Dovey Coe and The Secret Language of Girls. Marilyn knows that as a middle school cheerleader, she has certain obligations. She has to smile as she walks down the hall, be friends with the right people, and keep her manicure in tip-top shape. But Marilyn is surprised to learn there are also rules about whom she is allowed to like, and Benjamin, the student body president, is deemed unacceptable. But maybe there is a way to convince the cheerleaders that her interest in Benjamin is for their own good; maybe she'll pretend that she's using him to get new cheerleading uniforms. Kate, of course, finds this ludicrous. She is going to like who she likes, thank you very much. And she just so happens to be spending more time than ever with Matthew Holler. But even a girl who marches to the beat of her own guitar strings can play the wrong notes, and are she and Matthew even playing the same song? She's just not sure. So when Matthew tells Kate that the school's Audio Lab needs funding from the student government, she decides to do what she can to help him get it. But there isn't enough money to go around, and it soon becomes clear that only one of the two girls can get her way. Ultimately, though, is it even her way? Or are both girls pushing for something they never really wanted in the first place?
