Irish Economist (The), 1918 Observing Agriculture in Early Twentieth-Century Italy Federico D'Onofrio, 2016-05-20 Agricultural Economists in Early Twentieth Century Italy describes how Italian agricultural economists collected information about the economy of Italy between the Giolittian and the Fascist era The book carefully describes three main forms of economic observation enquiries statistics and farm surveys For each of these forms of observation the main participants to the investigation are discussed with their respective agendas alongside the purposes of the investigation and its practical constraints This work introduces the concept of stakeholder statistics and stresses the two way relation between the observer and the observed in the co production of observational knowledge Practices of observation developed together with agricultural economics as a discipline and a profession The study of forms of investigation therefore shed light on the constitution of a coherent and self conscious group of agricultural economists in Italy and the scientific and methodological alliances they forged with agricultural economists elsewhere in Europe Thanks to ambitious research projects Ghino Valenti in the Giolittian period and Arrigo Serpieri after the First World War led the transformation of Italian agricultural economists from agents of estate owners to social and economic experts in the service of the Italian state The group of agricultural economists who gathered around Serpieri played an important role in supplying the ideology of the agricultural elites with economic content especially after the First World War along lines that resemble the development of agrarian ideologies in other countries of Central Europe This work discusses how observation entered the political debate on agricultural policies of the Fascist regime namely the so called Ruralismo

Women and Farming S. Shortall, 1999-06-30 Arguing that property and power are central to understanding the position of women in farming and using comparative examples this book considers the transfer of land between men the changed role of women in the dairy industry in the nineteenth century women in farming organisations women in agricultural education programmes and the role of the state in shaping the lives of farm women The common themes of power and property underpin all the chapters

Agrarian Reform and Resistance in an Age of Globalisation Joe Regan, Cathal Smith, 2018-12-07 This book investigates the causes and effects of modernisation in rural regions of Britain and Ireland continental Europe the Americas and Australasia between 1780 and 1914 In this period the transformation of the world economy associated with the Industrial Revolution fuelled dramatic changes in the international countryside as landowning elites agricultural workers and states adapted to the consequences of globalisation in a variety of ways The chapters in this volume illustrate similarities differences and connections between the resulting manifestations of agrarian reform and resistance that spread throughout the Euro American world and beyond during the long nineteenth century

Science, politics and society in early nineteenth-century Ireland Allan Blackstock, 2016-05-16 This book examines the pivotal period immediately after the Irish Union from the unique perspective of the Reverend William Richardson 1740 1820 A clerical polymath Richardson s activities ranged from Ulster politics to international scientific debates His private correspondence adds to our knowledge of central Ulster before and during the 1798 rebellion and provides insights into the tensions between Irish provincial science and the metropolitan scientific world The book is based on extensive primary research including material new to Irish historiography and follows the political and scientific themes of Richardson s career in a broadly chronological sweep assessing the role of various shaping features including religion politics personality and Enlightenment ideology and analysing each theme in terms of its broad contemporary historical significance This book will appeal to students and academics with an interest in the period or politics religion or science

Bibliography of Agriculture, 1990

Church, state and social science in Ireland Peter Murray, Maria Feeney, 2016-11-18 The immense power the Catholic Church once wielded in Ireland has considerably diminished over the last fifty years During the same period the Irish state has pursued new economic and social development goals by wooing foreign investors and throwing the state s lot in with an ever widening European integration project How a less powerful church and a more assertive state related to one another during the key third quarter of the twentieth century is the subject of this book Drawing on newly available material it looks at how social science which had been a church monopoly was taken over and bent to new purposes by politicians and civil servants This case study casts new light on wider processes of change and the story features a strong and somewhat surprising cast of characters ranging from Sean Lemass and T K Whitaker to Archbishop John Charles McQuaid and Father Denis Fahey

Ireland in the New Century Sir Horace Curzon Plunkett, 1905

Imagined Differences Günther Schlee, 2002 This book addresses key concepts of modern anthropology like difference and identity in the light of ethnographic evidence from various local settings stretching from Morocco to Indonesia As the antagonistic and destructive aspects of social identification are also discussed the book is a contribution to conflict theory it provides elements of orientation in a world marked by a proliferation of ethnic movements and of nationalisms which become more narrow and more aggressive

The Irish Monthly, 1917

Cattle in Ancient and Modern Ireland Fergus Kelly, James H. McAdam, Michael O'Connell, 2016-04-26 Cattle have been the mainstay of Irish farming since the Neolithic began in Ireland almost 6000 years ago Cattle and especially cows have been important in the life experiences of most Irish people directly and or through legends such as the T in B Cuailnge The Cattle raid of Cooley In this book diverse aspects of cattle in Ireland from the circumstances of their first introduction to recent and ongoing developments in the management of grasslands still the main food source for cattle in Ireland are explored in thirteen essays written by experts New information is presented and several aspects relating to cattle husbandry and the interactions of cattle and people that have hitherto received little or no attention are discussed
