Recovering Memory Hedda Friberg, Irene Gilsenan Nordin, Lene Yding Pedersen, 2009-03-26 Various ways of collecting storing and recovering memories have been the focus of the most recent joint research project carried out by a group of Irish Studies scholars all based in the Nordic countries and members of the Nordic Irish Studies Network NISN The result of the project Recovering Memory Irish Representations of Past and Present is a collection of essays which examines the theme of memory in Irish literature and culture against the theoretical background of the philosophical discourse of modernity Offering a wide range of perspectives this volume examines a plurality of representations past and present of memory both public and private and the intersection between collective memory and individual in modern Ireland Also explored is the relation between memory and identity national and private as well as questions of subjectivity and the construction of the self Given Ireland's tragic past and its long history of colonisation it is inevitable that various aspects of memory in terms of nationality post colonialism and politics also have bearing on this study The volume is divided into five sections each of which examines one broadly defined aspect of memory The introductory section focuses on memory and history and is followed by sections on memory and autobiography place identity and memory in the work of novelist John Banville Within each section the individual writers engage in a fruitful dialogue with each other and with the approaches of such theorists as Arendt

Husserl Merleau Ponty Ricoeur and Baudrillard The Pall Mall Budget, 1872 Depicting the Late Ottoman Empire in Turkish Autobiographies Philipp Wirtz, 2017-03-16 The period between the 1880s and the 1920s was a time of momentous changes in the Ottoman Empire It was also an age of literary experiments of which autobiography forms a part This book analyses Turkish autobiographical narratives describing the part of their authors' lives that was spent while the Ottoman Empire still existed The texts studied in this book were written in the cultural context of the Turkish Republic which went to great lengths to disassociate itself from the empire and its legacy This process has only been criticised and partially reversed in very recent times the resurging interest in autobiographical texts dealing with the old days by the Turkish reading public being part of a wider renewed regard for Ottoman legacies Among the analysed texts are autobiographies by writers journalists soldiers and politicians including classics like Halide Edip Ad var and evket S reyya Aydemir but also texts by authors virtually unknown to Western readers such as Ahmed Emin Yalman While the official Turkish republican discourse went towards a dismissal of the imperial past autobiographical narratives offer a more balanced picture From the earliest memories and personal origins of the authors to the conflict and violence that overshadowed private lives in the last years of the Ottoman Empire this book aims at showing examples of how the authors painted what one of them called images of a past world
