Farmers And Soil Conservation In The Caribbean:

Farmers and Soil Conservation in the Caribbean F. A. Gumbs, 1994 This volume complements a report published by Commonwealth Secretariat in 1992 entitled Integrating Soil Conservation into Farming Systems in the Commonwealth Caribbean Other reports published by the Commonwealth Secretariat deal with issues of interest to Commonwealth countries in the natural resources field and cover topics in forestry fisheries livestock and various aspects of agriculture in all regions The research work for this study was assisted by a grant from the Overseas Development Administration ODA of the United Kingdom Farmers and Soil Conservation in the Caribbean ,1997 Economic and Institutional Analyses of Soil

Conservation Projects in Central America and the Caribbean Ernst Lutz, Stefano Pagiola, Carlos Reiche C., World Bank, 1994 The results of the case studies show that conservation is profitable in some cases but not in others Small

Farmers and the Protection of the Watersheds David T. Edwards, 1995 This study addresses problems common to many developing countries how can small farmers with limited resources be encouraged to conserve water and soil under difficult physical conditions in countries where public sector capacity and financial resources are also limited The Jamaican case is particularly interesting because natural conditions favour high rates of erosion and considerable efforts have been made over decades to conserve watersheds BIBLIO 2000: IICA Jamaica Library Database , Code of Federal Regulations

,1960 Federal Register ,1991-05-21 The Code of Federal Regulations of the United States of America ,1956 The Code of Federal Regulations is the codification of the general and permanent rules published in the Federal Register by the executive departments and agencies of the Federal Government Agriculture and the Environment Ernst

Lutz, 1998-01-01 Agriculture in developing countries has been remarkably productive during the last few decades however the production levels were achieved at the cost of placing more stress on natural resources and the environment This volume brings together state of the art applied practical research related to agriculture development and the environment in the developing world It attempts to distill current knowledge and to summarize it in readable form for development practitioners Where possible authors use specific examples to indicate which approaches have worked and which have not under which conditions and why Integrating Soil Conservation Into Farming Systems in the Commonwealth Caribbean F. A.

Gumbs, Commonwealth Secretariat. Food Production & Rural Development Division, 1992 Rural Poverty in Latin

America R. López, A. Valdés, 2000-09-28 This book provides fresh insight into rural poverty in Latin America It draws on six case studies of recent rural household surveys for Chile Colombia El Salvador Honduras Paraguay and Peru and several thematic studies examining land labour rural financial markets the environments and disadvantaged groups Recognizing the heterogeneity within the rural economy the studies characterize three important groups small farmers landless farm workers and rural non farm workers and provide quantitative and qualitative analyses of the determinants of household income

Coastal Ecosystems of the Tropics - Adaptive Management Velmurugan Ayyam, Swarnam Palanivel, Sivaperuman

Chandrakasan,2019-10-11 The coastal areas of the tropics are rich in biodiversity natural resources and place of intensive developmental activities as it provides livelihood to millions of people At the same time evidences suggest that several unique coastal ecosystems viz mangroves wetlands salt marshes corals estuaries sand dunes and agro ecosystem are vulnerable to natural disasters and events associated with global climate change In recent times degradation of land water and genetic erosion besides threat to native flora and fauna have been increasing due to unsustainable developmental activities Therefore a paradigm shift in deriving livelihood through conventional methods developmental strategies conservation practices are required for balanced and sustainable growth of the coastal areas This publication strives to cover the status of different natural resources of the coastal region various aspects of degradation process production need and restorative methods besides new technological options and its socio economic implications with case examples Special focus is given to bring out the scope and potential of mangrove based farming integrated and organic farming and its value addition besides the role of coastal vegetations as bioshield in protecting these regions from sea erosion cyclones and tsunami As the tropical coastal areas are vulnerable to climate change events this book also covers the recent weather pattern impacts of climate change and climate resilient technologies besides intuitional linkages and policy framework aimed at balancing development and environmental concerns Federal Activities in the Territories (Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and Virgin Islands) United States. Division of Territories and Island Possessions,1948 Agricultural and Farmer Cooperatives, 1979-April 1988

Patricia La Caille John,1988 El Salvador, Rural Development Study ,1998 Although El Salvador has recorded impressive overall economic growth in the 1990s during this period agricultural growth has lagged considerably below the rest of the economy which raises concerns about the long run capacity of the sector to raise incomes and employment in rural areas and contribute to overall growth The main objectives of this sector review are twofold to develop a strategy to revitalize the agricultural sector and realize its full potential for efficient and sustainable growth by enhancing competitiveness and to present the main findings of the analysis of rural poverty and develop its implications for the design of a strategy for poverty alleviation Bibliography of Agriculture ,1955 Who Owns Haiti? Robert Maguire,Scott Freeman,2017-11-07 Contributors illuminate the role of external actors in Haitian sovereign affairs over the course of the last decade concurrently discussing how Haitians reinforce their self determination on economic political and cultural levels Provided by publisher Bibliographic Guide to Maps and Atlases 1995 G K Hall Staff,G.
