From Beijing to Port Moresby Virginia Domingues, David Wu, 2014-01-02 Essays in this volume focus on Singapore Papua New Guinea Taiwan Japan Thailand and the People's Republic of China as sites rife with discursive complexity From small to large young to old former colony to former colonial power these six examples do well to represent situated voices and cultural values meted out in a larger global space From Beijing to Port Moresby Virginia R. Dominguez, David Y. H. Wu, 1998 First Published in 1998 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Global Culture Diana Crane, Nobuko Kawashima, Ken'ichi Kawasaki, 2016-05-06 First published in 2002 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Culture, Power, and Authoritarianism in the Indonesian State Tod Jones, 2013-06-06 Culture Power and Authoritarianism in the Indonesian State is a critical history of cultural policy in one of the world's most diverse nations across the tumultuous twentieth century It charts the influence of momentous political changes on the cultural policies of successive states including colonial government Japanese occupation the killing and repression of the left and their affiliates and the return of representative government and examines broader social changes like nationalism and consumer culture The book uses the concept of authoritarian cultural policy or cultural policy that was premised on increased state control tracing its presence from the colonial era until today Tod Jones use of historical and case study chapters captures the central state's changing cultural policies and its diverse outcomes across Indonesia Intangible Heritage Embodied D. Fairchild Ruggles, Helaine Silverman, 2009-06-12 Archaeological research has long focused on studying tangible artifacts to build a picture of the cultures it examines Equally important to understanding a culture however are the intangible elements that become part of its heritage In 2003 UNESCO adopted a convention specifically to protect intangible heritage including the following oral traditions and expressions including language performing arts such as traditional music dance and theater social practices rituals and festive events knowledge and practices concerning nature and the universe and traditional craftsmanship Since this convention was adopted scholars and preservationists have struggled with how to best approach intangible heritage This volume specifically focuses on embodied intangible heritage or the human body as a vehicle for memory movement and sound The contributors to this work examine ritual and artistic movement theater music oral literature as well as the role of the internet in cultural transmission Globalization and particularly the internet has a complex effect on the transmission of intangible heritage while music dance and other expressions are now shared easily the performances often lack context and may be shared with a group that does not fully understand what they are seeing or hearing This volume draws on case studies from around the world to examine the problems and possibilities of implementing the new UNESCO convention The findings in this volume will be vital to both professionals and academics in anthropology archaeology history museum studies architecture and anyone else who deals with issues of cultural heritage and preservation

The Landscape of Historical Memory Kirk A. Denton, 2021-03-01 The Landscape of Historical Memory explores the place of museums and memorial culture in the contestation over historical memory in post martial law Taiwan The book is particularly oriented toward the role of politics especially political parties in the establishment administrative architectural design and historical narratives of museums It is framed around the wrangling between the blue camp the Nationalist Party or KMT and its supporters and the green camp Democratic Progressive Party or DPP and its supporters over what facets of the past should be remembered and how they should be displayed in museums Organized into chapters focused on particular types of museums and memorial spaces such as archaeology museums history museums martyrs shrines war museums memorial halls literature museums ethnology museums and ecomuseums the book presents a broad overview of the state of museums in Taiwan in the past three decades The case of Taiwan museums tells us much about Cold War politics and its legacy in East Asia the role of culture history and memory in shaping identities in the postcolonial landscape of Taiwan the politics of historical memory in an emergent democracy especially in counterpoint to the politics of museums in the People's Republic of China which continues to be an authoritarian single party state and the place of museums in a neoliberal economic climate This book offers unique insight into the configurations of international museum culture as manifested in the sociopolitical landscape of post martial law Taiwan Using case studies filled with telling details Denton analyzes how museums both reflect and initiate cultural change This work adds substantially to Taiwan studies and museology with in depth scholarship and innovative observations presented in a clear and compelling narrative Joseph R Allen University of Minnesota Twin Cities This is a fascinating and meticulously researched survey of Taiwan's museums Denton has produced a book that is both scholarly and highly readable It will appeal to a wide readership encompassing social scientists specializing in Taiwan students of Chinese or East Asian studies observers of Taiwanese politics and the local cultural scene and others besides Edward Vickers Kyushu University

Structure, Audience and Soft Power in East Asian Pop Culture Beng Huat Chua, 2012-03-01 East Asian pop culture can be seen as an integrated cultural economy emerging from the rise of Japanese and Korean pop culture as an influential force in the distribution and reception networks of Chinese language pop culture embedded in the ethnic Chinese diaspora Taking Singapore as a locus of pan Asian Chineseness Chua Beng Huat provides detailed analysis of the fragmented reception process of transcultural audiences and the processes of audiences formation and exercise of consumer power and engagement with national politics In an era where exercise of military power is increasingly restrained pop culture has become an important component of soft power diplomacy and transcultural collaborations in a region that is still haunted by colonization and violence The author notes that the aspirations behind national governments efforts to use popular culture is limited by the fragmented nature of audiences who respond differently to the same products by the danger of backlash from other members of the importing country's population that do not consume the popular culture products in question and by the efforts of the primary consuming country the People's Republic of China to shape products through co production strategies and other indirect modes of intervention

China and the Challenge of Economic Globalization Hung-gay Fung, Changhong Pei, Kevin H. Zhang, 2006 This multidisciplinary study evaluates the implications of China's WTO membership on the nation and provides policy guidance for those doing business in China or working with the Chinese economy

Identity Matters James L. Peacock, Patricia M. Thornton, Patrick B. Inman, 2007-05-01 In response to the attacks of September 11 2001 and war in Afghanistan the Fulbright New Century Scholars program brought together social scientists from around the world to study sectarian ethnic and cultural conflict within and across national borders As one result of their year of intense discussion this book examines the roots of collective violence and the measures taken to avoid it in Burma Myanmar China Germany Pakistan Senegal Singapore Thailand Tibet Ukraine Southeast Asia and Western Europe Case studies and theoretical essays introduce the basic principles necessary to identify and explain the symbols and practices each unique human group holds sacred or inalienable The authors apply the methods of political science social psychology anthropology journalism and educational research They build on the insights of Gordon Allport Charles Taylor and Max Weber to describe and analyze the patterns of behavior that social groups worldwide use to maintain their identities Written to inform the general reader and communicate across disciplinary boundaries this important and timely volume demonstrates ways of understanding predicting and coping with ethnic and sectarian violence Contributors Badeng Nima David Brown Kwanchewan Buadaeng Patrick B Inman Karina V Korostelina James L Peacock Thomas F Pettigrew Wee Teng Soh Hamadou Tidiane Sy Patricia M Thornton Mohammad Waseem

Places and Politics in an Age of Globalization Roxann Prazniak, Arif Dirlik, 2001 This ambitious work provides a unique statement on the question of place based activism and its relationship to powerful forces of international capital Arguing that specific places around the world are sites for the defense and enhancement of daily life in the context of rapidly expanding global technologies and investment options the contributors reach for a vision of social development that supports sustainable humane cultures Bringing together the local and the global this work provides the first sustained linkage of ethnic groups in diaspora to macrocosmic processes of world capital that inevitably reach down to mediate even the most local experiences The essays ranging in their discussion of place from Los Angeles and New York to New Zealand and Indonesia offer both reasoned argument and authoritative information on how local experience interacts with larger processes of global capital and the diasporic phenomenon The book will be an invaluable resource and launching point for scholars and students in ethnic and identity studies and will interest all readers exploring the production of place and identification

Macao - Cultural Interaction and Literary Representations Katrine K. Wong, C.X. George Wei, 2013-10-15 Macao the former Portuguese colony in southeast China from the 1550s until its return to China in 1999 has a long and very interesting history of cultural interaction between China and the West As an entity with independent political power and a unique social setting and cultural development the identity of Macao's people is not only indicative of the legacy and influence of the region's socio historical factors and forces but it has also been altered transformed and maintained because of the input action interaction and stimulation of creative arts and literatures Held together by racial accommodation and tolerance and active cultural interactions Macao's phenomenon can be characterized as hybridization This book is a presentation of the ongoing hybridization of Macao and is in itself a hybrid covering a wide range of issues Putting forward substantial new research findings the book explores the nature of cultural interaction in Macao and how the city has been constructed and perceived through literature and other art forms It is a companion volume to Macao The Formation of a Global City

Forget Chineseness Allen Chun, 2017-03-27 Critiques the idea of a Chinese cultural identity and argues that such identities are instead determined by geopolitical and economic forces Forget Chineseness provides a critical interpretation of not only discourses of Chinese identity Chineseness but also of how they have reflected differences between Chinese societies such as in Hong Kong Taiwan People's Republic of China Singapore and communities overseas Allen Chun asserts that while identity does have meaning in cultural representational terms it is more importantly a product of its embeddedness in specific entanglements of modernity colonialism nation state formation and globalization By articulating these processes underlying institutional practices in relation to public mindsets it is possible to explain various epistemic moments that form the basis for their sociopolitical transformation From a broader perspective this should have salient ramifications for prevailing discussions of identity politics The concept of identity has not only been predicated on flawed notions of ethnicity and culture in the social sciences but it has also been acutely exacerbated by polarizing assumptions that drive our understanding of identity politics

Locating Value Samantha Saville, Gareth Hoskins, 2019-11-21 This book considers the concept of value at the root of our actions and decision making Value is an ever present yet little interrogated aspect of everyday life This book explores value as it is theorised practiced and critiqued from a variety of disciplinary perspectives It examines how value is operationalized endorsed and contested in contemporary society With international insights from leading scholars chapters offer a diverse and vibrant geographical engagement with value to showcase its conceptual flexibility The book explores value's eclectic epistemic foundations its roll out and legitimation across a range of policy fields and its challenges and opportunities The book draws on global examples of value in practice from forest conservation in Indonesia protected area management in arctic Norway a state park in the US certification schemes for biodiversity in the UK protection of the international night sky heritage planning in East Taiwan a re developed airport site in Norway a local food networks in Canada and the UK a market in the US and urban development in China The book will be of interest to human geographers political ecologists heritage scholars and practitioners planners and those working in public policy as well as practitioners and policy makers interested in how valuation processes work

Democracy on Trial Ya-Chung Chuang, 2013-06-07 Democracy on Trial is an attempt to begin to negotiate the problem of writing about and understanding democracy and social movements in Taiwan and what they can tell us about a place and country that for me is both home and the field an object of study and yet also an area of hope and engagement Democracy on Trial is as impressive for its conceptual sophistication as it is for its ethnographic depth Chuang's personal experiences and engagement with the movements he describes and analyzes bring to life the wealth of documentary and ethnographic data The study should be of interest not just to Taiwan scholars and readers but also those interested in issues of democracy in China and East Asia the politics of TaiwanPRC relations and social movement scholars and activists y Arif Dirlik Author of Culture and History in Postrevolutionary China The Perspective of Global Modernity

Materializing the Nation Robert J. Foster, 2002-10-24 Foster shows us how seemingly banal activities like making a phone call chewing betel nut watching a Coke commercial may give important insights into the ways in which the nation is constructed materialized or contested Orvar L. Fjörén author of On Holiday A History of Vacationing Why in the current era of globalization does nationality remain an important dimension of personal and collective identities In

Materializing the Nation Robert J. Foster argues that the contested process of nation making in Papua New Guinea unfolds not only through organized politics but also through mundane engagements with commodities and mass media He offers a thoughtful critique of recent approaches to nationalism and consumption and an ethnographic perspective on constructs of the nation found in official policy documents letters to the editor school textbooks song lyrics advertisements and other materials This volume will appeal to readers interested in the links among nationalism consumption and media in Melanesia and elsewhere

Re-orienting Cuisine Kwang Ok Kim, 2015-02-01 Foods are changed not only by those who produce and supply them but also by those who consume them Analyzing food without considering changes over time and across space is less meaningful than analyzing it in a global context where tastes lifestyles and imaginations cross boundaries and blend with each other challenging the idea of authenticity A dish that originated in Beijing and is recreated in New York is not necessarily the same because although authenticity is often claimed the form ingredients or taste may have changed The contributors of this volume have expanded the discussion of food to include its social and cultural meanings and functions thereby using it as a way to explain a culture and its changes

The Culturalization of Caste in India Balmurli Natrajan, 2011-07-20 In India caste groups ensure their durability in an era of multiculturalism by officially representing caste as cultural difference or ethnicity rather than as unequal descent based relations Challenging dominant social theories of caste this book addresses questions of how caste survives the system that gave rise to it and adapts to new demands of capitalism and democracy Based on original fieldwork the book shows how the terrain of culture captured by a new grammar of caste revitalizes castes as cultural communities so that the culture of a caste is produced organized and naturalized in the process of transforming jati fetishized blood and kinship into samaj fetishized culture Castes are shown to not be homogenous cultural wholes but sites of hegemony where class gender and hierarchy over determine the meanings and materiality of caste Arguing that there exists a new casteism in India akin to a new racism in the USA built less on biology and descent and more on purported cultural differences and their rights to exist the book presents an extended critique and a search for an alternative view of caste and anti casteist politics It is of interest to students and scholars of South Asian culture and society      Maya Ethnolinguistic Identity Briggittine M. French, 2010-04-15 In this valuable book ethnographer and anthropologist Briggittine French mobilizes new critical theoretical perspectives in linguistic anthropology applying them to the politically charged context of contemporary Guatemala Beginning with an examination of the nationalist project that has been ongoing since the end of the colonial period French interrogates the Guatemalan indigenous binary In Guatemala Ladino refers to the Spanish speaking minority of the population who are of mixed European usually Spanish and indigenous ancestry Indian is understood to mean the majority of Guatemala's population who speak one of the twenty one languages in the Maya linguistic groups of the country although levels of bilingualism are very high among most Maya communities As French shows the Guatemalan state has actively promoted a racialized essentialized notion of Indians as an undifferentiated inherently inferior group that has stood stubbornly in the way of national progress unity and development which are implicitly the goals of true Guatemalans that is Ladinos French shows with useful examples how constructions of language and collective identity are in fact strategies undertaken to serve the goals of institutions including the government the military the educational system and the church and social actors including linguists scholars and activists But by incorporating in depth fieldwork with groups that speak Kaqchikel and K'iche' along with analyses of Spanish language discourses Maya Ethnolinguistic Identity also shows how some individuals in urban bilingual Indian communities have disrupted the essentializing projects of multiculturalism And by focusing on ideologies of language the author is able to explicitly link linguistic forms and functions with larger issues of consciousness gender politics social positions and the forging of hegemonic power relations      Taiwan's Presidential Politics Muthiah Alagappa, 2017-07-28

The March 2000 presidential election was an important milestone in the democratic development of Taiwan with the Kuomintang turned out of power after five decades of control and replaced by the Democratic Progressive Party This book addresses the variety of effects that Taiwan's democratic development and the election will have on domestic policy in the region Part one looks at trends and changes in Taiwan's politics and analyzes the outcome of the March 2000 election The chapters in part two discuss the international implications of Taiwan's democratic evolution for a variety of issues including political economic and security relations on both sides of the Taiwan strait Japan's foreign policy in the region U.S. foreign policy in the region and peace and security in Southeast Asia The challenges and prospects for continued democratic consolidation and the implications and lessons for the PRC and Southeast Asia are also explored      Performing the Nation Kelly

Askew, 2002-07-28 Since its founding in 1964 the United Republic of Tanzania has used music dance and other cultural productions as ways of imagining and legitimizing the new nation Focusing on the politics surrounding Swahili musical performance Kelly Askew demonstrates the crucial role of popular culture in Tanzania's colonial and postcolonial history As Askew shows the genres of ngoma traditional dance dansi urban jazz and taarab sung Swahili poetry have played prominent parts in official articulations of Tanzanian National Culture over the years Drawing on over a decade of research including extensive experience as a taarab and dansi performer Askew explores the intimate relations among musical practice political ideology and economic change She reveals the processes and agents involved in the creation of Tanzania s national culture from government elites to local musicians poets wedding participants and traffic police Throughout Askew focuses on performance itself musical and otherwise as key to understanding both nation building and interpersonal power dynamics
