Bernardini,C. Tarsitani,M. Vicentini,2012-12-06 The research in Physics Education has to do with the search of solutions to the complex problem of how to improve the learning and teaching of physics The complexity of the problem lies in the different fields of knowledge that need to be considered in the research In fact besides the disciplinary knowledge in physics which must be considered from the conceptual the historical and the epistemological framework one has to take into account some basic knowledge in the context of psychology and the cognitive sciences for the general and contextual aspects of learning and some basic knowledge in education and communication for what concerns teaching skills and strategies Looking back at the historical development of the research one may recognize that the complexity of the endeavour was not clear at first but became clear in its development which shifted the focus of the research in the course of time from physics to learning to teaching We may say that the research started more than 30 years ago with a focus on disciplinary knowledge Physicists in different parts of the western world after research work in some field of physics decided to concentrate on the didactical communication of physical knowledge

The Crystallizing Teacher Craig Wood, 2024-05-31 This book advocates for teacher professional development done differently The author introduces a process described as crystallizing conscientiza o which restores agency to teachers Looking beyond incremental improvements in teacher micro skills promoted by neo managerial approaches to professional development the book considers the wider impact of teachers personal professional and political identities on their work This critical reflective practice combines crystallization as method with Freirean principles of conscientiza o asking questions that reveal the impact of whiteness in schools and the role that education performs in replicating whiteness and perpetuating injustice The book will appeal to academics in the diverse fields of sociology of education critical race theory critical whiteness studies curriculum and pedagogy and teachers work as well as providers of initial teacher education programs and pre service teachers
