Extensions Re Figuring Feminist Criticism:

Refiguring Modernism: Postmodern feminist readings of Woolf, West, and Barnes Bonnie Kime Scott, 1995 an invaluable aid to the reconfiguration of literary modernism and of the history of the fiction of the first three decades of the twentieth century Novel her readings of texts are quite smart and eminently readable Tulsa Studies in Women's Literature a challenging and discerning study of the modernist period James Joyce Broadsheet note review of volume 1 only highly important and beautifully written constructing a contextually rich cultural history of Anglo American modernism It wears its meticulous erudition lightly synthesizing an enormous amount of research much of it original archival work Signs Through her thoughtful exploration of the lives and work of these three female modernists Scott shapes a new feminist literary history that successfully reconfigures modernism Woolf Studies Annual In this revisionary study of modernism Bonnie Kime Scott focuses on the literary and cultural contexts that shaped Virginia Woolf Rebecca West and Djuna Barnes Her reading is based upon fresh archival explorations combining postmodern with feminist theory Refiguring the Postmaternal Maria Fannin, Maud Perrier, 2018-10-16 This book explores the concept of the postmaternal as a response to changing cultural political and economic conditions for motherhood and responds to Julie Stephens contention that gender neutral feminism has led to a forgetting of the maternal within feminist memory In Confronting Postmaternal Thinking Feminism Memory Care 2011 Stephens identifies a significant cultural anxiety about care giving nurturing and human dependency she calls postmaternal thinking Stephens argues that maternal forms of care have been rejected in the public sphere and marginalised to the private domain through an elaborate process of cultural forgetting in turn contributing to the current dominance of a degendered form of feminism This book argues that refiguring postmaternalism requires opening up the maternal beyond the category of mothers and the nuclear family The chapters in this edited volume contribute to the field of maternal studies by investigating the connections between maternalism feminism and neoliberalism through diverse feminist theories cases and methodologies We challenge Stephens diagnosis of the forgetting of certain forms of maternal practices from feminism's history by highlighting the ongoing contested place of the maternal in feminist scholarship and activism for the last five decades We argue that the memorializing of the maternal in feminist scholarship needs to reflect its diverse legacies in the analyses of black feminism socialist feminism and ecofeminism in order to destabilise the association of the maternal with neoliberalism and the depoliticization of feminism This book was originally published as a special issue of Australian Feminist Studies Feminist Theatre Practice Elaine Aston, 1999 A practical guide to theatre making designed to take the reader through the stages of making feminist theatre Organised into three instructive parts Women in the Workshop Dramatic Texts Feminist Contexts Gender and Devising Projects Spiritual Interrogations Katherine Clay Bassard, 1999-01-18 The late eighteenth century witnessed an influx of black women to the slave trading ports of the American Northeast The formation of an early African American community bound together by shared experiences and spiritual values owed much to these women

s voices The significance of their writings would be profound for all African Americans sense of their own identity as a people Katherine Clay Bassard s book is the first detailed account of pre Emancipation writings from the period of 1760 to 1863 in light of a developing African American religious culture and emerging free black communities Her study which examines the relationship among race culture and community focuses on four women the poet Phillis Wheatley and poet and essayist Ann Plato both Congregationalists and the itinerant preacher Jarena Lee and Shaker eldress Rebecca Cox Jackson who with Lee had connections with African Methodism Together these women drew on what Bassard calls a spirituals matrix which transformed existing literary genres to accommodate the spiritual music and sacred rituals tied to the African diaspora Bassard s important illumination of these writers resurrects their path breaking work They were cocreators with all black women who followed of African American intellectual life Refiguring the Father Patricia Yaeger,Elizabeth Kowaleski-Wallace,1989 An exciting investigation of the ways literary and cultural texts have not only shaped the difficult terms of the daughter father relationship but also prescribed a role for fathers that is paradoxical and contradictory These 15 essays seek to enter into a new dialogue with both the tenets of patriarchy and with the initiating symbolic gestures of feminist discourse that have helped to maintain the father s voracious and hierarchical position in western culture The problem is not simply to change the focus of feminist inquiry from father as center to mother as center but to reinvent the discourse of the father to unsettle an oedipal dialectic that insists on revealing the father as the gaze as bodilessness or as the symbolic and to develop a new dialectic that refuses to describe the father function as if it were univocal and ahistorical

New Essays in Ecofeminist Literary Criticism Glynis Carr,2000 The present volume gathers new essays in ecofeminist literary criticism and theory that extend this critical trajectory for ecocriticism in the context of social eco feminist theory and practice BOOK JACKET Ideology and Form in Eighteenth-century Literature David H. Richter,1999 A dozen renowned scholars discuss each other's work and attempt to come to terms with the central theoretical issues about which the discipline disagrees Focusing primarily on Henry Fielding the essays employ and defend positions within feminism Marxism Bourdelian analysis queer theory and cultural studies along with a more theoretically savvy version of formalist criticism BOOK JACKET For a Ruthless Critique of All that Exists Robert T. Tally,2022-06-24 For a Ruthless Critique of All that Exists takes as its point of departure two profound and interrelated phenomena The first is the pervasive sense of what Mark Fisher had called capitalist realism in which to cite the famous expression variously attributed to Fredric Jameson and Slavoj Žižek it is easier to imagine the end of the world than the end of capitalism As Jameson in particular has noted perhaps this is due to some weakness in our imaginations and the attenuation of the imaginative function in cultural criticism has far reaching implications for the organization and reformation of institutions more generally This manifests itself as a waning of speculative or theoretical energy which in turn leads to a general capitulation to the tyranny of what is the actually existing state of affairs and the preemptive disavowal of alternative possibilities Connected to this is the second phenomenon the prevalent tendency in literary and cultural criticism over the past 30 or more years to eschew critical theory and even critique itself while championing approaches to cultural study that emphasize surface reading thin description ordinary language philosophy object oriented ontology and post critique Together these forms of anticritical and antitheoretical criticism have constituted a tendency that has in its various incarnations come to dominate the humanities and other areas of higher education in recent years The latter has served to reinforce the former and the result has been to align literary and cultural criticism with the broad based forces of neoliberalism whose influence has so deleteriously transformed not only higher education but the whole of society at large Robert T Tally Jr argues that in order to counter these trends and empower the imagination the time is ripe for a ruthless critique of all that exists to borrow a phrase from the young Marx This book is intended as a provocation at once a polemic and a call to action for cultural critics The African American Theatrical Body Soyica Diggs Colbert,2011-10-06 Presenting an innovative approach to performance studies and literary history Soyica Colbert argues for the centrality of black performance traditions to African American literature including preaching dancing blues and gospel and theatre itself showing how these performance traditions create the performative ground of African American literary texts Across a century of literary production using the physical space of the theatre and the discursive space of the page W E B Du Bois Zora Neale Hurston James Baldwin August Wilson and others deploy performances to re-situate black people in time and space The study examines African American plays past and present including A Raisin in the Sun Blues for Mister Charlie and Joe Turner's Come and Gone demonstrating how African American dramatists stage black performances in their plays as acts of recuperation and restoration creating sites that have the potential to repair the damage caused by slavery and its aftermath

Woolfian Boundaries Anna Burrells, Steve Ellis, 2023-12-15 Woolfian Boundaries explores Woolf's work from perspectives beyond the boundary of her own positions and attitudes taking her coolness toward the provinces and prejudice against the regional novel Letters 6381 as the starting point for considering her writing in the light of its own limits self-declared and otherwise Chapter topics range from Woolf's connections with the Birmingham School of novelists in the 1930s to her interests in environmentalism portraiture photography and the media and her endlessly fascinating relationship with the writings of her contemporaries and predecessors

Re-Covering Modernism David M Earle, 2016-03-03 In the first half of the twentieth century modernist works appeared not only in obscure little magazines and books published by tiny exclusive presses but also in literary reprint magazines of the 1920s tawdry pulp magazines of the 1930s and lurid paperbacks of the 1940s In his nuanced exploration of the publishing and marketing of modernist works David M Earle questions how and why modernist literature came to be viewed as the exclusive purview of a cultural elite given its availability in such popular forums As he examines sensational and popular manifestations of modernism as well as their reception by critics and readers

Earle provides a methodology for reconciling formerly separate or contradictory materialist cultural visual and modernist approaches to avant garde literature Central to Earle s innovative approach is his consideration of the physical aspects of the books and magazines covers dust wrappers illustrations cost which become texts in their own right Richly illustrated and accessibly written Earle s study shows that modernism emerged in a publishing ecosystem that was both richer and more complex than has been previously documented
