Farmer Innovation In Africa:

Farmer Innovation in Africa Chris Reij, Ann Waters-Bayer, 2001 Based on fieldwork and involving farmers extension workers and researchers this is an edited volume of studies of how farmers successfully experiment and innovate to increase productivity often in adverse and resource poor conditions It covers a wide range of countries and varieties of farming and shows how successful and motivating an approach that builds on farmer innovation can be It confirms the resourcefulness of the farmers themselves and provides an alternative to the conventional transfer of technology development paradigm one that recognizes the farmers themselves as the major resource

Farmer Innovation in Africa Chris Reij, Ann Waters-Bayer, 2014-07-10 One of Africa's major untapped resources is the creativity of its farmers This book presents a series of clear and detailed studies that demonstrate how small scale farmers both men and women experiment and innovate in order to improve their livelihoods despite the adverse conditions and lack of appropriate external support with which they have to contend The studies are based on fieldwork in a wide variety of farming systems throughout Africa and have been written primarily by African researchers and extension specialists Numerous lively examples show how a participatory approach to agricultural research and development that builds on local knowledge and innovation can stimulate the creativity of all involved not only the farmers This approach which recognizes the farmers capacity to innovate as the crucial component of success provides a much needed alternative to the conventional transfer of technology paradigm This book is a rich source of case studies and analyses of how agricultural research and development policy can be changed It presents evidence of the resilience and resolution of rural communities in Africa and will be an inspiration for development workers researchers and policy makers as well as for students and teachers of agriculture environment and sustainable development

Innovation Africa Pascal Sanginga, Ann Waters-Bayer, Susan Kaaria, Jemimah Njuki, Chesha Wettasinha, 2012-05-04 Agricultural research extension and education can contribute greatly to enhancing agricultural production in a sustainable way and to reducing poverty in the developing world but achievements have generally fallen short of expectations in Africa In recent years growing economic and demographic pressures coupled with the entry of new market forces and actors have created a need and an opportunity for more interactive approaches to development Understanding the existing innovation processes recognizing the potential for catalysing them and learning how to support joint innovation by different groups will be the key to success This book covers new conceptual and methodological developments in agricultural innovation systems and showcases recent on the ground experiences in different contexts in Africa The contributions show how innovation is the outcome of social learning through interaction of individuals and organizations in both creating and applying knowledge It brings examples of how space and incentives have been created to promote collaboration between farmers research extension and the private sector to develop better technologies and institutional arrangements that can alleviate poverty In 25 broad ranging chapters the book reflects cutting edge thinking and practice in support of innovation processes in agriculture and management of natural resources Gender in

Agriculture Sourcebook World Bank, Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO), International Fund for Agricultural Development (IFAD), 2008-10-07 The Gender in Agriculture Sourcebook provides an up to date understanding of gender issues and a rich compilation of compelling evidence of good practices and lessons learned to guide practitioners in integrating gender dimensions into agricultural projects and programs It serves as a tool for guidance showcasing key principles in integrating gender into projects stimulating the imagination of practitioners to apply lessons learned experiences and innovations to the design of future support and investment in the agriculture sector The Sourcebook draws on a wide range of experience from World Bank Food and Agriculture Organization FAO International Fund for Agricultural Development IFAD and other donor agencies governments institutions and groups active in agricultural development The Sourcebook looks at access to and control of assets access to markets information and organization and capacity to manage risk and vulnerability through a gender lens There are 16 modules covering themes of cross cutting importance for agriculture with strong gender dimensions Policy Public Administration and Governance Agricultural Innovation and Education Food Security Markets Rural Finance Rural Infrastructure Water Land Labor Natural Resource Management and Disaster and Post Conflict Management and specific subsectors in agriculture Crops Livestock Forestry and Fisheries A separate module on Monitoring and Evaluation is included responding to the need to track implementation and development impact Each module contains three different sub units 1 A Module Overview gives a broad introduction to the topic and provides a summary of major development issues in the sector and rationale of looking at gender dimension 2 Thematic Notes provide a brief and technically sound guide in gender integration in selected themes with lessons learned guidelines checklists organizing principles key questions and key performance indicators and 3 Innovative Activity Profiles describe the design and innovative features of recent and exciting projects and activities that have been implemented or are ongoing

Innovations as Key to the Green Revolution in Africa Andre Bationo, Boaz Waswa, Jeremiah M. Okeyo, Fredah Maina, Job Maguta Kihara, 2011-08-30 Africa can achieve self sufficiency in food production through adoption of innovations in the agriculture sector Numerous soil fertility and crop production technologies have been generated through research however wide adoption has been low African farmers need better technologies more sustainable practices and fertilizers to improve and sustain their crop productivity and to prevent further degradation of agricultural lands The agricultural sector also needs to be supported by functional institutions and policies that will be able to respond to emerging challenges of globalization and climate change

Community Innovations in Sustainable Land Management Maxwell Mudhara, Saa Dittoh, Mohamed Sessay, William Critchley, Sabina Di Prima, 2016-06-23 It is increasingly recognized that land can be managed most sustainably through involving local communities This book highlights the potential of a new methodology of uncovering and stimulating community initiatives in sustainable land management in Africa Analyses of four contrasting African countries Ghana Morocco South Africa and Uganda show that as communities directly face the challenges of land degradation they are likely to develop initiatives themselves in terms of sustainable land management These initiatives or innovations may be more appropriate and sustainable than those emanating from research stations located far from the communities The book describes the rationale of the approach used the set of steps followed how the project managed to engage the communities to understand the importance of the activities they were undertaking and how they were stimulated to improve and extend their initiatives and innovativeness Examples covered include soil fertility community forestry afforestation water invasive species and grazing land management Central to the book is the way communities and scientists interacted between the four countries and learnt from each other The book also shows how the initiatives were outscaled locally

David Livingstone and the Myth of African Poverty and Disease Sjoerd Rijpma, 2015-06-24 This study about David Livingstone is different from all other publications about him Here Livingstone is not the main topic of interest the focus of the author is on nutrition and health in pre colonial Africa and Livingstone is his key informant David Livingstone and the Myth of African Poverty and Disease is an unusual book After a close examination of Livingstone s writings and comparative reading of contemporary authors Sjoerd Rijpma has been able to draw cautious conclusions about the relatively favourable conditions of health and nutrition in southern and central Africa during the pre colonial period His findings shed new light on the medical history of Sub Saharan Africa The surprise awaiting travellers in and also before 19th century Africa was that the inhabitants of the interior even the slaves were healthier and better fed than many of their contemporaries in Europe s Industrial Revolution An impressive piece of scholarship truly forensic in its close reading and re reading of Livingstone s published works and those of other travellers during the same era clearly a labour of love which has taken years to complete Joanna Lewis

China's Development and Harmonization Bin Wu, Shujie Yao, Jian Chen, 2013-08-21 The concept of harmonization has become very popular in China with the Chinese government increasingly applying the term harmonious society to internal affairs and the term harmonious world to international relationships Harmonization as both an end and a means of China s development is deeply rooted in China s cultural tradition which emphasizes moderation balance and harmony between human beings and nature between different social groups and between the Chinese and other nationalities This book examines the experience of enacting the concept of harmonization in China in recent years It explores this in terms of developments within Chinese society economic developments and changes in business practices environmental challenges and coping strategies and changing patterns of international relations Throughout it discusses the gaps between rhetoric and reality policy and practice Study on impacts of farmer-led research supported by civil society organizations Wettasinha, C., Waters-Bayer, A., van Veldhuizen, L., Quiroga, G., Swaans, K., 2015-01-15 Decades of scientific research related to agriculture and natural resource management have brought limited benefits to smallholder farmers including crop farmers fishers livestock keepers and other resource users Therefore donors policymakers and civil society organizations CSOs such as farmer organizations and nongovernmental organizations NGOs are urging the formal research sector to make its work more useful to smallholder farmers Many institutions of agricultural research and development are now seeking ways to engage more closely with smallholders in order to conduct research that is more relevant for and accessible to them and are seeking examples and good practices as sources of learning Some examples of research that is focused on smallholders and in which the process is co managed and driven by smallholders can be found in informal research initiatives specifically those which are facilitated by CSOs The purpose of this study was to identify such examples of informal agricultural research and development that could be documented and thus made accessible to formal researchers This report also describes farmer led research findings and their dissemination and analyzes available evidence on the impact of farmer led approaches to agricultural research and development on rural livelihoods local capacity to innovate and adapt and influence on governmental institutions of agricultural research and development Indigenous Knowledge on the South African Landscape Tim Hart, Ineke Vorster, 2006 The paper looks primarily at recent examples of agricultural practices in which resource poor agrarian householders have used their indigenous knowledge as well as innovations to overcome many of the socioeconomic political and environmental constraints they experience The ^ANew Harvest Calestous Juma, 2015-08-03 Filled with case studies from within Africa and success stories from developing nations around the world The New Harvest outlines the policies and institutional changes necessary to promote agricultural innovation across the African continent Incorporating research from academia government civil society and private industry the book suggests multiple ways that individual African countries can work together at the regional level to develop local knowledge and resources harness technological innovation encourage entrepreneurship increase agricultural output create markets and improve infrastructure Building Social Capital for Agricultural Innovation Willem Heemskerk, Bertus Wennink, 2004 Africa's Green Revolution William G. Moseley, Matthew A. Schnurr, Rachel Bezner-Kerr, 2017-10-02 This volume examines the dominant neoliberal agenda for agricultural development and hunger alleviation in Africa The text reviews the history of African agricultural and food security policy in the post colonial period across a range of geographical contexts in order to contextualise the productionist approach embedded in the much heralded New Green Revolution for Africa This strategy supported by a range of international agencies promotes the use of hybrid seeds fertilisers and pesticides to boost crop production This approach is underpinned by a new and unprecedented level of public private partnerships as donors actively work to promote the private sector and build links between African farmers input suppliers agro dealers agro processors and retailers On the consumer end increased supermarket penetration into poorer neighbourhoods is proffered as a solution to urban food insecurity The chapters in this volume complicate understandings of this new approach and raise serious questions about its effectiveness as a strategy for increasing food production and alleviating poverty across the continent

This book is based on a special issue of African Geographical Review

Soil Management of Smallholder Agriculture

Rattan Lal,B.A. Stewart,2014-11-24 Nearly two billion people depend on hundreds of millions of smallholder farmers for food security Yet these farmers lives also hang in the balance due to their extreme vulnerability to the risks of soil degradation and depletion soil exhaustion climate change and numerous biotic and abiotic stresses Soil Management of Smallholder Agriculture explores the potential smallholder agriculture hold for advancing global food security and outlines the challenges to achieving this goal The book addresses the challenges and opportunities that resource poor and small landholders face and provides recommended management practices to alleviate soil related constraints and increase and sustain crop yield and production It discusses the cultural economic social and technological aspects of sustainable soil management for smallholder farmers It then examines soil related and institutional constraints principles of sustainable agriculture soil quality improvement nutrient and soil fertility management soil carbon sequestration soil security efficient use of resources and agronomic production Edited by experts the book makes the case for the adoption of proven technologies of sustainable intensification producing more from less both for advancing agronomic production and adapting to changing climate It outlines a strategy that will usher in a soil based Green Revolution by increasing the use efficiency of energy based inputs such as fertilizers pesticides and irrigation to restore soil quality and sequestering carbon in the terrestrial ecosystems This strategy helps small farms narrow the gap between the actual and attainable crop yield

New Directions for Smallholder Agriculture Peter B. R. Hazell,Atiqur Rahman,2014 At the same time many other smallholders are successfully intensifying and succeeding as farm businesses often in combination with diversification into off farm sources of income

Sustainable Intensification in Smallholder Agriculture Ingrid Oborn,Bernard Vanlauwe,Michael Phillips,Richard Thomas,Willemien Brooijmans,Kwesi Atta-Krah,2017-02-17 Sustainable intensification has recently been developed and adopted as a key concept and driver for research and policy in sustainable agriculture It includes ecological economic and social dimensions where food and nutrition security gender and equity are crucial components This book describes different aspects of systems research in agriculture in its broadest sense where the focus is moved from farming systems to livelihoods systems and institutional innovation Much of the work represents outputs of the three CGIAR Research Programs on Integrated Systems for the Humid Tropics Aquatic Agricultural Systems and Dryland Systems The chapters are based around four themes the conceptual underpinnings of systems research sustainable intensification in practice integrating nutrition

gender and equity in research for improved livelihoods and systems and institutional innovation While most of the case studies are from countries and agro ecological zones in Africa there are also some from Latin America Southeast Asia and the Pacific

Innovation in Small-Farm Agriculture Amitava Rakshit,Somsubhra Chakraborty,Manoj Parihar,Vijay Singh Meena,Pradeep Kumar Mishra,Harikesh Bahadur Singh,2022-05-04 Innovation in Small Farm Agriculture Improving Livelihoods and Sustainability is an invaluable resource focussing on the current state of knowledge and scientific advances about the complex and intertwined issues of innovation and how they relate to livelihood of small scale farmers This book exposes readers with a holistic overview on how agriculture is most associated with the development and transfer of technologies to farmers and their participation in research and development initiatives to improve the relevancy and usefulness of its outputs and innovation which is not well documented The book offers comprehensive coverage of the most essential topics including Recent scientific advances on agricultural innovations for small farmers Emphasizes on opportunities and constraints of techno institutional paradigms Highlight low cost and eco friendly interventions Case studies on various innovations in agriculture spanning the different agricultural gamut
