Niger Delta: The Business of the Oil Curse Marc-Antoine Pérouse de Montclos, 2024-05-13 Based on 30 years of fieldwork in the Niger Delta this book debunks the determinism of the resource curse theory in Nigeria Africa's leading oil producer and the most populous country on the continent It rather shows that oil and gas production is only one element of a social problem with much deeper roots It also investigates the role played by the youth a key issue in a society where half of the population is under 18 years old To understand the multiple causes of the crisis it thus delves into the complexity of a

When Communities Confront Corporations Austin Onuoha, 2008 In April of 2005 Shell sought an injunction in a Dublin court against residents of Erris in northwestern Republic of Ireland who were obstructing the laying of pipelines across their lands On June 29 2005 the court convicted and jailed five people for failing to comply with the order of the High Court restraining them from interfering with Shell's project. When Communities Confront Corporations examines the issues and events that led to the incarceration of the Rossport Five and how it resonates with events in the Niger Delta region of Nigeria. It argues that conflicts between communities and corporations though pervasive do not appear to receive adequate scholarly attention. The book compares the altercations between Shell and the Erris communities in Ireland and the responses to these conflicts with similar conflicts generated in the Niger Delta area of Nigeria by the presence of the oil giant. It challenges the so-called conspiracy theory which is often associated with the oil company's operations in the Niger Delta and argues that the key difference between the two sets of conflicts and responses to them is the context.

African Renaissance, 2004 Peacebuilding in Volatile Communities Joseph Olusegun Adebayo, Olawale James Gbadeyan, 2024-07-03 This collection of chapters delves into the intricate history and ongoing challenges of peacebuilding in Nigeria. It explores Nigeria's complex sociopolitical landscape tracing its roots from the amalgamation of 1914 to present-day conflicts. The chapters offer insightful analyses of various peacebuilding efforts in different regions of Nigeria addressing issues such as conflict-sensitive journalism, land disputes, NGO interventions, armed banditry, community tensions, and school-based violence. Through research findings and practical recommendations, the book sheds light on the multifaceted nature of peacebuilding and the importance of context-specific approaches in fostering sustainable peace. With contributions from diverse perspectives, this volume serves as a valuable resource for scholars, policymakers, practitioners, and anyone interested in understanding and promoting peace in Nigeria and Africa.

A Current Bibliography on African Affairs, 2006 Supranational Institutions and Peacebuilding in Africa Redie Bereketeab, 2024-09-06 This book analyses the role of the African Union and regional economic communities in contributing to peacebuilding in Africa. Big and small conflicts rage across the African continent and this book argues that the African Union and the five regional economic communities have the potential to greatly contribute to peace and peacebuilding in Africa. Looking across the African Union and the five regional economic communities the AMU, ECCAS, ECOWAS, IGAD, and SADC, the book considers in detail the organizations' programmes, engagement, endeavours, success, and failure of activities of peacebuilding in their respective regions. Overall, the book argues that an institutionalised and formalised relationship between the African Union and the regional economic communities would not only be decisive for the prospects for peace in the region but would also serve to strengthen the continent's role on the global stage through asserting its agency, owning its agenda, and designing its own solutions and mechanisms for addressing problems. Drawing together an international team of prominent experts, this book will be of interest to researchers, policymakers, NGOs, activists, and regional and international actors working on African politics, security, governance, and economics.

Corporations and Counterinsurgency William Rosenau, Peter Chalk, Renny McPherson, Michelle Parker, Austin Long, 2009-08-18 Multinational corporations can be significant actors in zones of violent conflict. Corporate actions to shape their environment can sometimes mitigate conflict.

but as the authors show in their case studies corporate activities can help generate and sustain violence

Natural Resources, Conflict, and Sustainable Development Okechukwu Ukaga, Ukoha Ukiwo, Ibaba Samuel Ibaba, 2012 The Niger Delta Region has in the past two decades experienced protracted violent conflicts At the roots of these violent conflicts are the genuine quests of the people for sustainable development that is based on social justice equity fairness and environmental protection Although richly endowed the region is hopelessly poor This paradox of poverty in the midst of plenty has been attributed to a myriad of factors ranging from Nigeria's centralized federalism to ethno regional domination corruption poor governance and oil related environmental degradation Development in the Niger Delta is vital not only to the stability and prosperity of Nigeria but also to global energy security This book provides unique insights into the challenges of development and peace building in the Niger Delta and insights into other resource rich but poverty stricken conflict prone regions of the world

The Business of Peace Jane Nelson, 2000 Explores the role of the private sector in promoting development and in the prevention and resolution of conflict Defines management policies for corporate engagement and illustrates how companies can contribute to conflict prevention and reconciliation through core business operations social investment and philanthropy programmes and engagement in policy dialogue and institution building Examines strategies for dealing with the challenges faced by companies operating in conflict zones

Resource Governance and Protracted Conflict in Nigeria's Niger Delta John B. Idamkue, 2021-05-07 Since the execution of Ken Saro Wiwa and eight other activists in 1995 Nigeria's Niger Delta has witnessed conflicts associated with oil production and agitations against oil companies operating in the region Why did the initial peaceful protests of the oil bearing communities turn violent What are the recurring complaints of the people What roles do the government and the oil corporations play in the perpetuation of the conflicts In answering these and related questions John B Idamkue explores the deep seated perceptions and grievances of the oil producing communities by tracing the history of struggle in the region and eliciting the candid views and perspectives of key community actors and stakeholders using their words and responses in a study that is revealing and insightful By isolating the six pillars of resource governance Idamkue shines a bright light on the change in the actors political institutions and impact of oil production on the livelihood of the people to explain why conflicts linger

Promoting Stability and Development in Africa Marta Martinelli, Nicoletta Pirozzi, 2015-11-20 Africa is experiencing one of the greatest transformations of its history Today's Sub Saharan Africa is still marked by enduring instability mass migrations and crises but at the same time it is also characterised by positive developments including economic growth and regional integration This publication sheds light on these changes from three perspectives economic policies and sustainable development good governance and democracy peace and security Research in relevant regions in Sub Saharan Africa and key countries Ethiopia Mozambique Nigeria and South Africa has been conducted by African and European experts with the aim of assessing the role of the private sector and determining the partnership opportunities that could potentially be developed with the public sector A series of policy recommendations are offered to the European Union on how to tackle these opportunities in cooperation with old and new actors

African Journal on Conflict Resolution ,2010

Resource Conflict and Environmental Relations in Africa Kelechi Johnmary Ani,2023-03-15 The book discusses the failure of many African governments in providing the social needs of the masses thereby placing the citizenry on the desperate quest for economic resources Unfortunately in many African States mineral resources are owned explored and marketed by the machinery of the state The problem arises when the masses begin to challenge state access and ownership of resources that are domiciled within their ancestral land communities and constituencies Often the challenge and resistance to state ownership of resources is generated by communal or group sense of exploitation negligence and widespread poverty in the face of high resource endowment and waste by the government officials Paradoxically in Niger Delta of Nigeria as discussed in the book the state has unleashed unlimited might upon all social groups and agitators thereby leading to the increased act of taking arms by such groups When the informal resource agitators succeed in arming themselves they begin to demand social and environmental justice thereby leading to mass armed conflict between them and the government security agencies Sometimes the confrontation could be between them and other rival local resource actors in the informal sector of their country s economy bearing in mind that the resources within their jurisdiction have become the central determinant of national commonwealth It is at that state of desperado to control access extraction and sale of natural resources in a State by different armed groups that the process of natural resources extraction qualifies as the most visible cause of conflicts and crises around the African continent that is the centrepiece of the book This is quite understandable given that mineral resource is a gift of nature and nature is that phenomenon that every human group and nation claim to represent or believe to represent them
