Home: The Foundations of Belonging Paul O'Connor, 2017-11-22 Questions of home and belonging have never been more topical Populist politicians in both Europe and America play on anxieties over globalisation by promising to reconstitute the national home through cutting immigration and taking back control Increasing numbers of young people are unable to afford home ownership a trend with implications for the future shape of families and communities The dominant conceptualisations of home in the twentieth century the nation state and the suburban nuclear household are in crisis yet they continue to shape our personal and political aspirations Home The Foundations of Belonging puts these issues into context by drawing on a range of disciplines to offer a deep anthropological and historical perspective on home Beginning with a vision of modernity as characterised by both spiralling liminality and an ongoing quest for belonging it plumbs the archaic roots of Western civilisation and assembles a wide body of comparative anthropological evidence to illuminate the foundations of a sense of home Home is theorised as a stable centre around which we organise both everyday routines and perspectives on reality bringing order to a chaotic world and overcoming liminality Constituted by a set of ongoing processes which concentrate and embody meaning in intimate relationships everyday rituals and familiar places a shared home becomes the foundation for community and society The Foundations of Belonging thus elevates home to the position of a foundational sociological and anthropological concept at a moment when the crisis of globalisation has opened the way to a revaluation of the local

Sinister and Righteous C. Riley Augé, 2024-12-01 In recent years archaeologists have begun to consider the potential for left and right positioning of elements in the material record to reveal cultural ideas about gender identity authority worldviews and belief systems This research demonstrates the ubiquitous but often overlooked occurrence of material culture meaningfully arranged according to deeply entrenched left and right concepts and is the first to bring together and expand upon these cultural ideologies Archaeological examples provide archaeologists with insight and guidance for recording analyzing and interpreting any left and right elements or associations present in the imagery features artifacts and landscapes of their study sites

World Cultures Through Art Activities Dindy Robinson, 1996-08-15 This text aims to introduce students to culture around the world through simple art activities while building creativity and critical thinking skills It provides resources for teachers who want to develop their multicultural education programs using art projects Each chapter provides a brief text on a chosen subject and a list of reference sources with activities to present the topic Introduce students to cultures around the world with simple art activities that encourage creativity and critical thinking Chapters focus on China Japan India Australia Africa Egypt Israel Great Britain the Netherlands Greece Italy Russia France Scandinavia Mexico American Indians and Hawaii A wonderful supplement to multicultural units

Native American Architecture Peter Nabokov, Robert Easton, 1990-10-25 The collaboration between an architect and an anthropologist Native American Architecture presents the first book length fully illustrated exploration of North American Indian architecture to appear in over a century Peter Nabokov and Robert Easton together examine the building traditions of the major tribes in nine regional areas of the continent from the huge plank house villages of the Northwest Coast to the moundbuilder towns and temples of the Southeast to the Navajo hogans and adobe pueblos of the Southwest Going beyond a traditional survey of buildings the book offers a broad clear view into the Native American world revealing a new perspective on the interaction between their buildings and culture Looking at Native American architecture as more than buildings villages and camps Nabokov and Easton also focus on their use of space their environment their social mores and their religious beliefs
