Adaptive Learning Agents Matthew Taylor, Karl Tuyls, 2010-02-25 This book presents selected and revised papers of the Second Workshop on Adaptive and Learning Agents 2009 ALA 09 held at the AAMAS 2009 conference in Budapest Hungary May 12 The goal of ALA is to provide an interdisciplinary forum for scientists from a variety of fields such as computer science biology game theory and economics This year's edition of ALA was the second after the merger of the former two shops ALAMAS and ALAg In 2008 this joint workshop was organized for the first time under the aegis of both events ALAMAS was a yearly returning European workshop on adaptive and learning agents and multi agent systems held eight times ALAg was the international workshop on adaptive and learning agents which was usually held at AAMAS To increase the strength visibility and quality of the workshop it was decided to merge both workshops under the aegis of ALA and to set up a Steering Committee as an organizational backbone This book contains six papers presented during the workshop which were carefully selected after an additional review round in the summer of 2009 We therefore wish to explicitly thank the members of the Program Committee for the quality and sincerity of their efforts and service Furthermore we would like to thank all the members of the senior Steering Committee for making this workshop possible and supporting it with sound advice We also thank the AAMAS conference for providing us a platform for holding this event Finally we also wish to thank all authors who responded to our call for papers with interesting contributions

Federalism and Labour Market Policy Alain Noël, Queen's University (Kingston, Ont.). Institute of Intergovernmental Relations, 2004 Though these countries vary significantly in both their federal institutions and labour market policies they all seek to define a relatively coherent approach for federal and sub unit governments in a policy field where collaboration and coordination appear unavoidable In some cases such as Germany collaboration is highly developed and policies are ambitious and integrated in others such as Switzerland diversity and decentralization are privileged and policies remain fragmented Finally there are countries such as the United States that do not grant much importance to labour market policies these five federations and so help us understand how political institutions and public policies are inter related Federalism and labour market policies certainly influence each other but there is no simple relationship between them Comparing different governance and employment strategies is nevertheless very instructive because it shows the range of approaches and policies that are possible in federal countries Social Stratification David B. Grusky, 2018-05-04 The book covers the research on economic inequality including the social construction of racial categories the uneven and stalled gender revolution and the role of new educational forms and institutions in generating both equality and inequality
