very little out there about how you actually innovate Innovation and entrepreneurship are not one and the same although aspiring innovators often think of them that way They are told to get an idea and a team and to build a show and tell for potential investors In Innovating Luis Perez Breva describes another approach a doer s approach developed over a decade at MIT and internationally in workshops classes and companies He shows that innovating doesn t require an earth shattering idea all it takes is a hunch Anyone can do it By prototyping a problem and learning by being wrong innovating can be scaled up to make an impact As Perez Breva demonstrates nothing is new at the outset of what we only later celebrate as innovation In Innovating the process illustrated by unique and dynamic artwork is shown to be empirical experimental nonlinear and incremental You give your hunch the structure of a problem Anything can be a part Your innovating accrues other people s knowledge and skills Perez Breva describes how to create a kit for innovating and outlines questions that will help you think in new ways Finally he shows how to systematize what you ve learned to advocate communicate scale up manage innovating continuously and document you need a notebook to converse with yourself he advises Everyone interested in innovating also needs to read this book

On Being Normal and Other Disorders Paul

Verhaeghe,2020-06-16 The central argument of On Being Normal and Other Disorders is that psychic identity is acquired through one's primary intersubjective relationships. Thus the diagnosis of potential pathologies must also be founded on this relation. Given that the efficacy of all forms of treatment depends upon the therapeutic relation, a diagnostic of this sort has wide-ranging applications. The author's critical evaluation of the contemporary DSM diagnostic shows that the lack of reference to and governing metapsychology impinges on the therapeutic value of the DSM categories. In response to this problem, the author sketches out the foundations of such a metapsychology by combining a Freud-Lacanian approach with contemporary empirical research. Close attention is paid to the processes of identity acquisition to show how the self and the Other are not two separate entities. Rather, subject formation is seen as a process in which both the subject's and the Other's identity as well as the relationship between them comes into being.

Fyodor Dostoyevsky, a writer whose life experiences marked by poverty, imprisonment, and a struggle with mental health profoundly shaped his worldview, produced these works as both a response to his tumultuous society and an exploration of the human condition.
