Seeing Like a State James C. Scott,2020-03-17 One of the most profound and illuminating studies of this century to have been published in recent decades John Gray New York Times Book Review Hailed as a magisterial critique of top down social planning by the New York Times this essential work analyzes disasters from Russia to Tanzania to uncover why states so often fail sometimes catastrophically in grand efforts to engineer their society or their environment and uncovers the conditions common to all such planning disasters Beautifully written this book calls into sharp relief the nature of the world we now inhabit New Yorker A tour de force Charles Tilly Columbia University Technological Change and the Rural Environment Philip Lowe,Terry Marsden,Sarah Whatmore,2023-06-08 Originally published in 1990 this volume addresses issues surrounding global ecological changes and sustainability of present patterns of urbanisation and industrialisation The book discusses these problems and other issues such as how rural environments in many developed and developing countries have been transformed by a technological revolution Looking at a diverse range of topics from climate change to slurry pollution and the destruction of genetic resources to the risks of biotechnology this volume addresses these issues which concern the dynamics and social relations of technological change in rural areas Saving More Than Seeds Catherine Phillips,2016-04-01 Saving More Than Seeds advances understandings of seed people relations with particular focus on seed saving The practice of reusing and exchanging seeds provides foundation for food production and allows humans and seed to adapt together in dynamic socionatural conditions But the practice and its practitioners are easily taken for granted even as they are threatened by neoliberalisation Combining original ethnographic research with investigation of an evolving corporate seed order this book reveals seed saving not only as it occurs in fields and gardens but also as it associates with genebanking genetic engineering intellectual property rights and agrifood regulations Drawing on diverse social sciences literatures Phillips illustrates ongoing practices of thinking feeling and acting with seeds raising questions about what seed people relations should accomplish and how different ways of relating might be pursued to change collective futures

Knowledge as Property Rajshree Chandra,2012-06-13 Intellectual Property Rights IPRs the idea of knowledge as property and its role in human society is being increasingly discussed across nations and borders Involving legal political cultural and ethical issues debates on IPRs continue to be complex and wide ranging This book analyses the basic assumptions and premises of the notion of intellectual property as a right It goes on to show how IPRs prevent those who do not own it from accessing and exercising their own diverse rights Thus in a way IPRs violate the very idea of individual autonomy on which it bases its claims Highlighting the inherent propensity of IPRs to conflict with other rights of other peoples this volume examines three important rights health rights indigenous peoples knowledge rights and farmers rights Do IPRs derive any legitimacy from its ability to support or conjoin with these rights Do IPRs fit within a framework of rights which unites welfare well being and equal access to advantage and autonomy These are questions which arise out of the varied contestations that have emerged in the face of IPRs and which have been probed in this book The analyses also moves beyond to explore some of the broader challenges that liberal theory of rights faces from collective claims to knowledge rights and practices

Free Gifts Alyssa Battistoni,2025-08-19 A timely new critique of capitalism s persistent failure to value nature Capitalism is typically treated as a force for relentless commodification Yet it consistently fails to place value on vital aspects of the nonhuman world whether carbon emissions or entire ecosystems In Free Gifts Alyssa Battistoni explores capitalism s persistent failure to value nature arguing that the key question is not the moral issue of why some kinds of nature shouldn t be commodified but the economic puzzle of why they haven t been To understand contemporary ecological problems from biodiversity collapse to climate change she contends we have to understand how some things come to have value under capitalism and how others do not To help us do so Battistoni recovers and reinterprets the idea of the free gift of nature used by classical economic thinkers to describe what we gratuitously obtain from the natural world and builds on Karl Marx s critique of political economy to show how capitalism fundamentally treats nature as free for the taking This novel theory of capitalism s relationship to nature not only helps us understand contemporary ecological breakdown but also casts

capitalism's own core dynamics in a new light Battistoni addresses four different instances of the free gift in political economic thought each in a specific domain natural agents in industry pollution in the environment reproductive labor in the household and natural capital in the biosphere In so doing she offers new readings of major twentieth century thinkers including Friedrich Hayek Simone de Beauvoir Garrett Hardin Silvia Federici and Ronald Coase Ultimately she offers a novel account of freedom for our ecologically troubled present developing a materialist existentialism to argue that capitalism limits our ability to be responsible for our relationships to the natural world and imagining how we might live freely while valuing nature's gifts

Ethical Tensions from New Technology Harvey S James Jr, 2018-08-20 The introduction of new technologies can be controversial especially when they create ethical tensions as well as winners and losers among stakeholders and interest groups While ethical tensions resulting from the genetic modification of crops and plants and their supportive gene technologies have been apparent for decades persistent challenges remain This book explores the contemporary nature type extent and implications of ethical tensions resulting from agricultural biotechnology specifically and technology generally There are four main arenas of ethical tensions public opinion policy and regulation technology as solutions to problems and older versus new technologies Contributions focus on one or more of these arenas by identifying the ethical tensions technology creates and articulating emerging fault lines and where possible viable solutions Key features include focusing on contemporary challenges created by new and emerging technologies especially agricultural biotechnology Identifying a unique perspective by considering the problem of ethical tensions created or enhanced by new technologies Providing an interdisciplinary perspective by including perspectives from sociologists economists philosophers and other social scientists This book will be of interest to academics in agricultural economics sociology and philosophy and policymakers concerned with introducing new technology into agriculture

Plant Breeding Reviews, Volume 40 Jules Janick, 2016-10-10 Plant Breeding Reviews presents state of the art reviews on plant genetics and the breeding of all types of crops by both traditional means and molecular methods Many of the crops widely grown today stem from a very narrow genetic base understanding and preserving crop genetic resources is vital to the security of food systems worldwide The emphasis of the series is on methodology a fundamental understanding of crop genetics and applications to major crops

Seed Money: Monsanto's Past and Our Food Future Bartow J. Elmore, 2021-10-12 Winner of the 2022 IACP Award for Food Issues and Matters Finalist for the 2022 George Perkins Marsh Prize Finalist for the 2022 Hagley Prize in Business History An authoritative and eye opening history that examines how Monsanto came to have outsized influence over our food system Monsanto a St Louis chemical firm that became the world's largest maker of genetically engineered seeds merged with German pharma biotech giant Bayer in 2018 but its Roundup Ready seeds introduced twenty five years ago are still reshaping the farms that feed us When researchers found trace amounts of the firm's blockbuster herbicide in breakfast cereal bowls Monsanto faced public outcry Award winning historian Bartow J Elmore shows how the Roundup story is just one of the troubling threads of Monsanto's past many told here and woven together for the first time A company employee sitting on potentially explosive information who weighs risking everything to tell his story A town whose residents are urged to avoid their basements because Monsanto's radioactive waste laces their homes foundations Factory workers who peel off layers of their skin before accepting cash bonuses to continue dirty jobs An executive wrestling with the ethics of selling a profitable product he knew was toxic Incorporating global fieldwork interviews with company employees and untapped corporate and government records Elmore traces Monsanto's astounding evolution from a scrappy chemical startup to a global agribusiness powerhouse Monsanto used seed money derived from toxic products including PCBs and Agent Orange to build an agricultural empire promising endless bounty through its genetically engineered technology Skyrocketing sales of Monsanto's new Roundup Ready system stunned even those in the seed trade who marveled at the influx of cash and lavish incentives into their sleepy sector But as new data emerges about the Roundup system and as Bayer faces a tide of lawsuits over Monsanto products past and present Elmore's urgent history shows how our food future is still very much tethered to the company's chemical past

Review Factors Affecting Domestic and International Agricultural Input Prices

United States. Congress. House. Committee on Agriculture, 2000

Reconstructing Nature Peter Dickens, 2002-11-01

One of the main features of the contemporary environmental crisis is that no one has a clear idea of what is going on The author uses an extension of Marx's theory of alienation to explain why people find it so difficult to relate their different knowledges of the natural and social world He argues that nevertheless it is possible to relate these to the abstractions of ecological discourse Emancipation can come only through embracing science and rationality rather than rejecting them and in the process humanity as well as the non human world will benefit

Economics of Innovation: The Case of Food Industry

Giovanni Galizzi, Luciano Venturini, 2012-12-06 Giovanni Galizzi and Luciano Venturini The food industry has been characterized by several and profound changes in its structure and competitive environment in the last decades Although it is not a research oriented industry there is no arguing that technological change and particularly product innovations are crucial determinants of firms performance and In recent years food manufacturers have accelerated the consumers welfare development of new products by using new ingredients processing and packaging techniques Thus food markets are increasingly characterized by competitive environments where relevant flows of innovative products quality improvements and new technologies provide new consumption trends food habits market opportunities and firms strategies However the issue of product innovation in the food industries has been rather neglected by economists Few works have explicitly addressed this issue After the pioneering book of Buzzell and Nourse 1967 one can count few contributors Connor 1981 examined the empirical determinants of new food products introductions Padberg and Westgren 1979 provided crucial insights about the nature of food innovation through their notions of consumer inertia technological redundancy and incremental product innovation Some case studies provide useful empirical materials but they are generally sparse

Agriculture, Biodiversity and Markets Stewart Lockie, David Carpenter, 2010 Debate about how best to ensure the preservation of agricultural biodiversity is caught in a counter productive polemic between proponents and critics of market based instruments and agricultural modernization However it is argued in this book that neither position does justice to the range of strategies that farmers use to manage agrobiodiversity and other livelihood assets as they adapt to changing social economic and environmental circumstances

Agrarian Extractivism in Latin America Ben M. McKay, Alberto Alonso-Fradejas, Arturo Ezquerro-Cañete, 2021-05-30 Amid the growing calls for a turn towards sustainable agriculture this book puts forth and discusses the concept of agrarian extractivism to help us identify and expose the predatory extractivist features of dominant agricultural development models The concept goes beyond the more apparent features of monocultures and raw material exports to examine the inherent logic and underlying workings of a model based on the appropriation of an ever growing range of commodified and non commodified human and non human nature in an extractivist fashion Such a process erodes the autonomy of resourcedependent working people dispossesses the rural poor exhausts and expropriates nature and concentrates value in a few hands as a result of the unquenchable drive for profit by big business In many instances such extractivist dynamics are subsidized and or directly supported by the state while also dependent on the unpaid productive and reproductive labour of women children and elders exacerbating unequal class gender and generational relations Rather than a one size fits all definition of agrarian extractivism this collection points to the diversity of extractivist features of corporate led external input dependent plantation agriculture across distinct socio ecological formations in Latin America This timely challenge to the destructive dominant models of agricultural development will interest scholars activists researchers and students from across the fields of critical development studies rural studies environmental and sustainability studies and Latin American studies among others

Intellectual Property Rights Trade and Biodiversity Graham Dutfield, 2000-03-01 This text examines the international agreements governing trade in genetic resources crucial resources for world agriculture food security and large industries such as pharmaceuticals Intellectual Property Rights IPRs in these resources are critical for those involved in the trade including industry and developing countries The book analyzes the Convention on Biological Diversity CBD World Trade Organization agreements and other agreements It explains how they can be integrated into an equitable training regime

Intellectual Property and Human Rights World Intellectual Property Organization, 1999 The papers published in this volume were presented at a panel discussion titled Intellectual Property and Human Rights organized by the World Intellectual Property Organization WIPO in collaboration with the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights OHCHR on November 9 1998
