Afropolitan Literature as World Literature James Hodapp, 2020-01-23 African literature has never been more visible than it is today Whereas Chinua Achebe Wole Soyinka and Ngugi wa Thiong'o defined a golden generation of African writers in the 20th century a new generation of Afropolitan writers including Chimamanda Adichie Teju Cole Taiye Selasi and NoViolet Bulawayo have taken the world by storm by snatching up prestigious awards and selling millions of copies of their works But what is the new increasingly fashionable and marketable Afropolitan vision of Africa's place in the world that they offer How does it differ from that of previous generations Why do some dissent Afropolitanism refuses to reinforce images of Africa in world media as merely poor war torn diseased and constantly falling into chaos By complicating the image of Africa as a hapless victim Afropolitanism focuses on the wide ranging influence Africa has on the world However some have characterized this kind of writing as light populist fare that panders to Western audiences Afropolitan Literature as World Literature examines the controversy surrounding Afropolitan literature in light of the unprecedented circulation of culture made possible by globalization and ultimately argues for expanding its geographic and temporal boundaries

Worldly Spirits, Extra-Human Dimensions, and the Global Anglophone Novel Hilary Thompson,2023-12-28 Engaging a diverse range of contemporary anglophone literature from authors of the Asian Middle Eastern and Caribbean diasporas this book explores how such works turn to spirit forces spirit realms and spirit beings were animals mystical birds and snake goddesses as positive forces that assert perceptual dimensions beyond those of the human and present a vision of Earth as agentive and animate With previous scholarship downplaying these aspects of modern works as uncanny hauntings or symptoms of capitalism's or anthropocentrism's destructiveness or within a blanket rubric of magical realism Hilary Thompson rejects this partitioning of them as products of an exotic East or global South By contrast this book builds a new critical framework for analysis of worldly spirits drawing on anthropological discussions of animism the newly recovered 1930s boundary crossing art movement Dimensionism and multispecies theories of animals diverse perceptual worlds Taking stock of novels published from 2018-2020 by such writers as Amitav Ghosh Andr Alexis Yangsze Choo Azareen Van der Vliet Oloomi Zeyn Joukhadar and Tanya Tagaq Thompson illuminates how these works extend an ecological call to decentre the human and align with multidimensional theories of art and literature to provide ways to read for rather than reduce the extra human dimensions emerging in contemporary fiction A refreshing rejection of ecological apocalypticism this book unsettles typical conceptualizations of both anglophone and Anthropocene literatures by invoking European art theory philosophy and non Western ideas on animism and spirits to put forward perceptions of the extra human as a form of dealing with the many uncertainties of today's different crises

World Literature as Discovery Zhang Longxi, 2023-09-15 The rise of world literature is the most noticeable phenomenon in literary studies in the twenty first century However truly well known and globally circulating works are all canonical works of European or Western literature while non European and even minor European literatures remain largely unknown beyond their culture of origin World Literature as Discovery Expanding the World Literary Canon argues that world literature for our time must go beyond Eurocentrism and expand the canon to include great works from non European and minor European literatures As much of the world's literature remains untranslated and unknown the expansion will be an exciting process of discovery By discussing fundamental questions around canon circulation aesthetic values translation cosmopolitanism and the literary universal Zhang Longxi proposes a new and liberating concept of world literature that will shape world literature worthy of its name This book speaks for a more inclusive idea of world literature and shows students and scholars alike that all the literary traditions particularly non European traditions will be able to make important contributions and expand the canon of world literature Raymond Williams at 100 Paul Stasi,2021-04-07

Raymond Williams was by common consent one of the two most commanding intellectual figures in the New Left that emerged in Britain at the turn of the sixties the other being Edward Thompson Williams published in 1961 a text entitled The Future of Marxism In that essay Williams has some remarkable things to say about imperialism the successes of actually existing socialism balanced against its failures and the continued relevance of socialism as the horizon of human liberation He also makes a characteristic methodological point the relation between systems of thought and actual history is both complex and surprising The future of Marxism that is to say will not depend on dogma but will instead rest on historical developments on how well are able to actualize Marx s ideals in our own unique conjuncture This volume takes up the challenge of reading and extending Williams s thought in light of the actual history that has occurred since his passing but with the same ideal of socialism as its guiding horizon If there is one thread visible throughout all of Williams s work it is the felt presence of a living thinking individual of a person continually testing ideas in experience in order to see whether they fit the world they are meant to describe The aim of this volume timed to coincide with what would have been Williams s 100th birthday is to test his ideas in our own experience and to engage Williams s work in ways that move past the familiar terrain that has grown around it We now know that experience is a dangerous category that community can be hijacked by the right as much as the left and that tradition contains as much conflict as commonality Those committed to Williams s work can easily find textual arguments or developments across his career to answer these charges and they have What our volume offers is a set of arguments by younger scholars influenced by Williams s writings that moves past some of these debates extending Williams s work into the 21st century testing and weighing his ideas in light of recent developments and contemporary intellectual culture In doing so we treat Williams s thought as one of those resources of hope which he famously suggested would sustain us At a time of deepening inequality and austerity and growing rightward reaction and yet simultaneously and with seeming dialectical necessity a renewed investment in socialism Williams might be exactly the kind of figure we need Existential narratives: Increasing psychological wellbeing through story Enny Das,2023-02-08

The African Heritage of Latinx and Caribbean Literature Sarah Quesada,2022-08-04 Interweaving the influential voices of African Caribbean and Latinx authors this book challenges eurocentric notions of World Literature Life Writing as World Literature Helga Lenart-Cheng,Ioana Luca,2025-05-01 A global array of contributors explore the interplay between translation and circulation mediums and materialities and aesthetics and politics in how life writing is shaped by and becomes world literature We live in the age of popular self representation in that most people around the globe either produce or consume autobiographical material memoirs selfies blogs etc The current volume investigates this global phenomenon and examines how life writing and world literature converge Why do some personal stories get picked up translated circulated and taught in classrooms while others remain moored in local waters Do autobiographical stories that travel widely have something in common about them Or is it the other way around is it our notion of world literature that imposes uniform expectations on these diverse texts And what can we gain from studying these two fields in conjunction Life Writing as World Literature brings together experts who map regional and local autobiographical traditions from six continents These scholars explore the dynamic interplay between local and global aesthetics and sociopolitical concerns presenting case studies that include prison narratives from communist regimes Japanese diaries multilingual Caribbean memoirs Indian auto biographical comics and stories by Taiwanese domestic workers To understand how and why some personal stories enter global dissemination contributors inquire into translation market mechanisms and circulation patterns while also exploring the affordances of new media and materialities when recording contemporary lives Life Writing as World Literature brings a fresh perspective to both fields world literature and life writing opening up exciting avenues of research
