OutWrite Julie R. Enszer, Elena Gross, 2022-03-18 Running from 1990 to 1999 the annual OutWrite conference played a pivotal role in shaping LGBTQ literary culture in the United States and its emerging canon OutWrite provided a space where literary lions who had made their reputations before the gay liberation movement like Edward Albee John Rechy and Samuel R Delany could mingle network and flirt with a new generation of emerging queer writers like Tony Kushner Alison Bechdel and Sarah Schulman This collection gives readers a taste of this fabulous moment in LGBTQ literary history with twenty seven of the most memorable speeches from the OutWrite conference including both keynote addresses and panel presentations These talks are drawn from a diverse array of contributors including Allen Ginsberg Judy Grahn Essex Hemphill Patrick Califia Dorothy Allison Allan Gurganus Chrystos John Preston Linda Villarosa Edmund White and many more OutWrite offers readers a front row seat to the passionate debates nascent identity politics and provocative ideas that helped animate queer intellectual and literary culture in the 1990s Covering everything from racial representation to sexual politics the still relevant topics in these talks are sure to strike a chord with today's readers The Politics of Transparency in Modern American Fiction Paula Martín Salván, Sascha Pöhlmann, 2024 A much needed contribution to and critique of debates in the newly emerging field of transparency studies from the perspective of American literary studies In the twenty first century transparency has become an ambiguous buzzword both in the public and the private realms e.g Wikileaks and the Snowden affair social media This volume takes its cue from the emerging field of transparency studies recent scholarly work in sociology political theory and cultural studies that identifies a hegemonic rhetoric of transparency in public and political life While scholars in this new field routinely gesture toward literature as the realm where secrecy may be productive they rarely engage with literature directly and literary studies itself remains notably absent from their debates This collection of essays seeks to redress that state of affairs by focusing on literary texts written in an American cultural tradition steeped in the interplay between transparency and exposure fear and secrecy security and surveillance and information and disinformation The essays draw on authors ranging from Whitman James and Ellison to Pynchon Morrison and Eggers to argue that American literature complicates theoretical assumptions about transparency made in other disciplines They question the field's strong theoretical emphasis on present day technopolitical practices and discourses as the location of hegemonic discourse on transparency and instead historicize such phenomena and extend them to discursive spheres that have so far been neglected such as issues of sexuality and race Edited by Paula Martín Salván and Sascha Pöhlmann Contributors Tomasz Basiuk Jesús Blanco Hidalgo Cristina Chevere San Julia Faisst Michel Feith Julián Jimenez Heffernan Tiina Kakkela Juan López de Luque Umberto Rossi Jelena Sesnić Toon Staes Julia Straub Alice Sundman

On Sexuality and Power Alan Sinfield, 2004. It is widely supposed that the most suitable partner will be someone very much like oneself. Gay fiction and cinema are often organized around this assumption. Nonetheless, power differentials are remarkably persistent as well as sexy. What are the personal and political implications of this insight? Sinfield argues that hierarchies in interpersonal relations are continuous with the main power differentials of our social and political life: gender, class, age, and race. Therefore, it is not surprising that they govern our psychic lives. Recent writing enables an exploration of their positive potential, especially in fantasy, as well as their danger. On Sexuality and Power focuses on the writing of the last thirty years, revisiting also Whitman, Wilde, Mann, Forster, and Genet, and reassessing the very idea of a gay canon.

Mr Isherwood Changes Trains Victor Marsh, 2021-01-01. British expatriate writer Christopher Isherwood (1904-1986) moved to America prior to the Second World War and lived more than half his life in California, writing for the Hollywood studios. Famous initially for the stories he wrote during the rise of the Nazis, he attracted a second wave of interest in the 1970s with his autobiography Christopher and His Kind (1976). But much less is known about Isherwood's writing during his forty years as a student of a guru from the Ramakrishna Order. In Mr Isherwood Changes Trains, Victor Marsh interrogates the assumptions and prejudices that have combined to disparage the sincerity of Isherwood's religious life. Marsh elucidates those features of Vedanta philosophy that enabled Isherwood to integrate the various aspects of his dharma: his vocation as a writer and a spirituality not predicated on the repudiation of his sexuality. Marsh details the heartfelt search for a home self that found expression in later works such as My Guru and his disciple, and in what is seen as Isherwood's finest novel, A Single Man (1964).
