Janowski,Fiona Kerlogue,2007 There has been a growing acceptance that food has an important role in establishing and structuring social and kin relations in South East Asian societies This study looks at a wide variety of groups in the region and demonstrates that within all of them the feeding relationship is fundamental to the establishment and the nature of relations within generations and between generations Presenting material from ten societies in the region the papers included in this volume argue that the feeding of foods drink and meals based on the focal starch crop grown by these agricultural groups rice in eight of the groups covered here sago in one and cassava in one is used to manipulate biological kinship and to construct a kinship particular to humans which is nevertheless founded in a natural process the flow of life blessings and potency between generations The Encoded Cirebon Mask Laurie Margot Ross,2016-08-29 In The Encoded Cirebon Mask Materiality Flow and Meaning along Java s Islamic Northwest Coast Laurie Margot Ross situates masks and masked dancing in the Cirebon region of Java Indonesia as an original expression of Islam This is a different view from that of many scholars who argue that canonical prohibitions on fashioning idols and imagery prove that masks are mere relics of indigenous beliefs that Muslim travelers could not eradicate Making use of archives oral histories and the performing objects themselves Ross traces the mask s trajectory from a popular entertainment in Cirebon once a portal of global exchange to a stimulus for establishing a deeper connection to God in late colonial Java and eventual links to nationalism in post independence Indonesia Fashion History Linda Welters,Abby Lillethun,2018-02-08 Fashion History A Global View
