e-Development Toward the Knowledge Economy E. Carayannis, C. Sipp, 2005-12-15 Profiling Smart Development A thorough comparative empirical review of real and best e Development policies and practices towards the Knowledge Economy Based on the analysis of policies practices and empirical development case studies this book provides a methodology for matching development stage and development strategy identifying best and real policies and practices for the most appropriate use of information and communication technologies ICT and knowledge to foster innovation and entrepreneurship and trigger catalyze and accelerate sustainable development Enabling Enterprise Transformation

Nagy K. Hanna, 2009-12-11 Private enterprises in advanced economies have been learning to use information and communication technology ICT to innovate and transform their processes products services and business models significantly improving productivity and competitiveness Moreover the ICT industry itself has become a major source of job creation and a contributor to economic growth and business transformation A key question today is whether and how developing countries can learn to benefit from the ICT revolution and what roles the government and private sector can play Already a number of developing countries have been inspired by the example of India and China and are now seeking to jump on the outsourcing bandwagon. Nevertheless, with few exceptions in the developing world, little attention has been paid by policymakers and practitioners to invest systematically and proactively in ICT-enabled growth, poverty reduction, and grassroots innovation. Most communities and small and medium-sized enterprises in developing countries, for example, face multiple constraints to adopting and leveraging this general-purpose technology and lack the capabilities for maximizing its potential. In Enabling Enterprise Transformation, Nagy Hanna draws on his rich experience of over 35 years at the World Bank and other aid agencies as a development strategist and ICT policy expert to present the most current research and best practices from around the world to provide practical tools for promoting economic and social transformation through ICT. He assesses various initiatives to develop and diffuse ICT, such as innovation funds, incubators, parks, public-private partnerships, and comprehensive promotion programs. He argues for the strategic options now open for developing countries to participate in ICT production, to deploy ICT to transform industries and services, and to leverage ICT as a new national infrastructure for improving the business environment and enhancing the competitiveness of the whole economy. The challenge for leaders in developing countries is to create such social and institutional dynamics for learning about ICT use and adaptation at many levels. Lessons gained so far from programs to build these social learning and innovation capabilities at the institutional and grassroots levels should be shared among developing countries, and a dialogue among business leaders, policymakers, development agencies, educational institutions, and the general citizenry must be advanced.

e-Transformation: Enabling New Development Strategies Nagy K. Hanna, 2009-11-11. Could information and communication technology (ICT) become the transformative tool for a new style of global development? Could ICT promote knowledge-based, innovation-driven, and smart, adaptive, participatory development? As countries seek a way out of the present period of economic contraction, they are trying to weave ICT into their development strategies in the same way organizations have learned to use ICT to transform their business models and strategies. This integration offers a new path to development that is responsive to the challenges of our times. In e-Transformation, Nagy Hanna identifies the key ingredients for the strategic integration of ICT into national development, with examples from around the world. He draws on his rich experience of over 35 years at the World Bank and other aid agencies to outline the strategic options involved in using ICT to maximize developmental impact, transforming public service institutions, networking businesses for innovation and competitiveness, and empowering communities for social inclusion and poverty reduction. He identifies the key interdependencies in e-transformation and offers a holistic framework to tap network effects and synergies across all elements of the process, including leadership, cyber policies, institutions, human resources, technological competencies, information infrastructure, and ICT uses for government, business, and society. Integrating analytical insights and practical applications across the fields of development, political economy, public administration, entrepreneurship, and technology management, the author candidly argues that e-transformation, like all bold ideas faces implementation challenges In particular the aspiration reality gap needs to be systematically addressed if ICT enabled innovation and transformation is to become a development practice E transformation is first and foremost about thinking strategically and creatively about the options made possible by the information technology revolution in the context of globalization To this end the author provides tools and best practices designed to nurture innovation select entry points prioritize among competing demands and sequence and scale up He outlines the roles of all participants political managerial entrepreneurial social and technical whose leadership is essential for successful innovation

Financial Engineering in Sustainable Funding of Urban Development in the EU Piotr Idczak, Ida Musiałkowska, 2022-08-22 This theoretically rooted and research based book provides insights on the JESSICA funding model which unlike the traditional non repayable aid focuses on supporting sustainable urban development projects in a repayable and recyclable way Looking through the lens of the JESSICA financial engineering mechanism used in urban transformation it examines the functioning and performance thereof and formulates policy recommendations for the future The aim of this volume is to contribute to a deeper understanding of the JESSICA sustainable funding model by exploring its repayable assistance mechanism to support sustainable urban development projects The authors make several noteworthy contributions to the literature on EU cohesion policy and shed light on the use of the repayable instruments within public interventions while providing for the first time a critical analysis of the JESSICA sustainable funding model from the holistic perspective which is especially relevant for supporting sustainable urban development Financial Engineering in Sustainable Funding of Urban Development in the EU provides policy significant findings that are important for EU cohesion policy in the field of repayable assistance to be reinvested in the long term in urban and regional transformation

Cascio, 2005-05 Transforming Urban Economies Andrea Colantonio, Richard Burdett, Philipp Rode, 2013-08-15 Cities house the majority of the world's population and are the dynamic centres of 21st century life at the heart of economic social and environmental change They are still beset by difficult problems but often demonstrate resilience in the face of regional and national economic decline Faced by the combined threats of globalisation and world recession cities and their metropolitan regions have had to fight hard to maintain their global competitiveness and protect the quality of life of urban residents Transforming Urban Economies Policy Lessons from European and Asian Cities the first in an ongoing series of research volumes by LSE Cities provides insights in how cities can respond positively to these challenges The fine grained and authoritative analysis of how Barcelona Turin Munich and Seoul have been transformed in the last 20 years examines comparative patterns of decline adaptation and recovery of cities that have successfully managed to transform their economies in the face of economic hardship This in depth and practical analysis is aimed at urban leaders designers planners policymakers and scholars who want to understand the dynamics of economic resilience while cities are still suffering from the aftershocks of the 2008 recession The book highlights the importance of aligned and multi level governance the need for strategic public investments and the role of the private sector universities and foundations in leading and guiding complex processes of urban recovery in an increasingly uncertain age Innovation Systems Vinod Kumar Goel,2004 Cities as Engines of Sustainable Competitiveness Dr Jan van der Meer,Dr Luis Carvalho,Professor Leo van den Berg,2014-05-28

Reflecting on two decades of competitiveness oriented urban policies in Europe this book investigates the current challenges cities face to sustain their economic position and how this can be balanced with social progress and environmental improvements Complementing previous surveys on local and urban development and competitiveness based strategies this volume provides longer term views on the evolution of such policies at the city level from the personal perspective of city officials in eight European cities More concretely it looks at how the urban dimension in EU policies have evolved over time the kinds of urban policy supported by the EU over the last two decades and how cities have been involved with this process The book investigates the portfolios of competitiveness oriented policies which have been developed by European cities and how they see the link between urban spatial development policies and sustainable competitiveness Finally the book fleshes out a number of challenges and initiatives taken by the eight European cities and their governments in the face of current challenges in order to pave the way towards more competitive and sustainable urban economies The Report: Oman 2015 Oxford Business Group,2015-01-21

As with most of its neighbours in the GCC region oil and gas remains a significant contributor to Oman s economy accounting for around 50% of GDP While the recent slump in oil prices is a concern increased investment in enhanced oil recovery techniques in recent times has attempted to make up for this decline with supply increasing as a result Meanwhile Oman s industrial sector particularly the petrochemicals segment is poised for large expansion with ongoing investment in downstream infrastructure and new facilities in the pipeline for the Sohar and Salalah industrial regions expected to contribute significantly to output before 2020 Added to this is the rapid development of Oman s ports rail and airports which is expected to drive its reputation as a regional logistics hub while developing the tourism sector which is considered as key moving forward Global Perspectives on Technology Transfer and Commercialization John Sibley Butler,David V. Gibson,2011-01-01

As we move further into the 21st century increasing emphasis is being placed on the importance of technology transfer Through new research and practices scholars practitioners and policymakers have made great strides in broadening our understanding and ability to implement technology transfer and commercialization processes The fruit of that research is collected in this timely volume Technology transfer is a dynamic area of study that examines traditional topics such as intellectual property management the management of risk market identification the role of public and private labs and the role of universities This volume reflects on how government business and academia influence technology transfer in different countries and how the infrastructure of a country enhances technology and contributes to each country s overall economy Interpreting and adopting the processes of technology transfer and commercialization or building innovative ecosystems is critical to seeing success in this digital age Those leading the surge toward building innovative ecosystems for technology transfer are the fellows of the Institute for Innovation Creativity and Capital IC2 Institute at The University of Texas at Austin Global in its scope of solving market economy problems for this volume the Institute has focused its lens on accelerated knowledge based development Here scholars from 13 countries come together to critique technology transfer from each of their respective nations The results of their contributions lend innovative insight to exactly how different nations are working to maximize technology transfer and commercialization in uncertain times Those with an interest in commercialization and technology transfer from students to scholars practitioners to policymakers will find this important collection of great value Innovation Systems Vinod Kumar Goel,2004
