Red Earth and Pouring Rain Vikram Chandra, 2000 The gods of poetry and death descend on a house in India to vie for the soul of a wounded monkey A bargain is struck the monkey must tell a story and if he can keep his audience entertained he shall live The result is Red Earth and Pouring Rain Vikram Chandra's astonishing vibrant novel Interweaving tales of nineteenth century India with modern America it stands in the tradition of The Thousand and One Nights a work of vivid imagination and a celebration of the power of storytelling itself A dazzling first novel written with such originality and intensity as to be not merely drawing on myth but making it Sunday Times The Gothic, Postcolonialism and Otherness T. Khair, 2009-11-04 Starting with a re examination of the role of the colonial racial Other in mainstream Gothic colonial fiction this book goes on to engage with the problem of narrating the subaltern in the post colonial context It engages with the problems of representing difference in lucid conceptual terms with much attention to primary texts and highlights the strengths and weaknesses of colonial discourses as well as postcolonialist attempts to write back While providing rich readings of Conrad Kipling Melville Emily Brontë Erna Brodber Jean Rhys and others it offers new perspectives on Otherness difference and identity re examines the role of emotions in literature and suggests productive ways of engaging with contemporary global and postcolonial issues

Narratives Across Borders Manju Jaidka, 2016-04-26 This volume is centred around the idea that the aim of literature is to build bridges to bring people together and to highlight underlying similarities despite the apparent differences in world literatures As such the book focuses on the moral purpose of literature and its tendency to overcome divisive forces It supports the idea of cosmopolitanism a re working of the ancient Indian ideal of Vasudhaiva Kuttumbakam or the world is my home a concept close to the African notion of ubuntu which refers to an open society as against a small enclosed one and relates to the essence of being human and working for the benefit of a larger community The book uses examples from texts across geographical and cultural borders beginning with classics like the Indian epics the Panchatantra the Kathasaritsagar and the Arabian Nights before moving on to contemporary texts in the age of information technology Although these may originate against diverse backdrops they have a commonality that cannot be denied The stories we tell the tales we love to hear and repeat all share certain features which reach out across boundaries of time and space thus bridging the gap between people and places Living in today's globalized world there is a need to study literature in a broader perspective and to be aware that though stories may be rooted in a particular time and place they are still a part of the world heritage and comprise what is called world literature The book will be of particular interest to scholars studying the art of storytelling as well as the lay reader passionate about literature Writing India Anew Krishna Sen, Rituparna Roy, 2025-10-01 This groundbreaking study assesses the genre of Indian English fiction in the first decade of the twenty first century Some of the most prominent scholars in the field including Rimi B Chatterjee Bill Ashcroft and Shirley Chew explore a range of themes that extend from the re mapping of mythology and history to reassessing the globalised India of today Together they contend that the current body of work of Indian English literature is so varied and vibrant that it can no longer be dismissed as derivative or dispossessed Instead they regard this new corpus of writing to be a major aspect of contemporary Anglophone literature Ultimately the contributors contend that the current body of work in Indian English fiction is so varied and vibrant that it can no longer be dismissed as derivative or dispossessed or even as mere postcolonial writing back or compensatory national allegory Plenty Gay Bilson,2004 Gay Bilson s name is synonymous with the revolution in Australian cooking and restaurant life that began in the 1970s Her food is legendary as are her informed and passionate observations about food and culture Plenty is a rare feast for the mind and senses sharply personal memories and musings including the years at the Bon Gout Berowra Waters Inn and Bennelong restaurants in Sydney perceptive portraits of eminent chefs and food writers and throughout a sustained reflection on the significance of preparing and sharing food Gay Bilson s writing is in turn cerebral and sensuous analytical and celebratory purposeful and playfully digressive This book like the best restaurants offers pleasure and nourishment in equal measure TŁS, the Times Literary Supplement ,1995 Brinkman's catalogus van boeken en tijdschriften ,2001 With 1901 1910 1956 1960 Repertorium is bound Brinkman s Titel catalogus van de gedurende 1901 1910 1956 1960 Title varies slightly
