Face To Face Encounters With Identity:

Strange Encounters Sara Ahmed, 2013-02-01 Examining the relationship between strangers embodiment and community Strange Encounters challenges the assumptions that the stranger is simply anybody we do not recognize and instead proposes that he or she is socially constructed as somebody we already know Using feminist and postcolonial theory this book examines the impact of multiculturalism and globalization on embodiment and community whilst considering the ethical and political implication of its critique for post colonial feminism A diverse range of texts are analyzed which produce the figure of the stranger showing that it has alternatively been expelled as the origin of danger such as in neighbourhood watch or celebrated as the origin of difference as in multiculturalism The author argues that both of these standpoints are problematic as they involve stranger fetishism they assume that the stranger has a life of its own Style and Social Identities Peter Auer, 2008-09-25 This volume presents an interactional perspective on linguistic variability that takes into account the construction of social identities through the formation of social communicative styles It shows that style is a useful category in bridging the gap between single parameter variation and social identity Social positioning i e finding one's place in society is one of its motivating forces Various aspects of the expression of stylistic features are focused on from language choice and linguistic variation in a narrow sense to practices of social categorization pragmatics patterns preferences for specific communicative genres rhetorical practices including prosodic features and aesthetic choices and preferences for specific forms of taste looks clothes music etc These various features of expression are connected to multimodal stylistic indices through talk thus styles emerge from discourse Styles are adapted to changing contexts and develop in the course of social processes The analytical perspective chosen proposes an alternative to current approaches to variability under the influence of the so called variationist paradigm Close Encounters Laura K. communication styles Identity, Old(er) Age and Migrancy Laura Machat-From, 2017-05-16 Identity research in relation to ethnicity and migration has tended to focus on younger people whilst identity research in relation to ageing and old(er) age has not focused on migrants. This inadvertent mutual neglect has led to a lack of identity research that examines the identity categories of old(er) age and migrancy together, a lacuna that this dissertation aims to redress. This dissertation departs from a social constructionist understanding of identity as situationally accomplished in the interplay between how one defines oneself internally and how others define one externally. The questions raised by this perspective and addressed in this dissertation are: When in what situations and in relation to whom do old(er) age and migrancy respectively seem to become meaningful for identification? How do the identity categories of old(er) age and migrancy seem to be negotiated? The empirical material consists of in-depth interviews with 24 older migrants: 13 men, 11 women, aged between 55 and 79 who have been living in Sweden for 18 to 61 years. Interviewees come from 12 different countries that vary in perceived cultural distance from Sweden. The findings suggest that identifications with old(er) age and migrancy seem to be dynamic and flexible rather than necessarily permanently meaningful, thus gaining meaning in specific situations and in relation to particular others. External definitions furthermore do not always seem to match with internal ones. Regardless of how old(er) age and migrancy are constructed, they seem to be negotiable. This dissertation thus contributes to identity research by studying old(er) age and migrancy together and furthermore sheds light onto how the social constructionist lens allows us to see variability where stability otherwise would be presumed.

Identitetsforskning i äldre etnicitet och migration har huvudsakligen fokuserat på yngre medan identitetsforskning kring äldre och äldre inte har fokuserat på utrikesfödda. Som en konsekvens därav har identitetsforskningen inte studerat hur äldre och invandrarskap tillsammans en lucka som denna avhandling avser att fylla. Avhandlingen utgår ifrån en socialkonstruktionistisk förståelse av identitet som situationsbunden och formad genom samspelet mellan hur man definierar sig själv internt och hur andra definierar en externt. För gorna som verkar genom detta perspektiv och som avhandlingen fokuserar på är när i vilka situationer och i förhållande till vem verkar hur äldre respektive invandrarskap bli betydelsefulla för identifikationer. Hur verkar identitetskategorierna hur äldre och invandrarskap förhållas. Det empiriska materialet består av djupintervjuer med 24 utrikesfödda äldre: 13 män, 11 kvinnor i åldrarna mellan 55 och 79 som har bott i Sverige mellan 18 och 61 år. Intervjupersonerna kommer från 12 olika länder med olika upplevt kulturellt avstånd från Sverige. Resultaten tyder på att identifikationer med hur äldre och invandrarskap är dynamiska och flexibla snarare än nödvändigtvis permanent meningsfulla och fördrömd betydelse i vissa situationer och i förhållande till särskilda andra. Externa definitioner verkar inte alltid stämma överens med interna definitioner. Oavsett hur äldre och invandrarskap konstruerade så framstår de som förhållingsbara. Avhandlingen bidrar därmed till identitetsforskningen genom att studera hur äldre och invandrarskap tillsammans och belyser dessutom hur det socialkonstruktionistiska perspektivet tillåter oss att se variation och föränderlighet där stabilitet annars förutsätts.
