

A note from your teacher

As the school year comes to an end,
It's time to say goodbye, my friends.
We've learned and laughed, we've grown so much,
With every story, every touch.
Remember all the fun we had,
In every lesson, good and bad.
The games we played, the songs we sang,
The times we whispered, the times we rang.
You've made me proud in every way,
With each new challenge, day by day.
So take your dreams and let them soar,
With confidence, forevermore.
Though we must part, we'll meet again,
In memories that never end.
Farewell, my stars, shine bright and true,
The world awaits the magic you do.

Have a great summer!

Commissioner of Public Schools, 1864      English as a Language of Teaching and Learning for Community Secondary Schools in Tanzania Elia Shabani Mligo, Mikael Mwashilindi, 2017-08-07 This book examines the challenges posed by English a foreign language as a language of teaching and learning for community secondary schools in Tanzania in terms of academic performance The book probes the necessity for having two languages of instruction in the Tanzanian educational system While Kiswahili the native language is predominantly understood by the majority of people the discussion in this book indicates that most students in community secondary schools in Tanzania are incompetent in understanding writing listening reading and speaking English a language they use in learning and doing their examinations especially in the early stages of their secondary studies The incompetence in the above mentioned skills is mostly caused by their inability to cope with the abrupt transition in the languages of instruction from their pre primary and primary school study Kiswahili to secondary school study English Moreover most teachers are unable to use the English language as a means to impart knowledge or facilitate learning to their students leading them to code switching and code mixing This book poses a challenge to countries whose students pass through a transition from one language of instruction to another in their educational systems helping them to make appropriate decisions in regard to the appropriate language of teaching and learning      The Little Book of Restorative Discipline for Schools Lorraine Stutzman Amstutz, 2015-01-27 Can community building begin in a classroom The authors of this book believe that by applying restorative justice at school we can build a healthier and more just society With practical applications and models Can an overworked teacher possibly turn an unruly incident with students into an opportunity for learning growth and community building If restorative justice has been able to salvage lives within the world of criminal behavior why shouldn't its principles be applied in school classrooms and cafeterias And if our children learn restorative practices early and daily won't we be building a healthier more just society Two educators answer yes yes and yes in this new addition to The Little Books of Justice and Peacebuilding series Amstutz and Mullet offer applications and models Discipline that restores is a process to make things as right as possible This Little Book shows how to get there      FCC Record United States.
