Irish Literary Studies Series No 36 The Politics of 1930s British Literature Natasha Periyar, 2018-06-14 Winner of the 2018 International Standing Conference for the History of Education s First Book Award Drawing on a rich array of archival sources and historical detail The Politics of 1930s British Literature tells the story of a school minded decade and illuminates new readings of the politics and aesthetics of 1930s literature In a period of shifting political claims educational policy shaped writers social and gender ideals This book explores how a wide array of writers including Virginia Woolf W H Auden George Orwell Winifred Holtby and Graham Greene were informed by their pedagogic work It considers the ways in which education influenced writers analysis of literary style and their conception of future literary forms The Politics of 1930s British Literature argues that to those perennial symbols of the 1930s the loudspeaker and the gramophone should be added the textbook and the blackboard Twentieth-Century Irish Literature Aaron Kelly, 2008-06-02 This Guide surveys existing criticism and theory making clear the key critical debates themes and issues surrounding a wide variety of Irish poets playwrights and novelists It relates Irish literature to debates surrounding issues such as national identity modernity and the Revival period armed struggle gender sexuality and post colonialism The All-Sustaining Air Michael O'Neill, 2007-09-27 Drawn from Shelley s Prometheus Unbound the title of this book suggests the cultural and literary persistence of the Romantic in the work of many British American and Irish poets since 1900 Allowing for and celebrating the multiple even fractured nature of Romantic legacies Michael O Neill focuses on the creative impact of Romantic poetry on twentieth and twenty first century poetry Individual chapters embrace numerous authors and texts and span different cultures the intention is not the forlorn hope of completeness but the wish to open up possibilities and intersections and there is a strong sense throughout of poetry serving as a subtle and profound form of literary criticism A wide ranging introduction analyses the persistence of the Romantic in poets such as Ted Hughes Wilfred Owen Robert Frost Denise Levertov Robert Lowell and others and sets the scene for subsequent discussions Chapter 1 dwells on images of air using these to understand the efforts of a number of twentieth century poets to sustain Romanticism or forms of it Chapters 2 and 3 focus on Yeats and Eliot respectively the latter apparently shunning the Romantic the former seeming to embrace it but both responding with subtlety and individuality to the Romantic bequest Chapter 4 argues that Wallace Stevens's Esthétique du Mal should be read as a work that illuminates the writings of the major Romantics especially about evil and suffering Chapter 5 discusses the work of W H Auden and Stephen Spender exploring the complex response of both poets to the Romantic Auden complicated in his post Romantic attitudes Spender daring in his attempts to renew a Romantic lyricism in a post Romantic age Chapter 6 returns to a broader sweep as it investigates the response of a range of contemporary poets from Northern Ireland including Heaney Kavanagh Mahon and Carson to Romantic poetry Chapter 7 sustains the Irish connection discussing Paul Muldoon's dealings with Byron and other Romantics especially in Madoc And Chapter 8 focuses on Geoffrey Hill's tense and tensed relations with Romantic poetry and on Roy Fisher's sense of being a gutted Romantic in order to illustrate two diverse ways of being post Romantic in contemporary culture

Doubtful Sounds Bill Manhire,2000 Bill Manhire takes the books and poems he loves out of the pupil and lecture hall and returns them to their readers In these pages unlikely people rub shoulders Ralph Hotere and Philip Larkin Sylvia Plath and James K Baxter Maurice Gee and Laura Ranger Then along the way Manhire investigates why the world's best poems sound like dirty songs tell outrageous lies and thrive on their own mistakes These essays and interviews will not tell you what to think but they will probably inspire you to do your own thinking

Tongue of Water, Teeth of Stones Jonathan Hufstader,2021-12-14 In a 1984 lecture on poetry and political violence Seamus Heaney remarked that the idea of poetry was itself that higher ideal to which the poets had unconsciously turned in order to survive the demeaning conditions Jonathan Hufstader examines the work of Heaney and his contemporaries to discover how poems combining conscious technique with unconscious impulse work as aesthetic forms and as strategies for emotional survival In his powerful study Hufstader shows how a number of contemporary Northern Irish poets including Seamus Heaney Derek Mahon Michael Longley Paul Muldoon Tom Paulin Ciarán Carson and Medbh McGuckian explore the resources of language and poetic form in their various responses to cultural conflict and political violence Focusing on both style and social contexts Hufstader explores the tension between solidarity and art between the poet's need to belong and to rebel He believes that an understanding of the power of lyric points towards an understanding of the source of social violence and of its cessation

Poets and Partitions Jon Curley,2011 Offers a comprehensive analysis of Northern Irish poetry focusing on the colonial political and cultural underpinnings that have shaped artistic expression in a variety of ways This book also focuses on both the better known contemporary Northern Irish poets as well as their more obscure but no less significant counterparts

Writing Home Elmer Kennedy-Andrews,2008 The idea of place and of being displaced is a powerful leit motif in Northern Irish poetry It is here explored in depth from the 1960s to the present day Ideas of home place and identity have been continually questioned re imagined and re constructed in Northern Irish poetry

Concentrating on the period since the outbreak of the Troubles in the late 1960s this study provides a detailed consideration of the work of several generations of poets from Hewitt and MacNeice to Fiacca and Montague to Simmons Heaney Mahon and Longley to Muldoon Carson Paulin and McGuckian to McDonald Morrissey Gillis and Flynn It traces the extent to which their writing represents a move away from concepts of rootedness and towards a deterritorialized poetics of displacement mobility openness and pluralism in an era of accelerating migration and globalisation In the new readings of place inherited maps are no longer reliable and home is no longer the stable ground of identity but seems instead to be always where it is not The crossing of boundaries and the experience of diaspora open up new understandings of the relations between places a new sense of the permeability and contingency of cultures and new concepts of identity and home Professor ELMER KENNEDY ANDREWS teaches in the Department of English at the University of Ulster Poetry and Politics in the English Renaissance David Norbrook, 2002 This title establishes the radical currents of thought shaping Renaissance poetry civic humanism and apocalyptic Protestantism The author shows how Elizabethan poets like Sidney and Spenser often seen as conservative monarchists responded powerfully if sometimes ambivalently to radical ideas English Poetry Since 1940 Neil Corcoran, 2014-07-15 Neil Corcoran's book is a major survey and interpretation of modern British poetry since 1940 offering a wealth of insights into poets and their work and placing them in a broader context of poetic dialogue and cultural exchange The book is organised into five main parts beginning with a consideration of the late Modernism of T S Eliot and W H Auden and ranging decade by decade from the poetry of the Second World War and the New Romanticism of Dylan Thomas to the Movement the poetry of Northern Ireland the variety of contemporary women's poetry and the diversity of the contemporary scene The book will be especially useful for students as it includes detailed and lively readings of works by such poets as Ted Hughes Seamus Heaney and Philip Larkin The Cambridge Companion to British Poetry, 1945-2010 Edward Larrissy, 2016 This Companion brings together sixteen essays that explore the full diversity of British poetry since the Second World War Focusing on famous and neglected names alike from Dylan Thomas to John Agard leading scholars provide readers with insight into the ongoing importance and profundity of post war poetry Political Poetry as Discourse Angela M. Leonard, 2010-01-01 Political Poetry as Discourse examines the works of the political poets John Greenleaf Whittier and Ebenezer Elliott drawing comparisons to contemporary hip hoppers who take their words from local newspapers and other discursive sources that they read hear and observe Local presses and news vehicles stand as cultural material forms that supply poets with words particularly words that congeal into patterns of language allowing the creation of a poetic discourse As readers of these poets apply techniques and theories of discourse analysis they reveal how poets borrow lift hijack or resituate words from one or more different genres to use as tools of political change Leonard engages with the critical toolboxes of content analysis semiosis and deconstruction to demonstrate how to critically investigate and interrogate the images sounds and words not just of politically engaged poets but also of any disseminator of culture and

news Moving beyond theory into praxis this book becomes a model of its own transgressive premise by thinking analyzing writing and teaching against the grain Its focus on language as unbounded discourse makes this book a relevant and insightful demonstration in democratic pedagogy and in teaching for transformation Translation and Stylistic Variation Helen Gibson,2023-09-01 Translation and Stylistic Variation Dialect and Heteroglossia in Northern Irish Poetic Translation considers the ways in which translators use stylistic variation analysing the works of three Northern Irish poet translators to look at how in this variety the translation process becomes a creative act by which translators can explore their own linguistic and cultural heritage The volume offers a holistic portrait of the use of linguistic variety dialect and heteroglossia in the literary translations of Seamus Heaney Ciaran Carson and Tom Paulin shedding light on the translators choices but also readers experiences of them Drawing on work from cognitive stylistics Gibson reflects on how and why translators choose to add linguistic variety and how these choices can often be traced back to their socio cultural context The book not only extends existing scholarship on Irish English literary translation to examine issues unique to Northern Ireland but also raises broader questions about translation in locations where language choice is fraught and political The volume makes the case for giving increased consideration to the role of the individual translator both for insights into personal choices and a more nuanced understanding of contemporary literary translation practices in Ireland and beyond This book will be of interest to scholars working in translation studies literary studies and Irish studies For a video recording of the book s BCLT launch visit <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=857wTF8crUM> Lord Gnome's Literary Companion Francis Wheen,1994 His review has got to be in by mid day tomorrow at about 9 pm his mind will grow relatively clear and until the small hours he will sit skipping expertly through one book after another and laying each one down with the comment God what tripe Then suddenly he will snap into it All the stale old phrases a book that no one should miss something memorable on every page jump into their places like iron filings obeying the magnet Thus did George Orwell writing forty years ago in Confessions of a Book Reviewer describe the labours of a typical literary hack Precious little has changed over the intervening decades the servility of the satirical magazine Private Eye Lord Gnome s Literary Companion assembles in thematic order the best of these columns to present an astringent rude and funny survey of publishers and the published The Faber Book of Political Verse Edited by Tom Paulin Tom Paulin,1986
