Second International Handbook of Educational Leadership and Administration Kenneth A. Leithwood, P. Hallinger, 2012-12-06 The first International Handbook of Educational Leadership and Administration Leithwood et al was published in 1996 and quickly became something of a best seller for reference works within education Such success we suggest was at least partly due to the unprecedented global waves of concern for improving schools launched in the mid 1980 s combined with a widespread belief in leadership as the single most powerful contribution to such improvement The roots of this belief can be found in evidence produced by the early effective schools research although there is a romance with leadership as an explanation for success in many non school enterprises as well During the two year period during which this current handbook was being written activity in the realms of school leadership school improvement and leadership development gained further momentum The English government created its new National College of School Leadership and several Asian nations announced new initiatives in leadership selection preparation and development

The Managerial Imperative and the Practice of Leadership in Schools Larry Cuban, 1988-01-15 With this significant new work Larry Cuban provides a unique and insightful perspective on the bridging of the long standing and well known gap between teachers and administrators Drawing on the literature of the field as well as personal experience Cuban recognizes the enduring structural relationship within school organizations inherited by teachers principals and superintendents and calls for a renewal of their sense of common purpose regarding the role of schooling in a democratic society Cuban analyzes the dominant images moral and technical roles instructional managerial and political and contexts classroom school and district within which teachers principals and superintendents have worked over the last century He concludes that when these powerful images and roles are wedded to the structural conditions in which schooling occurs managerial behavior results thus narrowing the potential for more thoughtful effective and appropriate leadership Cuban then turns to consider this situation with respect to the contemporary movement for school reform identifying significant concerns both for policymakers and practitioners This honest thought provoking book by a leading scholar writer and practitioner in the field represents an invaluable resource an insightful introduction for those just entering the field and a fresh new perspective for those long familiar with its complexities Cuban s ethnographic approach to the development of his own career and viewpoint as well as his highly readable style make this a work of lasting value

Educational Leadership Relationally Scott Eacott, 2015-01-19 Educational leadership management and administration has a rich history of epistemological and ontological dialogue and debate However in recent times at least since the publication of Colin Evers and Gabriele Lakomski s trilogy knowing exploring and doing educational administration there has been a distinct dearth Educational Leadership Relationally explicitly returns matters of epistemology and ontology to the centre of the discussion Through a sustained and rigorous engagement with contemporary thought and analysis Scott Eacott articulates and defends a relational approach to scholarship in educational leadership management and administration Eacott belongs to a group of scholars in educational administration who could be called meta sociologist This group blends sociology historical revisionism managerial theories and general philosophy to emphasise the relevance of sociological analysis in the field of educational administration Proposing a relational turn Eacott outlines a methodological agenda for constructing an alternative approach to educational leadership management and administration scholarship that might be persuasive beyond the critical frontier The relational research programme is arguably the most ambitious agenda in educational leadership management and administration coming out of Australia since Colin Evers and Gabriele Lakomski s natural coherentism and Richard Bates Critical Theory of Educational Administration As a research agenda it engages with the centrality of administration in constructions of the social world the legitimation of popular labels such as leadership the inexhaustible and inseparable grounding of administrative labour in time and space and overcomes contemporary tensions of individualism collectivism and structure agency to provide a productive rather than merely critical space to theorise educational leadership management and administration
