magisterial history of the Renaissance and the birth of the modern world The cultural epoch we know as the Renaissance emerged at a certain time and in a certain place Why then and not earlier Why there and not elsewhere In The World at First Light historian Bernd Roeck explores the cultural and historical preconditions that enabled the European Renaissance Roeck shows that the rediscovery of ancient knowledge including the science of the medieval Arab world played a critical role in shaping the beginnings of Western modernity He explains that the Renaissance emerged in a part of Europe where competing states and cities formed relatively open societies Most of the era's creative minds from Leonardo da Vinci and Michelangelo to Copernicus and Galileo came from the middle classes The art of arguing flowered the basso continuo to intellectual and cultural breakthroughs Roeck argues that two revolutions shaped the Renaissance a media revolution triggered by Gutenberg's invention of movable type which itself was a driving force behind the scientific revolution and the advent of modern science He also reports on the dark side of the era hatred of Jews witch panic religious wars and the atrocities of colonialism In a series of meditative counterfactuals Roeck considers other cultural rebirths throughout the first millennium from the Islamic empire to the Carolingians examining why the epic developments of the Renaissance took place in the West and not elsewhere The complicated legacy of the Renaissance he shows encompasses the art of critical thinking as learned from the ancients the emergence of the modern state and the genesis of democracy

First Light G.R. Evans,2013-11-19 Did the universe start with a bang or has it existed always Was there a supernatural being behind it all or just mindless forces The beginning of things has forever tested the limits of curiosity and such questions have both challenged atheists and inspired believers Ancient cultures resorted to myth and symbolism to tell vibrant stories about human origins Later civilizations added philosophical and scientific explanations but these are not definitive The nature and meaning of existence the why as much as the how questions are in the end mysterious In this lively and wide ranging book G R Evans explores the world s myriad creation stories against the background of the biggest question there is what are we doing here Discussing Swahili legends that resemble the Book of Genesis Greek tales about the Titans Native American Inca and Mesopotamian mythologies and Vedic creation cycles that begin with a cosmic egg or seed the author surveys polytheist monotheist and dualist ideas about supernatural power Tracing the history of humanity as it has struggled over many millennia to make sense of itself The Creation Myth will attract students of religion history and philosophy and general readers alike Dawn of Steam: First Light Jeffrey Cook, Gregory Conan Watts has been hired to prove the impossible To do so he s expected to assemble a crew that includes war heroes carries respectable women and one wilderness scout who may or may not be entirely insane They ll have the best of 1815 technology a state of the art airship and the steam powered battle suit that almost single handedly brought down Napoleon s alliance Finding vast uncharted wonders Gregory s not even sure are there sounded complicated enough he wasn t expecting natural disasters outright sabotage or another war Dawn of Steam First Light is an alt history emergent Steampunk epistolary novel First Light in the Universe Brigitte Rocca-Volmerange, 1993
