Farming Of Prehistoric Britain:

The Farming of Prehistoric Britain P. J. Fowler, 1983-07-07 Emphasizing past gains in knowledge from experimental aerial and field archaeology Dr Fowler demonstrates how the application of archaeological approaches to agrarian history has made the subject central to our understanding of the prehistoric period Emphasizing past gains in knowledge from experimental aerial and field archaeology Dr Fowler demonstrates how the application of archaeological approaches to agrarian history has made the subject central to our understanding of the prehistoric period Food and Farming in Prehistoric Britain Paul Elliott, 2016 The lost cooking techniques of Stone Age and Iron Age Britain are brought vividly to life in the prehistoric kitchen Farmers in Prehistoric Britain Francis Pryor, 2011 Francis Pryor maintains that early farming in Britain has been misunderstood because British archaeology is essentially an urban activity studied by people who have lost contact with the countryside In this book he draws on his experience Farming Practice in British Prehistory Roger Mercer, Roger J. Mercer, 1984 The Landscape and crops Wildscape to Landscape Endosure in pre historic Britain Early Agriculture in Scotland Agricultural tools Function and use slash and Burn in the Temperate European neolithic Deadstock and Livestock Reconstructing crop Husbandry practices from charred remains of crops Animal Husbandry Aspects of cattle husbandry Livestock products Skins and fleeces Early manuring techniques Prehistoric Farming in Europe Graeme Barker, 1985-07-11 Drawing upon his own extensive knowledge of European archaeology Graeme Barker has impressively integrated the full range of archaeological data to produce in this book a masterly account of prehistoric farming in Europe on a unique scale He makes use of modern archaeological techniques to reconstruct the lives of prehistoric farmers in remarkable detail Not only do we now have a vivid picture of the prehistoric farmyard but we know what animals were kept how they were fed and why they were bred Evidence for crops grown and techniques of cultivation and husbandry helps recreate the prehistoric landscape Even the social organisation that determined the use of resources and provided the crucial stimulus for agricultural change can be relived Graeme Barker develops his argument through analogies with the agricultural history of classical and medieval Europe and concludes that today's industrial farmers can learn much from the successes and failures of early European farming Anglo-Saxon Farms and Farming Debby Banham, Rosamond Faith, 2014 Farming was the basis of the wealth that made England worth invading twice in the eleventh century while trade and manufacturing were insignificant by modern standards In Anglo Saxon Farms and Farming the authors employ a wide range of evidence to investigate how Anglo Saxon farmers produced the food and other agricultural products that sustained English economy society and culture before the Norman Conquest The first part of the volume draws on written and pictorial sources archaeology place names and the history of the English language to discover what crops and livestock people raised and what tools and techniques were used to produce them In part two using a series of landscape studies place names maps and the landscape itself the authors explore how these techniques might have been combined into working agricultural regimes in different parts of the country A picture emerges of an agriculture that changed from an essentially prehistoric state in the sub Roman period to what was recognisably the beginning of a tradition that only ended with the Second World War Anglo Saxon farming was not only sustainable but infinitely adaptable to different soils and geology and to a climate changing as unpredictably as it is today The Agrarian History of England and Wales: Volume 1, Part 1, Prehistory Stuart Piggott, Joan Thirsk, 1981-04-02 General editor v 1 pt 1 v 5 pt 1 2 v 8 Joan Thirsk Includes bibliographies v 1 pt 1 Prehistory v 1 pt II A D 43 1042 v 2 1042 1350 v 3 1348 1500 edited by Edward Miller v 4 1500 1640 edited by J Thirsk v 5 1640 1750 edited by Joan Thirsk 2 v v 7 pt 1 2 1850 1914 v 8 1914 39 by E H Whetham British and Irish Archaeology, 1994

Historical Geography of England and Wales Robert A. Dodgshon, Robin A. Butlin, 2013-10-22 This text has been designed to cover all aspects and phases of the historical geography of England and Wales in a single volume In its substantially revised and enlarged form the treatment of standard themes has been completely re written to take account of recent work and shifts in viewpoint while its overall coverage has been extended to embrace newer themes like symbolic landscapes and the geography of the inter war period Its comprehensiveness and freshness of approach ensure its continuing value and success as a text Breadth of coverage from prehistory to 1939 Uses a range of data sources and approaches Well illustrated with particular emphasis on key themes Major revision of 1st edition with much wider range of topics An Environmental History of Wildlife in England 1650 - 1950 Tom Williamson, 2013-12-05 Choice Outstanding Academic Title 2014 While few detailed surveys of fauna or flora exist in England from the period before the nineteenth century it is possible to combine the evidence of historical sources ranging from game books diaries churchwardens accounts and even folk songs and our wider knowledge of past land use and landscape with contemporary analyses made by modern natural scientists in order to model the situation at various times and places in the more remote past This timely volume encompasses both rural and urban environments from 1650 to the mid twentieth century drawing on a wide variety of social historical and ecological sources It examines the impact of social and economic organisation on the English landscape biodiversity the agricultural revolution landed estates the coming of large scale industry and the growth of towns and suburbs It also develops an original perspective on the complexity and ambiguity of man animal relationships in this post medieval period Farming in the First Millennium AD P. J. Fowler, 2002-11-14 Peter Fowler has written an authoritative account of farming in Britain in the first millennium AD This is the first synthesis of our knowledge on this topic for a generation Successive chapters assemble and analyse the latest evidence on farms fields technology food diet and society New interpretations are offered on subjects ranging from implements to illuminated manuscripts and evidence drawn from Northern England Scotland and Wales contributes significantly to the story The book concludes with a magisterial review of the ways in which agriculture shaped early Britain s societies and landscapes It also proposes a chronological model of British agriculture for the whole millennium

Interpreting the Landscape Michael Aston, 2002-09-11 Most places in Britain have had a local history written about them Up until this century these histories have addressed more parochial issues such as the life of the manor rather than explaining the features and changes in the landscape in a factual manner Much of what is visible today in Britain's landscape is the result of a chain of social and natural processes and can be interpreted through fieldwork as well as from old maps and documents Michael Aston uses a wide range of source material to study the complex and dynamic history of the countryside illustrating his points with aerial photographs maps plans and charts He shows how to understand the surviving remains as well as offering his own explanations for how our landscape has evolved Foraging and Farming David R. Harris, Gordon C. Hillman, 2014-10-30 This book is one of a series of more than 20 volumes resulting from the World Archaeological Congress September 1986 attempting to bring together not only archaeologists and anthropologists from many parts of the world as well as academics from contingent disciplines but also non academics from a wide range of cultural backgrounds This volume develops a new approach to plant exploitation and early agriculture in a worldwide comparative context It modifies the conceptual dichotomy between hunter gatherers and farmers viewing human exploitation of plant resources as a global evolutionary process which incorporated the beginnings of cultivation and crop domestication The studies throughout the book come from a worldwide range of geographical contexts from the Andes to China and from Australia to the Upper Mid West of North America This work is of interest to anthropologists archaeologists botanists and geographers Originally published 1989
