innovation is that it describes the relationship between biotechnology and plant genetic diversity and puts these in the context of agricultural development Both the conservation of plant genetic diversity and agricultural biotechnology have received extensive examination but the linkages between the two have not despite the apparently obvious relationship between the two

Ecological Solidarity and the Kurdish Freedom Movement Stephen E. Hunt, 2021-10-11

Ecological Solidarity and the Kurdish Freedom Movement Thought Practice Challenges and Opportunities is a pioneering text that examines the ideas about social ecology and communalism behind the evolving political structures in the Kurdish region. The collection evaluates practical green projects including the Mesopotamian Ecology Movement, Jinwar women's eco village, food sovereignty in a solidarity economy, environmental defenders in Iranian Kurdistan and Make Rojava Green Again. Contributors also critically reflect on such contested themes as Alevi nature beliefs, anti-dam demonstrations, human rights, law and climate change, the Gezi Park protests and forest fires. Throughout this volume, the contributors consider the formidable challenges to the Kurdish initiatives such as state repression, damaged infrastructure and oil dependency. Nevertheless, contributors assert that the West has much to learn from the Kurdish ecological paradigm which offers insight into social movement debates about development and decolonization.

INTRODUCTION CHAPTER 1 ECOLOGICAL ECONOMICS AND COASTAL ZONE ECOSYSTEMS VALUES AN OVERVIEW

Turner R K Bateman I J and Adger W N 1.1 Coastal zone pressure and sustainable management challenges. Given the continued intensification of the process of globalisation involving population growth, population density changes via urbanisation, industrial development, increased trade and capital flows, liberalisation of transnational corporation activity and lifestyle and attitudinal changes, coastal zones and their hydrologically linked catchment areas have come under heavy environmental pressure. The scale and extent of socio-economic activities have profound implications for the now coevolving natural and human systems and their complex interrelationships. Turner, Perrings and Folke 1997. The consequences of this process of change manifest themselves across a range of spatial and temporal scales. Indeed, the juxtaposition of different spatial, functional and temporal scales that is inherent in the catchment-coastal ecosystems-seas-oceans continuum poses particularly difficult challenges for both science and resource management governance.
