and the new in combination often suggesting what this means in the age of Trump Contemporary Photography and Theory Sally Miller, 2019-11-14 Exploring contemporary theory and practice in photography this textbook moves beyond introductory studies to cover more advanced concepts for the upper level student Building on a foundational understanding of photography it addresses recent theoretical debates and more complex ideas to enable students to acquire the tools and confidence to develop the independent thinking and analytical skills needed for this level of study Contemporary Photography and Theory analyses five key topics identity place the politics of looking psychoanalysis and the event Its conceptual approach encourages students to apply theoretical texts to a range of issues and themes both in their own work and that of others Each topic is broken down into three chapters to address the central concept in detail supported by the following features Troubleshooting footnotes to flag up and clarify common misunderstandings Detailed case studies to show how theoretical concepts can be applied to artists work Further examples and reading suggestions from an international range of photographers and thinkers The chapters are designed to be a suitable length for assigned weekly readings making this the ideal resource for in class discussion as well as the perfect starting place for dissertation research Authenticity Patrick Finney, 2020-04-28 The pursuit of authenticity is a contemporary obsession From hipster fixations on artisan coffee and vintage clothing through to the electoral success of supposedly unspun populist politicians like Donald Trump a yearning for the real pervades our culture Yet while highly prized and desired authenticity is also profoundly elusive and contested This volume stages a wide ranging interdisciplinary interrogation of the concept with case studies ranging from collective memory of the Second World War through the historical fiction of Sarah Waters to the confessional art of Tracey Emin With contributors drawn from memory studies cultural history English literature theatre studies and art criticism it explores how authenticity is in play in diverse practices of reading remembering and performing The chapters demonstrate that authenticity has no single stable definition but is rather invoked in very diverse ways both descriptively and prescriptively in many diverse contexts They also make clear that it is not an inherent quality but the product of orchestration performance and inter subjective negotiation This book was originally published as a special issue of Rethinking History The Routledge Companion to Critical and Cultural Theory Paul Wake, Simon Malpas, 2013-06-19 Now in a fully updated second edition The Routledge Companion to Critical and Cultural Theory is an indispensable guide for anyone approaching the field for the first time Exploring ideas from a diverse range of disciplines through a series of 11 critical essays and a dictionary of key names and terms this book examines some of the most complex and fundamental theories in modern scholarship including Marxism Trauma Theory Ecocriticism Psychoanalysis Feminism Posthumanism Gender and Queer Theory Structuralism Narrative Postcolonialism Deconstruction Postmodernism With three new essays an updated introduction further reading and a wealth of new dictionary entries this text is an indispensable guide for all students of the theoretically informed arts humanities and social sciences Performing Feeling in Cultures of Memory B.

Treize,2014-06-27 Performing Feeling in Cultures of Memory brings memory studies into conversation with a focus on feelings as cultural actors It charts a series of memory sites that range from canonical museums and memorials to practices enabled by the virtual terrain of Second Life popular trauma TV programs and radical theatre practice Performing European Memories

Milija Gluhovic,2013-04-23 Asking whether a genuinely shared European memory is possible while addressing the dangers of a single homogenized European memory Gluhovic examines the contradictions specificities continuities and discontinuities in the European shared and unshared pasts as represented in the works of Pinter Tadeusz Kantor Heiner Muller and Artur Zmijewski Remembering the Second World War Patrick Finney,2017-07-14

Remembering the Second World War brings together an international and interdisciplinary cast of leading scholars to explore the remembrance of this conflict on a global scale Conceptually it is premised on the need to challenge nation centric approaches in memory studies drawing strength from recent transcultural affective and multidirectional turns Divided into four thematic parts this book largely focuses on the post Cold War period which has seen a notable upsurge in commemorative activity relating to the Second World War and significant qualitative changes in its character The first part explores the enduring utility and the limitations of the national frame in France Germany and China The second explores transnational transactions in remembrance looking at memories of the British Empire at war contested memories in East Central Europe and the transnational campaign on behalf of Japan s former comfort women A third section considers local and sectional memories of the war and the fourth analyses innovative practices of memory including re enactment video gaming and Holocaust tourism Offering insightful contributions on intriguing topics and illuminating the current state of the art in this growing field this book will be essential reading for all students and scholars of the history and memory of the Second World War Interrogating Trauma Mick Broderick,Antonio Traverso,2013-09-27

Throughout the past century traumatic experiences have been re enacted frequently by evolving media and art forms Now there is a significant body of theory across academic disciplines focused on the representation of cataclysmic European and US historical events However less critical attention has been devoted to the representation of havoc outside the West even though depictions of Third World disasters saturate contemporary media and art around the globe This book considers traumatic histories internationally in a broad range of creative arts and visual media representations Deploying diverse applications of the conventional theories of trauma it examines the theoretical limitations at the same time as considering alternative methodologies Interrogating Trauma is concerned with the examination of the concept of trauma and how it is often unproblematically used to theorise the cultural representation of disaster and atrocity It offers a theorisation of trauma in order to reappraise the relationship between cultural representation and the socio historical processes which are marked by violence conflict and suffering This book was published as a special issue of Continuum Journal of Media and Cultural Studies

explore the interconnected issues of intergenerational trauma and traumatic memory in societies with a history of collective violence across the globe Each chapter s discussion offers a critical reflection on historical trauma and its repercussions and how memory can be used as a basis for dialogue and transformation The perspectives include among others the healing journey of three generations of a family of Holocaust survivors and their dialogue with third generation German students over time traumatic memories of the British concentration camps in South Africa reparations and reconciliation in the context of the historical trauma of Aboriginal Australians and the use of the arts as a strategy of dialogue and transformation

History and Its Limits Dominick LaCapra, 2011-02-23 Dominick LaCapra s History and Its Limits articulates the relations among intellectual history cultural history and critical theory examining the recent rise of Practice Theory and probing the limitations of prevalent forms of humanism LaCapra focuses on the problem of understanding extreme cases specifically events and experiences involving violence and victimization He asks how historians treat and are simultaneously implicated in the traumatic processes they attempt to represent In addressing these questions he also investigates violence s impact on various types of writing and establishes a distinctive role for critical theory in the face of an insufficiently discriminating aesthetic of the sublime often unreflectively amalgamated with the uncanny In History and Its Limits LaCapra inquires into the related phenomenon of a turn to the postsecular even the messianic or the miraculous in recent theoretical discussions of extreme events by such prominent figures as Giorgio Agamben Eric L Santner and Slavoj Žižek In a related vein he discusses Martin Heidegger s evocative if not enchanting understanding of The Origin of the Work of Art LaCapra subjects to critical scrutiny the sometimes internally divided way in which violence has been valorized in sacrificial regenerative or redemptive terms by a series of important modern intellectuals on both the far right and the far left including Georges Sorel the early Walter Benjamin Georges Bataille Frantz Fanon and Ernst Jünger Violence and victimization are prominent in the relation between the human and the animal LaCapra questions prevalent anthropocentrism evident even in theorists of the posthuman and the long standing quest for a decisive criterion separating or dividing the human from the animal LaCapra regards this attempt to fix the difference as misguided and potentially dangerous because it renders insufficiently problematic the manner in which humans treat other animals and interact with the environment In raising the issue of desirable transformations in modernity History and Its Limits examines the legitimacy of normative limits necessary for life in common and explores the disconcerting role of transgressive initiatives beyond limits including limits blocking the recognition that humans are themselves animals

Popular Trauma Culture Anne Rothe, 2011-09-15 In Popular Trauma Culture Anne Rothe argues that American Holocaust discourse has a particular plot structure characterized by a melodramatic conflict between good and evil and embodied in the core characters of victim survivor and perpetrator and that it provides the paradigm for representing personal experiences of pain and suffering in the mass media The book begins with an analysis of Holocaust clichés including its political appropriation the notion of vicarious victimhood the so called victim talk rhetoric and the infusion of the composite survivor figure with Social Darwinism Readers then explore the embodiment of popular trauma culture in two core mass media genres daytime TV talk shows and misery memoirs Rothe conveys how victimhood and suffering are cast as trauma kitsch on talk shows like Oprah and as trauma camp on modern day freak shows like Springer The discussion also encompasses the first scholarly analysis of misery memoirs the popular literary genre that has been widely critiqued in journalism as pornographic depictions of extreme violence Currently considered the largest growth sector in book publishing worldwide many of these works are also fabricated And since forgeries reflect the cultural entities that are most revered the book concludes with an examination of fake misery memoirs Magical American Jew

Aaron Tillman,2017-11-15 Efforts to describe contemporary Jewish American identities often reveal more questions than concrete articulations more statements about what Jewish Americans are not than what they are Highlighting the paradoxical phrasings that surface in contemporary writings about Jewish American literature and culture language that speaks to the elusive difference felt by many Jewish Americans Aaron Tillman asks how we portray identities and differences that seem to resist concrete definition Over the course of Magical American Jew Tillman examines this enigma the indefinite yet undeniable difference that informs contemporary Jewish American identity demonstrating how certain writers and filmmakers have deployed magical realist techniques to illustrate the enigmatic difference that Jewish Americans have felt and continue to feel Similar to the indeterminate nature of Jewish American identity magical realism is marked by paradox and does not fit easily into any singular category Often characterized as a mode of literary expression rather than a genre within literature magical realism has been the subject of debates about definition origin and application After elucidating the features of the mode Tillman illustrates how it enables uniquely cogent portrayals of enigmatic elements of difference Concentrating on a diverse selection of Jewish American short fiction and film including works by Woody Allen Sarah Silverman Cynthia Ozick Nathan Englander Steve Stern and Melvin Jules Bukiet Magical American Jew covers a range of subjects from archiving Holocaust testimony to satirical Jewish American humor Shedding light on aspects of media marginalization excess and many other facets of contemporary American society the study concludes by addressing the ways that the magical realist mode has been and can be used to examine U S ethnic literatures more broadly Recovery and Transgression

Kornelia Freitag,2015-09-04 There is no poetry without memory Recovery and Transgression Memory in American Poetry is devoted to the ways in which poetic texts shape and are shaped by personal collective and cultural memory It looks at the manifold and often transgressive techniques through which the past is recovered and repurposed in poetry T S Eliot s The Waste Land Susan Howe s THIS THAT Lyn Hejinian s Writing Is an Aid to Memory John Tranter s The Anaglyph Amiri Baraka s Somebody Blew Up America and Amy Clampitt s Nothing Stays Put are only some of the texts discussed in this volume by a group of international poetry experts They specifically focus on the effects of the cultural interaction mixture translation and hybridization of memory of in and mediated by poetry Poetic memory as becomes strikingly clear may be founded on the past but has everything to do with the cultural present of poets and readers and with their hopes and fears for the future
