Recreating First Contact Joshua A. Bell, Alison K. Brown, Robert J. Gordon, 2013-11-06 Recreating First Contact explores themes related to the proliferation of adventure travel which emerged during the early twentieth century and that were legitimized by their associations with popular views of anthropology During this period new transport and recording technologies particularly the airplane and automobile and small portable still and motion picture cameras were utilized by a variety of expeditions to document the last untouched places of the globe and bring them home to eager audiences These expeditions were frequently presented as first contact encounters and enchanted popular imagination The various narratives encoded in the articles books films exhibitions and lecture tours that these expeditions generated fed into pre existing stereotypes about racial and technological difference and helped to create them anew in popular culture Through an unpacking of expeditions and their popular wakes the essays 12 chapters a preface introduction and afterward trace the complex but obscured relationships between anthropology adventure travel and the cinematic imagination that the 1920s and 1930s engendered and how their myths have endured The book further explores the effects both positive and negative of such expeditions on the discipline of anthropology itself However in doing so this volume examines these impacts from a variety of national perspectives and thus through these different vantage points creates a more nuanced perspective on how expeditions were at once a global phenomenon but also culturally ordered Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress, 2003

The Geometry of Efficient Fair Division Julius B. Barbanel, 2005-01-24 What is the best way to divide a cake and allocate the pieces among some finite collection of players In this book the cake is a measure space and each player uses a countably additive non atomic probability measure to evaluate the size of the pieces of cake with different players generally using different measures The author investigates efficiency properties is there another partition that would make everyone at least as happy and would make at least one player happier than the present partition and fairness properties do all players think that their piece is at least as large as every other player s piece He focuses exclusively on abstract existence results rather than algorithms and on the geometric objects that arise naturally in this context By examining the shape of these objects and the relationship between them he demonstrates results concerning the existence of efficient and fair partitions
