L. Travers, 2015-11-05 For the first time since the war the Christmas peal is ringing at St Paul's Cathedral There is joy There is new hope It is Christmas Eve the carol service has ended and a woman with three small boys leaves the cathedral the children swooping like pigeons Why weren't there any wild animals at the crib Haven't they got something to give asked one of the children And I heard myself say Yes they have Was it true what I told them Did I dream it Where it came from I do not know but I seemed to remember every word just as if I had heard it Outside the cathedral the children are told the nativity story from a unique perspective that of a fox Despite the scorn of the other animals he enters the stable to offer the child a gift that only he can give THE ENDLESS QUEST Tom Puma, 2025-06-05 Come to the Saint George Library and join the adventure as an old sea captain tells of a quest that began many years ago and is still going on till this day It begins with two fourteen year old boys Charles Jackson and John Ryan as they accompany their explorer fathers into the jungles of the Amazon to find the lost city of Dawleetoo and its famous explorer Alfred Middleton who vanished along with his entire expedition in 1901 Journey along as you travel through the Amazon River and meet primitive natives and explore ancient ruins and temples Climb a huge temple with booby traps to the top where they find themselves fighting off a giant ape who protects the lost city They soon find themselves inside an altar with a stairway and strange carvings that leads down under the earth Follow along as the old sea captain returns each week to the library to continue each chapter of the adventure as Charles and John along with their fathers barely escape through a long winding tunnel with frozen prehistoric beast in its walls and find themselves on a beach with an ocean Here they find an old boat washed up on the shore with giant lizards roaming the shoreline Picture yourself living in a place where there is no time no sun no moon and no watch Join them as they make their way across a vast ocean where they encounter attacks by pygmies giant sea creatures missing links Sail along as they come upon an island of pirates and find love Things get complicated when they have to leave their newfound loves and continue their journey promising to return one day After many months at sea they come upon a beautiful city under the earth called Arcadia A place where people never grow old A place where there is no war no crime no hate only love and kindness for each other This place is governed by one man the legendary Prestor John It is here that they settle down and learn the ways of these people Until after many years Charles decides that he wishes to return to the surface of the earth You will learn about the life of the old sea captain who is telling this story and Debra a young librarian who befriends him as he tells a tale of an endless quest

EVERY one has heard of Bridget the little girl saint of Ireland Her name is almost as well known as that of Saint Patrick who drove all the snakes from the Island Saint Bridget had long golden hair and she was very beautiful Many wonderful things happened to her that are written in famous books But I suspect that you never heard what she did about the King's Wolf It is a queer story This is how it happened The King of Ireland had a tame wolf which some hunters had caught for him when it was a wee baby And this wolf ran around as it pleased in the King's park near the palace and had a very good time But one morning he got over the high wall which surrounded the park and strayed a long distance from home which was a foolish thing to do For in those days wild wolves were hated and feared by the people whose cattle they often stole and if a man could kill a wicked wolf he thought himself a very smart fellow indeed Moreover the King himself had offered a prize to any man who should bring him a dead wolf For he wanted his kingdom to be a peaceful happy one where the children could play in the woods all day without fear of big eyes or big teeth Of course you can guess what happened to the King's wolf A big silly country fellow was going along with his bow and arrows when he saw a great brown beast leap over a hedge and dash into the meadow beyond It was only the King's wolf running away from home and feeling very frisky because it was the first time that he had done such a thing But the country fellow did not know all that Aha he said to himself I'll soon have you my fine wolf and the King will give me a gold piece that will buy me a hat and a new suit of clothes for the holidays And without stopping to think about it or to look closely at the wolf who had the King's mark upon his ear the fellow shot his arrow straight as a string The King's wolf gave one great leap into the air and then fell dead on the grass poor fellow The countryman was much pleased He dragged his prize straight up to the King's palace and thumped on the gate The Wesleyan Tradition Michael Collier,2012-08-22 Since issuing its first volumes in 1959 the Wesleyan poetry program has challenged the reigning aesthetic of the time and profoundly influenced the development of American poetry. One of the country's oldest programs, its greatest achievement has been the publication of early works by yet undiscovered poets who have since become major award winners: Pulitzer and Bollingen prizes, National Book Awards and many other honors. At a time when other programs are being phased out, Wesleyan takes this opportunity to celebrate its distinguished history and reaffirm its commitment to poetry with publication of The Wesleyan Tradition. Drawing from some 250 volumes, editor Michael Collier documents the wide-ranging impact of these works. In his introduction, he describes the literary and cultural context of American poetics in more recent decades, tracing the evolution of the Deep Image and Confessional movements of the 50s and 60s and exploring the emergence of the prose lyric style. Although the success of the Wesleyan program has inspired its share of imitators, no other program has had such a fundamental impact. Works by the eighty-six poets included here both document and celebrate that contribution.

With the Border Ruffians Robert Hamilton Williams, 1907. A strange wild story it is too, and perhaps worth the telling if only for the reason that the stage on which it was enacted has so completely changed that the scenes in which the adventurer took his part and the life he led in the far West and South can never recur as long as the world endures. Civilization, railways and the advancing tide of population have swept them into the limbo of forgotten things so completely that it is hard to realize that such a state of society could ever really have existed only forty or fifty years ago from the introduction.
