

Activities for Mentally Disabled Adults

Play Cognitive Games

Cognitive games like board games, Lego games, and card games are good ways to engage an adult living with an intellectual disability and/or developmental disability.

Nature Walks

Taking a walk in Nature or Botanical parks are helpful for a person living with an intellectual and/or developmental disability and also have a calming and therapeutic effect on them.

Museum Trip

A trip to the museum is another calming and therapeutic activity you can engage in with an adult living with an intellectual and/or developmental disability. Seeing artifacts and other nature-themed works in the museum will pique their interest in learning and knowing more about their environment.

Cooking Activities

Group cooking activities are very nice particularly if they are a cooking competition. This gives them a chance to think and also learn to work as a team and under pressure.

Group Exercise Activities

Physical exercise is also important and good for adults living with intellectual and/or developmental disabilities. The exercise routine should be moderately intense to engage all parts of their body. Moderate exercises like taking a brisk walk, short distance jogging, and moderate cardiovascular exercises like jumping jacks, lunges, and light mountain climbers will be helpful.

Group Picnics

Picnic helps with bonding with other people and also helps with being in the outdoors and enjoying the beauty of nature.

Wearable Devices and Smart Technology for Educational Teaching Assistance Ul Rehman, Shafiq, 2024-12-24 Wearable devices and smart technology are revolutionizing educational teaching assistance offering innovative solutions to enhance learning experiences and support educators and students. These technologies enable real-time monitoring of student progress, provide personalized learning insights and facilitate interactive lessons. By integrating wearable devices with educational platforms, teachers can access valuable data to adapt their teaching methods to individual needs while students can benefit from engaging learning opportunities. As the education sector embraces these advancements, wearable and smart technologies have the potential to create more inclusive, adaptive and efficient teaching environments, ultimately improving learning outcomes and accessibility. Wearable Devices and Smart Technology for Educational Teaching Assistance discusses how to create a sustainable education system for the future generation and how to make the necessary changes. To design a curriculum that is sustainable, it examines innovative teaching methods, the integration of technology and the importance of sustainability when it comes to curricula. This book covers topics such as education technology, security devices and teacher training and is a useful resource for educators, engineers, security professionals, healthcare workers, scientists, academicians and researchers.

Teaching, Including, and Supporting College Students with Intellectual Disabilities Kelly R. Kelley, David L. Westling, 2019-05-29 Teaching, Including and Supporting College Students with Intellectual Disabilities provides higher education professionals and proponents of post-secondary education programs for students with intellectual disabilities (ID) with a comprehensive guide to developing new programs and inclusive practices for college students with ID. Drawing on their own extensive experience with inclusive college programs, the authors outline lessons learned and offer helpful advice for developing, organizing and implementing such programs. Covering topics from operating key program elements such as career training and preparing for post-program success to working with families and addressing safety issues, this book is both a practical resource and a springboard for generating innovative ideas to expand inclusive learning and living opportunities for individuals with ID. This valuable resource provides a research-based overview of the key elements that any higher education professional or advocate should know when supporting students with and without disabilities.
