Transnational Spaces and Identities in the Francophone World Hafid Gafa ti, Patricia M. E. Lorcin, David G. Troyansky, 2009-07-01 The dissolution of the French Empire and the ensuing rush of immigration have led to the formation of diasporas and immigrant cultures that have transformed French society and the immigrants themselves Transnational Spaces and Identities in the Francophone World examines the impact of this postcolonial immigration on identity in France and in the Francophone world which has encompassed parts of Africa the Middle East Southeast Asia and the Americas Immigrants bear cultural traditions within themselves transform host communities and are in turn transformed These migrations necessarily complicate ideals of national literature culture and history forcing a reexamination and a rearticulation of these ideals Exploring a variety of texts informed by these transnational conceptions of identity and space the contributors to this volume reveal the vitality of Francophone studies within a broad range of disciplines periods and settings They remind us that the idea and reality of Francophonie is not a late twentieth century phenomenon but something that grows out of long term interactions between colonizer and colonized and between peoples of different nationalities ethnicities and religions Truly interdisciplinary this collection engages conceptions of identity with respect to their physical geographic ethnic and imagined realities Signposts Rajeswari Sunder Rajan, 2001 The essays in this volume map the concerns of gender onto the terrain of nation finding significant connections disjunctions and tensions between them The authors argue that for any cultural analysis to be performed in the context of the decolonized nation space gender must take centre stage

Apocalypse in Crisis Christopher Palmer, 2021-10-15 Apocalypse is traditional and familiar and it is an actual threat it is feared desired and banal Apocalypse in Crisis discusses fictions from the 1940s to the present examining shifts in the imagination of apocalypse from the postwar British disaster novels through novels of the countercultural sixties feminist interventions and recent revisions and critiques As empire fades ideas of sexuality shift and attitudes to nature and to the city

Postmodernism has often been presented as a new theory of liberation that promotes pluralism and gives representation to the marginalised peoples of the non west and other cultures In this major assessment of postmodernism from a non western perspective Ziauddin Sardar offers a radical critique of this view Covering the salient spheres of postmodernism from architecture film television and pop music to philosophy consumer lifestyles and new age religions Sardar reveals that postmodernism in fact operates to further marginalise the reality of the non west and confound its aspirations By tracing postmodernism s roots in colonialism and modernity Sardar demonstrates that the dominant contemporary intellectual fashion peddling an insidiously oppressive and subtle revisionism is the most comprehensive onslaught on the non west ever experienced In stern retort the author offers ways in which the peoples of the non west can counter the postmodern assault and survive with their identities histories and cultures intact Out of This World Rachel S. Cordasco,2021-12-28

Disordered World Amin Maalouf,2012-01-01 A dazzling and ultimately hopeful exploration and analysis of our disordered and volatile post 9 11 world by one of the leading international writers and thinkers of our times The Demographic Masculinization of China

Isabelle Attané,2013-06-26 This book describes the shortage of girls and women in present day China and focuses on two important features the sex imbalance in childhood and youth and the excess mortality of women at various stages of their life. The author analyzes the causes and the processes of a strong preference for sons which generates discrimination toward females and results in a shortage of girls and women. China's higher proportion of men than women is a population characteristic that is shared by very few countries in the world. This demographic masculinity is unprecedented in the documented history of human populations both in scale and its lasting impact on the numbers and the structure of the population. Despite the economic boom of recent years many families in China still consider girls to be less important than boys. Although Chinese women have become largely emancipated since the 1950s they still do not have the same opportunities for social achievement as men and Chinese society remains fundamentally rooted in highly gendered social and family roles. As a consequence Chinese girl babies who have the misfortune to be born instead of a long awaited son go by various names such as Pandi (literally awaiting a son), Laidi (a son will follow) or Yehao (she'll do too). The book provides a comprehensive review of the situation of women in China's society and shows that discrimination against girls and women is part of a system of norms and values that traditionally favours males.

Origins Amin Maalouf, 2024-07-02 Origins by the world renowned writer Amin Maalouf is a sprawling hemisphere spanning intergenerational saga. Set during the last quarter of the nineteenth century and the first quarter of the twentieth in the mountains of Lebanon and in Havana, Cuba, Origins recounts the family history of the generation of Maalouf's paternal grandfather Boutros Maalouf. Maalouf sets out to discover the truth about why Boutros, a poet and educator in Lebanon, traveled across the globe to rescue his younger brother Gabrayel who had settled in Havana. What follows is the gripping excavation of a family's hidden past. Maalouf is an energetic and amiable narrator illuminating the more obscure corners of late Ottoman nationalism, the psychology of Lebanese sectarianism and the dynamics of family quarrels. He moves with great agility across time and space and across genres of writing. But he never loses track of his story's central thread: his quest to lift the shadow of legend from his family's past. Origins is at once a gripping family chronicle and a timely consideration of Lebanese culture and politics.

Our First Century Richard Miller Devens, 1878 History and Memory in the Abbasid Caliphate Letizia Osti, 2022-05-19 Abu Bakr al Suli was an Abbasid polymath and table companion as well as a legendary chess player. He was perhaps best known for his work on poetry and chancery which would have a long lasting influence on Arabic literature. His decades of service at the court of at least three caliphs give him a unique perspective as an historian of his own time although he is often valued as an observer rather than an interpreter of events for posterity. Letizia Osti here provides the first full length English language study devoted to al Suli illustrating how investigating the life times and works of such a complex individual can serve as a fil rouge for tackling broader contested concepts such as biography, autobiography, court culture and written culture. The result is an exploration of the ways in which the Abbasid court made sense of the past and in general of what historiography means in a medieval Arabic context.
