Charles Urban Luke McKernan,2015-03-15 Based on original research from Charles Urban s own papers this is the first biography of this influential film maker and innovator It is also a historical study of the development of the non fiction film in Britain and America in the early years of cinema told through the experiences of the leading pioneer of the form Charles Urban was a renowned figure in his time and he has remained a name in film history chiefly for his development of Kinemacolor the world's first successful natural colour moving picture system He was also a pioneer in the filming of war science travel actuality and news a fervent advocate of the value of film as an educative force and a controversial but important innovator of film propaganda in wartime The book uses Urban's story as a means of showing how the non fiction film developed in the period 1897-1925 and the dilemmas that it faced within a cinema culture in which the entertainment fiction film was dominant Urban's solutions some successful some less so illustrate the groundwork that led to the development of documentary film The book considers the roles of film as informer educator and generator of propaganda and the social and aesthetic function of colour in the years when cinema was still working out what it was capable of and how best to reach audiences Luke McKernan also curates a web resource on Charles Urban at www.charlesurban.com Winner of the Kraszna Krausz Moving Image Book Award 2014

Building New Bridges - Bâtir de nouveaux ponts Jeff Keshen, Sylvie Perrier, 2005-06-30 Questions of methodology and the use of sources are fundamental to all academic disciplines In recent years this topic has become far more challenging as scholars are increasingly adopting an interdisciplinary approach to achieve richer and deeper analyses particularly in the humanities and social sciences Building New Bridges Bâtir de nouveaux ponts is a collection of scholarly papers that deals with the first principles of source identification and their effective utilization The contributors to the volume come from a wide range of disciplines and represent both French and English Canada Together they explore and encourage the interdisciplinarity trend around which considerable academic trepidation remains and seek to explain for example how historians and those in English or French analyze texts how scholars approach paintings photography and film and how the study of music relates tempo and lyrics to wider societal trends They utilize their respective research to elucidate means of effectively employing evidences and methods to achieve richer deeper and more nuanced results As a whole the collection provides an excellent primer for scholars of methodology Published in English

Silent Cinema Paolo Cherchi Usai, 2019-04-04 Paolo Cherchi Usai provides a comprehensive introduction to the study research and preservation of silent cinema from its heyday in the early 20th century to its present day flourishing He traces the history of the moving image in its formative years from Edison's and Lumière's first experiments to the dawn of talkies provides a clear guide to the basics of silent film technology introduces the technical and creative roles involved in its production and presents silent cinema as a performance event rather than a passive viewing experience This new greatly expanded edition takes the reader on a new journey exploring silent cinema in the broader context of technology culture and society from the invention of celluloid film and its related machinery to film studios laboratories theatres and audiences Among the people involved in the creation of a new art form were filmmakers actors and writers but also engineers entrepreneurs and projectionists Their collective efforts and the struggle to preserve their creative work by archives and museums are interwoven in a compelling story covering three centuries of media history from the magic lantern to the reinvention of silent cinema in digital form The new edition also includes comprehensive resource information for the study research preservation and exhibition of silent cinema Canadian Content Ryan Edwardson, 2008-05-24 A nation is given shape in large part through the cultural activities of its builders Historically nationalists have turned to the arts and media to articulate and institute a sense of unique national identity This was certainly true of Canada in the twentieth century Canadian Content explores ways in which nationhood was defined and pursued through cultural means in Canada throughout the last century As a framework for the study Ryan Edwardson distinguishes between three phases of Canadianization support for the arts and cultured mass media during the colony to nation transition the new nationalist empowerment of multi brow culture and the call for state intervention in the mid 1960s and 1970s and the cultural industrialism initiated by the federal government under Pierre Trudeau in 1968 Examining each phase in its turn Canadian Content looks at Canada as an ongoing postcolonial process of not one but a series of radically different nationhoods each with its own valued but tentative set of cultural criteria for orchestrating and implementing a Canadian national experience Considering the relationship between culture and national identity this study offers an idea of what it means to be Canadian and suggests just how adaptable problematic and ongoing the pursuit of nationhood can be

Profiles of Canada Kenneth G. Pryke, Walter C. Soderlund, 2003 This third edition of Profiles of Canada combines depth breadth sophistication and readability to offer the student a comprehensive introduction to Canadian society The editors have brought together contributions from a wide range of disciplines to create a fascinating overview of the various facets of Canadian life and culture The text includes aspects of the Canadian experience not usually found in introductory texts The inclusion of a short story by Alistair MacLeod for example is an innovative departure from the academic writing of the other chapters and provides the student of Canadian society with a sample of the finest in contemporary Canadian writing Editors Dr Kenneth Pryke and Dr Walter Soderlund have carried out a successful update of the earlier editions of this well respected text Aspects of Canada explored in this new edition include regionalism the North demography ethnicity culture and sport
