Handbook of Local Government Fiscal Health Helisse Levine, Jonathan B. Justice, Eric Anthony Scorsone, 2012 Fiscal health of local governments and municipalities has remained an important issue since the crises of the 1970s in places like New York Philadelphia and Cleveland More recently the bankruptcy of Orange County California raised the possibility of a different type of financial failure than earlier ones The beginning of the 21st century has witnessed two major economic bubbles including the dotcom and housing bubbles These economic cycles combined with increasing health care pension and other structural costs continue to challenge the fiscal viability of many jurisdictions In particular the economic and financial crisis of 2007 2008 is likely to result in potentially serious fiscal challenges for local jurisdictions

The People's Money

Michael A. Pagano, 2019-09-16 American cities continue to experience profound fiscal crises. Falling revenues cannot keep pace with the increased costs of vital public services, infrastructure development and improvement, and adequately funded pensions. Chicago presents an especially vivid example of these issues as the state of Illinois's rocky fiscal condition compounds the city's daunting budget challenges. In The People's Money, Michael A. Pagano curates a group of essays that emerged from discussions at the 2018 UIC Urban Forum. The contributors explore fundamental questions related to measuring the fiscal health of cities, including how cities can raise revenue, the accountability of today's officials for the future financial position of a city, the legal and practical obstacles to pension reform, and a balanced budget, and whether political collaboration offers an alternative to the competition that often undermines regional governance. Contributors: Jered B. Carr, Rebecca Hendrick, Martin J. Luby, David Merriman, Michael A. Pagano, David Saustad, Casey Sebetto, Michael D. Siciliano, James E. Spiotto, Gary Strong, Shu Wang, and Yonghong Wu.
