Grazing in Future Multi-scapes: From Thoughtscapes to Landscapes, Creating Health from the Ground Up Pablo Gregorini,Iain James Gordon,Carol Kerven,Fred Provenza,2022-09-27 This Research Topic is hosted in partnership with the Grazing in Future Multi Scapes international workshop The workshop will be held online 30th May 5th June 2021 Throughout different landscapes of the world grazing herbivores fulfill essential roles in ecology agriculture economies and cultures including families farms and communities Not only do livestock provide food and wealth they also deliver ecosystem services through the roles they play in environmental composition structure and dynamics Grazing as a descriptive adjective locates herbivores within a spatial and temporal pastoral context where they naturally graze or are grazed by farmers ranchers shepherds etc In many cases however pastoralism with the single objective of maximizing animal production and or profit has transformed landscapes diminishing biodiversity reducing water and air quality accelerating loss of soil and plant biomass and displacing indigenous animals and people These degenerative landscape transformations have jeopardized present and future ecosystem and societal services breaking the natural integration of land water air health society and culture Land users policy makers and societies are calling for alternative approaches to pastoral systems a call for diversified adaptive and integrative agro ecological and food pastoral systems designs that operate across multiple scales and scapes e g thought social land food health wild scapes simultaneously There needs to be a paradigm shift in pastoral production systems and how grazing herbivores are managed grazed within them derived initially from a change in perception of how they provide wealth The thoughtsapes will include paradigm shifts where grazers move away from the actual archetype of pastoralism future landscapes are re imagined and regenerative and sustainable management paradigms are put in place to achieve these visions From this will come a change in collective thinking of how communities and cultures socialscapes perceive their relationships with pastoral lands The landscapes are the biotic and abiotic four dimensional domains or environments in need of nurture Landscapes are the tables where humans and herbivores gain their nourishment i e foodscapes Foodscapes and dietary perceptions dictate actions and reactions that are changing as developed countries grapple with diseases related to obesity and people starve in developing countries Societies are demanding healthscapes and nutraceutical foodscapes and paradoxically some are moving away from animal products While indigenous species of animals including humans wildscapes have been displaced from many of their lands by monotonic pastoralism multifunctional pastoral systems can be designed in view of dynamic multi scapes of the future The purpose of this Research Topic is to influence future mental and practical models of pastoralism in continually evolving multi scapes We seek a collection of papers that will cultivate such a shift in thinking towards future models of sustainable multipurpose pastoralism The contributions will be synthesized to establish how multifunctional pastoral systems can be re imagined and then designed in view of the integrative dynamics of sustainable future multi scapes

Land Policies in India Sony Pellissery, Benjamin Davy, Harvey M. Jacobs, 2017-08-10 This book examines how property rights are linked to socio economic progress and development It also provides a theoretical analysis an economic social analysis of planning case studies of the implementation of planning and regulation instruments practices related to law and planning analysis of case laws in a particular segment The interconnection between property law and planning is a running theme throughout the book The land question has been central to South Asian development on two counts First although the majority of the population relies on agriculture and allied activities their livelihood landholding is highly skewed second urban planning is facing unprecedented challenges due to bourgeoning property values as well as gush of migrants to cities seeking livelihood The response to these challenges in the form of laws and policies has been very large compared to the academic attention that is received However the measures emerging from planning and policies have had limited impact on the extent of the problems This paradox calls for serious introspection and academic engagement that this book undertakes The book further deals with the emerging discipline of planning law which determines property value and use and argues that regulatory issues of public policy determine the property valuation and property pricing

The Old Farmer's Almanac 2004 Engagement Calendar, Correction Lines Curt Meine, 2004-10-06 The last fifteen years have been a period of dramatic change both in the world at large and within the fields of ecology and conservation The end of the Cold War the dot com boom and bust the globalizing economy and the attacks of September 11 among other events and trends have reshaped our worldview and the political environment in which we find ourselves At the same time emerging knowledge needs and opportunities have led to a rapid evolution in our understanding of the scientific foundations and social context of conservation Correction Lines is a new collection of essays from one of our most thoughtful and eloquent writers on conservation putting these recent changes into perspective and exploring the questions they raise about the past present and future of the conservation movement The essays explore interrelated themes the relationship between biological and social dimensions the historic tension between utilitarian and preservationist approaches the integration of varied cultural perspectives the enduring legacy of Aldo Leopold the contrasts and continuities between conservation and environmentalism the importance of political reform and the need to retool conservation to address twentyfirst century realities Collectively the essays assert that we have reached a critical juncture in conservation a correction line of sorts Correction Lines argues that we need a more coherent and comprehensive account of the past if we are to understand our present circumstances and move forward under unprecedented conditions Meine brings together a deep sense of history with powerful language and compelling imagery yielding new insights into the origins and development of contemporary conservation Correction Lines will help us think more clearly about the forces that have changed and are changing conservation and inspire us to address current realities and future needs Farmers' Almanac 2003 ANONIMO,2002-08-01 Provides weather predictions for the entire United States and includes such features as the best days for fishing recipes from the Wild West and tips for tightwads The Old Farmer's Almanac 2003 Robert B.
