Teaching and Learning at a Distance Michael Simonson, Sharon Smaldino, Susan M. Zvacek, 2014-10-01 Teaching and Learning at a Distance is written for introductory distance education courses for preservice or in service teachers and for training programs that discuss teaching distant learners or managing distance education systems This text provides readers with the basic information needed to be knowledgeable distance educators and leaders of distance education programs The teacher or trainer who uses this book will be able to distinguish between appropriate uses of distance education In this text we take the following themes The first theme is the definition of distance education Before we started writing the first edition of Teaching and Learning at a Distance we carefully reviewed the literature to determine the definition that would be at the foundation of our writing This definition is based on the work of Desmond Keegan but is unique to this book This definition of distance education has been adopted by the Association for Educational Communications and Technology and by the Encyclopedia Britannica The second theme of the book was the importance of research to the development of the contents of the book The best practices presented in Teaching and Learning at a Distance are validated by scientific evidence Certainly there are rules of thumb but we have always attempted to only include recommendations that can be supported by research The third theme of Teaching and Learning at a distance is derived from Richard Clark s famous quote published in the Review of Educational Research that states that media are mere vehicles that do not directly influence achievement Clark s controversial work is discussed in the book but is also fundamental to the book s advocacy for distance education in other words we authors did not make the claim that education delivered at a distance was inherently better than other ways people learn Distance delivered instruction is not a magical approach that makes learners achieve more The fourth theme of the book is equivalency theory Here we presented the concept that instruction should be provided to learners that is equivalent rather than identical to what might be delivered in a traditional environment Equivalency theory helps the instructional designer approach the development of instruction for each learner without attempting to duplicate what happens in a face to face classroom The final theme for Teaching and Learning at a Distance is the idea that the book should be comprehensive that it should cover as much of the various ways instruction is made available to distant learners as is possible It should be a single source of information about the field International Handbook of E-Learning Volume 1 Badrul H.

Khan,Mohamed Ally,2015-02-20 The International Handbook of e Learning Volume 1 provides a comprehensive compendium of research and theory in all aspects of e learning one of the most significant ongoing global developments in the entire field of education Covering history design models instructional strategies best practices competencies evaluation assessment and more these twenty seven contributions tackle the tremendous potential and flexibility inherent to this rapidly growing new paradigm Past and present empirical research frames each chapter while future research needs are discussed in relation to both confirmed practice and recent changes in the field The book will be of interest to anyone seeking to create and sustain meaningful supportive learning environments within today s anytime anywhere framework from teachers administrators and policy makers to corporate and government trainers Online and Distance Learning: Concepts, Methodologies, Tools, and Applications Tomei, Lawrence A.,2007-07-31 This comprehensive six volume collection addresses all aspects of online and distance learning including information communication technologies applied to education virtual classrooms pedagogical systems Web based learning library information systems virtual universities and more It enables libraries to provide a foundational reference to meet the information needs of researchers educators practitioners administrators and other stakeholders in online and distance learning Provided by publisher Evaluation in Distance Education and E-learning Valerie Ruhe,Bruno D. Zumbo,2009-01-01 With the rapid proliferation of distance education and e learning courses the need is growing for a comprehensive professional approach to evaluating their effectiveness This indispensable book offers a road map to guide evaluation practice in these innovative learning environments Providing practical step by step guidelines and tools for conducting evaluation studies including how to deal with stakeholders develop surveys and interview protocols collect other scientific evidence and analyze and blend mixed methods data the work also features a template for writing high quality reports The unfolding model developed by the authors draws on Messick s influential assessment framework and applies it to program evaluation Two case studies of actual programs a distance learning course and an e learning course demonstrate the unfolding model in action Distance Education and Distributed Learning Gene V Glass,Charalambos Vrasidas,2002-12-01 Teaching and Learning at a Distance Michael Simonson,Susan M. Zvacek,Sharon Smaldino,2019-07-01 Teaching and Learning at a Distance is written for introductory distance education courses for preservice or in service teachers and for training programs that discuss teaching distant learners or managing distance education systems This text provides readers with the basic information needed to be knowledgeable distance educators and leaders of distance education programs The teacher or trainer who uses this book will be able to distinguish between appropriate uses of distance education In this text we take the following themes The first theme is the definition of distance education Before we started writing the first edition of Teaching and Learning at a Distance we carefully reviewed the literature to determine the definition that would be at the foundation of our writing This definition is based on the work of Desmond Keegan but is unique to this book This definition of distance education has been adopted by the Association for Educational Communications and Technology and by the Encyclopedia Britannica The second theme of the book was the importance of research to the development of the contents of the book The best practices presented in Teaching and Learning at a Distance are validated by scientific evidence Certainly there are rules of thumb but we have always attempted to only include recommendations that can be supported by research The third theme of Teaching and Learning at a Distance is derived from Richard Clark s famous quote published in the Review of Educational Research that states that media are mere vehicles that do not directly influence achievement Clark s controversial work is discussed in the book but is also fundamental to the book s advocacy for distance education in other words we authors did not make the claim that education delivered at a distance was inherently better than other ways people learn Distance delivered instruction is not a magical approach that makes learners achieve more The fourth theme of the book is equivalency theory Here we presented the concept that instruction should be provided to learners that is equivalent rather than identical to what might be delivered in a traditional environment Equivalency theory helps the instructional designer approach the development of instruction for each learner without attempting to duplicate what happens in a face to face classroom The final theme for Teaching and Learning at a Distance is the idea that the book should be comprehensive that it should cover as much of the various ways instruction is made available to distant learners as is possible It should be a single source of information about the field

Distance and E-learning in Transition András Szücs,Alan Tait,Martine Vidal,Ulrich Bernath,2013-03-01 The rushed development of information and communication technologies and their impact on the world of learning in the last decade have profoundly changed the paradigms scenarios and values at all levels of education The professionalization of tools and practices in addition to the consolidation of academic and practical knowledge has been a major continuing issue throughout these years The annual conferences of the largest European professional community in distance and e learning have been setting the landmarks in this process The selection from this unique knowledge pool demonstrates the deepening and consolidation of knowledge and experience This book presents the developments in the field of open distance and e learning through new technologies methodologies and tools which have profoundly changed the paradigms scenarios and values at all levels of education over the last decade

Quality Assurance and Accreditation in Distance Education and e-Learning Insung Jung,Colin Latchem,2012-04-05 Quality assurance QA in open and distance learning ODL can be a contentious issue Some argue that it should be judged by the same criteria and methods as face to face education while others claim that it is so different in its organization enrolments and operations that conventional QA mechanisms cannot apply Some advocate the use of specific guidelines and standards for e learning others believe that regardless of the technology the basic principles of quality teaching and learning should apply Providers who have enjoyed freedom from external scrutiny may resist attempts at external regulation and auditing and look upon QA as yet another imposition of corporatization and bureaucracy on education Others see it as a means of establishing a culture of quality self reflection and self improvement There is little research based literature to guide policy makers managers and practitioners in applying QA in education and training to ensure the right balance is found between accountability and autonomy as well as assuring quality for the time and costs involved In this respect Quality Assurance and Accreditation in Distance Education and e Learning is a book that is long overdue It explains what is involved in QA and accreditation in education It describes and analyzes applications of these practices in open distance dual mode and conventional universities throughout Europe North America Africa and the Asia Pacific looking at open schooling e learning in conventional schools non formal adult and community education and corporate and small to medium enterprises Quality Assurance and Accreditation in Distance Education and e Learning is edited and authored by experts with extensive international experience in ODL e learning and QA who give careful consideration to the possibilities and challenges involved The book will be an invaluable guide for all policy makers managers practitioners and researchers in the field
