First Person Past American Autobiographies Volume 1:

First Person Past Marian Morton, Russell Duncan, 2004-07-23 The novelist William Dean Howells described autobiography as the most democratic of American literary genres Autobiography has offered a voice to women African Americans Native Americans and others whose writings have often been excluded from the literary canon The men and women presented here observed shaped or participated in many of the most exciting and important events of American history First Person Past lets them speak for themselves From the hundreds of American autobiographies the editors have chosen twelve for each of Volumes I and II of First Person Past because they are interesting history and good literature Their literary and historical virtues have been preserved as edited for inclusion in each volume Native American Autobiography Arnold Krupat, 1994 Publisher description Native American Autobiography is the first collection to bring together the major autobiographical narratives by Native American people from the earliest documents that exist to the present _ The thirty narratives included here cover a range of tribes and cultural areas over a span of more than 200 years From the earliest known written memoir a 1768 narrative by the Reverend Samson Occom a Mohegan reproduced as a chapter here to recent reminiscences by such prominent writers as N Scott Momaday and Gerald Vizenor the book covers a broad range of Native American experience Editor Arnold Krupat provides a general introduction a historical introduction to each of the seven sections extensive headnotes for each selection and suggestions for further reading making this an ideal resource for courses in American literature history anthropology and Native American studies General readers too will find a wealth of fascinating material in the life stories of these Native American men and women The Lost World of Socialists at Europe's Margins Maria Todorova, 2020-09-03 Maria Todorova's book is devoted to the golden age of the socialist idea broadly surveying the period in and around the time of the Second International It critically examines the promise for an alternative socialist utopia from 1870 to the 1920s Todorova brings in the experience of the periphery in a comparative context in the belief that the margins can often elucidate better the character of a phenomenon and de provincialize it from essentialist notions In doing so The Lost World of Socialists at Europe's Margins moves beyond the traditional historiographical emphasis on ideology by looking at different intersections or entanglements of spaces generations genders ideas and feelings and different flows of historical time The study provides a social and cultural history of early socialism in Eastern Europe with an emphasis on Bulgaria arguably the country with the earliest and strongest socialist movement in Southeast Europe and one that had a unique relationship to both German and Russian social democracy Based on a rich prosopographical database of around 3500 biographies of people born in the 19th century the book addresses the interplay of several generations of leftists looking at the specifics of how ideas were generated received transferred and transformed Finally the work investigates the intersection between subjectivity and memory as reflected in a unique cache of archival materials containing over 4000 documentary sources including diaries oral interviews and unpublished memoirs A microhistorical approach to this material allows the reconstruction of structures of feeling that inspired an exceptional group of individuals

The Fiction of Autobiography Micaela Maftai, 2013-07-04 Writing autobiography is a complicated often fraught activity for both writer and reader We can find many recent examples of the way such writing calls into question the author s truthfulness or their authority to present as definitive their version of a particular event or portion of their lives Drawing upon a wide range of late twentieth and early twenty first century autobiographical writing The Fiction of Autobiography examines key aspects of autobiography from the interrelated perspectives of author reader critic and scholar to reconsider how we view this form of writing and its relationship to the way we understand and construct identity Maftai considers recent cases and texts such as Didion s The Year of Magical Thinking and Frey s A Million Little Pieces alongside older texts such as Proust s In Search of Lost Time Nabokov s Invitation of a Memory and Stein s The Autobiography of Alice B Toklas In part this is to emphasise that key issues reappear and arise over decades and centuries and that texts distanced by time can speak to each other thoughtfully and poignantly

The National Cyclopaedia of American Biography, 1901 Lingüística Misionera III Otto Zwartjes, Gregory James, Emilio Ridruejo Alonso, 2007 This third volume on Missionary Linguistics focuses on morphology and syntax It contains a selection of papers derived from the international conferences on missionary linguistics held in Hong Kong Macau and Valladolid As with the previous two volumes 2004 on general issues and 2005 on orthography and phonology this volume looks at methodology and descriptive techniques from a historical point of view offering articles of interest to historiographers of linguistics typologists and descriptive linguists It presents research into languages such as Tarascan Purpecha Massachusetts Nahuatl Conibo Sipibo Guaran Vietnamese Tamil Southern Min Chinese dialects Mandarin Chinese Arabic Tagalog and other Austronesian languages such as Yapanese and Chamorro

History of Linguistics 2005 Douglas A. Kibbee, 2007-11-28 As each period in the history of the language sciences has chosen to focus on different key questions the study of that history promises to open our eyes to the variety of interesting questions that can be asked and answered taking off the blinders of contemporary preoccupations September 15 2005 linguists from twenty five countries gathered at the University of Illinois at Urbana Champaign to share their passion for the history of their discipline This volume is a distillation of many fine contributions from that conference shedding light on the many different approaches to the study of language

History of Linguistics 2002 Eduardo Guimarães, Diana Luz Pessoa de

Barros, 2007-07-13 This volume brings together a selection of revised papers originally presented at ICHoLS IX São Paulo Campinas. The papers in the first section deal with studies ranging from the Latin model in post Renaissance grammars to new scientific propositions at the turn of the 19th century; the second part carries articles devoted to a variety of topics in 19th and 20th century linguistics; and in the third section are united papers based on plenary presentations ranging from ancient Greek reflections upon language to developments in Brazilian linguistics beginning with the implantation of structuralist work by Joaquim Mattoso Câmara (1904-1970) in the 1960s. In the concluding contribution a survey of advances in the history of the language sciences is offered.
