Love and Money Jeff D. Opdyke, 2004-04-28 The financial decisions we make in our lives are sometimes not the easiest to discuss but have long-lasting effects. Opdyke's advice has opened the door in my relationship to conversations that were a long time coming. Josh, regular reader of Opdyke's Love Money column, Florida Real answers to real questions about money and relationships: "I have too much debt and my credit isn't very good. How can I fix my financial problems? And how do I break the news to my boyfriend? How do I teach my kids the value of money when my parents shower them with expensive gifts? My wife makes more money than I do; does that give her a greater voice in our financial decisions? Are we still equal? How much should I give my child in allowance? And will it really help him learn the value of a dollar? We want to have our first baby but we don't know if we can afford it yet. How much money do we really need to have in the bank? If you're like most people, you're struggling with questions like these. Whether we like it or not, money makes a big difference in the choices we make and the lives we lead. Unresolved questions about money can put unwanted stress on even the healthiest relationships between spouses, between parents and children, and even between friends. In Love Money, columnist Jeff Opdyke offers practical personal finance advice as well as strategies for dealing with touchy financial topics so that money doesn't end up costing you something even more valuable."

PERSONAL ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS Being that this book is about women there is absolutely no way I could have put it together if it wasn't for the women that have crossed my path During my years of dealing with various women I have to admit that I have had more than a little whether it was laughing with them going out to dinner to a movie to the park to the beach shopping joyriding playing cards or having sex I enjoyed every precious moment with them and I will cherish those moments as long as my brain continues to work Thank you so dearly for putting up with me On the flip side of this coin there are women I have dealt with that I pissed off or hurt during my years of immaturity If there was a way I could go back in time and undo the pain and frustration I caused you I wouldn't hesitate to do so because I know you ladies thought more of me back then I know you all didn't forgive me back then but I surely hope you do now Whether it was good times or bad times I shared with you wonderful women each one of you played a significant role in the man I am today and for that wonderful experience I am humbly grateful deeply honored and sincerely appreciative to have been blessed to have had our journeys connect I wrote this book to start a dialogue create awareness and get women to realize and believe that they are worth way more than they can imagine in life I want women to know that they do not have to settle for any man just for the sake of convenience security or whatever There will always be a gentleman available who is not only compatible with them but one that will find them intriguing interesting intelligent and beautiful Sometimes it takes a little time to find a man that really honors women but trust me it's always worth the wait I intend to reach millions of readers mostly women If I can get one woman to read my book and walk away feeling much better about her life and the direction she wants to go in terms of a relationship then my mission will be complete Nothing that I have written in this book is intended to disrespect or offend any of my readers I mention this because some of the language in this book may not agree with the readers The Social Meaning of Money Viviana A. Zelizer,2021-09-14 A dollar is a dollar or so most of us believe Indeed it is part of the ideology of our time that money is a single impersonal instrument that impoverishes social life by reducing relations to cold hard cash After all it's just money Or is it Distinguished social scientist and prize winning author Viviana Zelizer argues against this conventional wisdom She shows how people have invented their own forms of currency earmarking money in ways that baffle market theorists incorporating funds into webs of friendship and family relations and otherwise varying the process by which spending and saving takes place Zelizer concentrates on domestic transactions bestowals of gifts and charitable donations in order to show how individuals families governments and businesses have all prescribed social meaning to money in ways previously unimagined History, Women and Gender in the Modern Middle East Lisa Pollard,Mona L. Russell,2023-12-20 This introductory text explores the gendered history of the modern Middle East from the eighteenth century to the present studying the various ways in which gender has defined the region and shaped relations in the modern era The book captures three aspects of change simultaneously the events that mark the modern Middle East women s encounters with the transition to modernity and gendered responses to modernity It contains both new fieldwork and a synthesis of secondary scholarship that highlight the role of gender in the modernization of Egypt Turkey Iran the Levant and the Persian Gulf states Chapters are organized chronologically to chart the rapid developments of the modern era but each chapter also stands on its own with coverage of masculinity and femininity sexuality marriage and the family labor and women s contributions to Arab Spring uprisings Through this comprehensive account the book pushes back on stereotypes that the Middle East is an ahistorical region and that women have not been vital actors in the process of change Richly illustrated and accessible for a variety of readers History Women and Gender in the Modern Middle East is an ideal resource for undergraduate and postgraduate students in gender studies and Middle Eastern history

The Everyday Politics of Resources Nga Dao,2025-05-15 The Everyday Politics of Resources explores the impact of development processes on the lives livelihoods and landscapes of the people of Northwest Vietnam Over the past two decades the homes and farms of hundreds of thousands of people have been appropriated to make way for dams rubber plantations and mining operations While this development has enriched the state and private enterprises it has also resulted in widespread hardship impoverishment and long term environmental destruction Nga Dao draws on more than twenty years of on the ground research in the region to show how these developments have affected people in vastly uneven ways creating wealth and stability for some while dispossessing others Filled with poignant and sometimes angry narratives by those who have lost their land and traditional livelihoods as well as more triumphant stories from those who have prospered under the capitalist

Women's control over income and household spending decisions: A rapid review Eissler, Sarah, Bryan, Elizabeth, 2025-09-19 Often cited studies show that when women influence or control household spending decisions they tend to spend in ways that improve the welfare of their household However these studies are decades old and the most recent review of this evidence was published over a decade ago see Doss 2013 We present a rapid review of this literature since 2013 on women s relative bargaining power over household resource allocation and its relationship with key well being outcomes Specifically we review the evidence to answer the following questions 1 Does women s control over income within the household influence household expenditure patterns 2 Does the source of women s income matter for spending decisions and 3 Does the amount of women s income matter for spending decisions We employ a rapid review approach to identify research published since 2013 that focuses on how women who have influence or control over spending decisions allocate those resources and associations with well being outcomes Utilizing key search terms and clear selection criteria we identified 46 papers Most studies represent sub Saharan Africa They employed a range of methods and represented a mix of observational and experimental or quasi experimental designs Most studies did not specify the source of income but we did identify those focused on income from agricultural or off farm activities remittances and cash transfers Our review of the literature since 2013 has generally found evidence that is consistent with the research prior to 2013 but more convincing as there has been an increase in causal evidence published Compared to men women prioritize spending on investments in children their education food including more diverse and nutrient dense foods and on healthcare regardless of income source Overall women s influence over resource allocation decisions tend to promote equitable distribution of money to boy and girl children We see mixed results around how women prioritize investing in savings compared to men several studies indicated women prioritize savings more than men but do so for different reasons although one study in a matrilineal society indicated that women prioritize food budgets at the expense of building savings And finally there is consistent evidence that the share of household budgets spent on adult goods or vices primarily alcohol and tobacco reduces when women have higher relative bargaining power over how these resources are allocated Few studies considered how the amount of money influenced women s ability to allocate it suggesting that women may be able to influence spending over smaller amounts of resources compared to larger expenditures To address gaps identified in the literature future studies could look across income from different sources to understand whether women have greater influence or control over certain income streams compared to others or how the source of income may influence how the money is allocated They could also explore the relative amount of income women can control and how women s control over income fluctuates as total household income changes We recommend a systematic evidence review to assess the different levers influencing women s relative bargaining power over resource allocation within a household and understanding the outcomes of women s bargaining power
